FILIPINOS SAY IT'S ALL UP WITH UNITED STATES

Pennsylvania in Revolt, Civil War Rages and Army Slaughtered.

RUSSIA AND GERMANY WILL DECLARE WAR

BRYAN TO OVERTHROW ROOSEVELT IN MARCH

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—"The United States is in the midst of a bloody civil war. The coal miners in Pennsylvania have arisen against the government and at Chicago a great battle was fought in which 1,600 regular soldiers were killed. An army of anti-imperialists is besieging Washington. Roosevelt will be deposed and Dr. Bryan proclaimed president by the Democrats on the 4th of March next."

This is the startling news from the United States contained in a proclamation issued by a Filipino insurgent commander to his followers. The manifesto concludes that "Now is the time to strike a decisive blow for Filipino independence."

This is merely a specimen of many similar subterfuges employed to encourage natives to continue their rebellion, copies of which have reached the war department by mail.

In a circular letter to his subordinate officers, which was to be published far and wide for the information of the people, a rebel lieutenant colonel declared that the junta central at Hong Kong had received a cablegram dispatch from Berlin, informing them that the emperor of Germany was about to confer upon Gen. Malvar a grand decoration.

Germany and Russia to Fight Us.

In consideration of the relinquishment by the insurgent government of all claims to the Caroline islands, which formerly belonged to the Philippines, but had not yet achieved their independence, Germany would supply the insurgents here, free of charge, with 4,800 new rifles and 1,000,000 Mauser cartridges.

Within a month it was asserted Russia would declare war against the United States, and a Russian fleet that already had arrived at Cavite would sink all the American ships, even as Dewey had destroyed the armada of the Spaniards in 1898.

So even if the outlook in their immediate vicinity should appear to be almost hopeless the letter declared it always must be remembered that the insurgents are winning great victories in other places, so no one should be discouraged.

Not Enough Chaplains.

Another peculiar tale said that the Americans now have a chaplain with every regiment, for the reason that the number of Americans killed by the insurgents had increased so greatly that the chaplains with the army a year ago were insufficient to receive the dying confessions of the soldiers killed in battle.

Although the United States is considered a Protestant nation, so many Americans were sent to hell from the Philippines, according to the story, that all Christendom was scandalized, and the pope of Rome commanded the president to send more chapalns to the islands.

War to Be Rigorous.

"The policy to be pursued in this brigade, from this time on, will be to wage war in the sharpest and most decisive manner possible," says Gen. Smith, in command of the American forces in the Philippine islands of Samar and Leyte, in a circular appearing in the Philippine papers just received at the war department. Gen. Smith declares that he has satisfied himself that the war against the American forces in Samar is being kept alive by the support of ostensibly "peaceful" natives, particularly the wealthier classes.

He tells his officers that they must not hesitate to attack the natives boldly and follow up every advantage gained; that they must not be deterred from this line of action by superiority in numbers on the part of the insurgents unless our soldiers are excessively outnumbered."

Must Prove Friendship.

He declares that every Filipino must conclusively prove himself a friend of the United States before he will be treated as such, and enjoins his troops to be especially vigilant in watching the native presidentes and officials of the pueblos generally, including the police.

Gov. Taft was questioned further concerning slavery in the Philippines by members of the house insular committee today. He said the number of slaves who had been manumitted was comparatively small. The commission had undertaken no legislation as to slavery, and the action taken by the military had been, first, to release Christian slaves; and, second, to prevent slave-raiding parties from capturing slaves. Besides this, there was the constant moral influence being exerted toward the eradication of the system.

Dato's Power of Life and Death.

Representative Patterson of Tennessee asked if the dato could enforce the death penalty against slaves, and Gov. Taft answered that the dato's authority extends to the death penalty after a trial.

He spoke of the comparatively low state of the Moros, who comprise the slave-holding class, and said troops would always be needed in Moro localities; not necessarily a military government, but civil government with military force behind it. The Moros, he said, are war-

AN AGREEMENT REACHED WITH TIN WORKERS

PRESIDENT SHAFFER IS HIGHLY PLEASED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, March 5.—After a two days' conference, which ended late tonight, the officials of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers reached a settlement with officials of the American Tin Plate Company which both parties stated was satisfactory. The object of the conference, it was officially stated, was not to discuss wages or a wage scale, but to devise means to do away with discussions which frequently ended in the closing of the steel and tin mills at the close of scale years.

"We have reached an agreement," said an official of the American Tin Plate Company, "by which the various plants in which Amalgamated men are employed will be kept running continuously. We believe the agreement will do away with the methods which in recent years left the men and the companies at loggerheads just when the contracts or wage scales expired.

"Of course, there will be discussions with the mill superintendents as to improvements and betterments and with the union men, but these will be carried on from time to time so that when the year expires there will be no demands made which are final and which must be discussed and debated until an agreement is reached."

As a result of the new arrangement, it was stated that there will be no strike this year unless something wholly unforeseen occurs. Affairs have been put in such shape that when the time comes for signing the new wage scale there will be no trouble at all.

Shaffer Is Highly Pleased.

In speaking of the agreement tonight President Theodore Schaffer said: "The purpose of the American Tinplate Company in calling a conference was to attempt the securing of uninterrupted operation of their plants during the summer months when the annual scale is formulated. This means a continuous scale. The scale rates offered by the American Tinplate Company are those of the present year, and are generally satisfactory to our members, so that there is now an agreement which will prevent the closing of the mills or plants of the American Tinplate Company and renders a strike impossible. The committee also consented, as a precedent had been established, in arranging a continuous scale with the Republic Iron and Steel Company.

"The magnitude of the deal may not be realized, but it is the greatest that has ever been effected with capital in the history of the working people.

Non-Union Mills May Be Discussed.

"The agreement holds good until July 1, 1903, during which time the present scale will be paid. If any differences shall arise, however, all questions regarding hours, or, in fact, anything will be discussed at a conference. The question of recognizing non-union mills may be subject to discussion at conference."

When asked how many mills and men would be affected by the agreement Mr. Shaffer said that it included every mill in the United States, and probably 100,000 men.

Mr. Shaffer was asked if the mills would shut down in the summer for repairs. He replied that there was no intention of suspending operations entirely, but if such should be done the present rate of wages would continue.

TO BLOCK CONVICT LABOR.

Mandamus Proceedings to Be Instituted Against Gov. Yates and Other Illinois Officials.

CHICAGO, March 5.—The Record-Herald tomorrow will say: Mandamus proceedings are to be instituted against Gov. Yates and the trustees and wardens of the state penitentiaries to prevent the further contracting of convict labor and to induce the officials to obey the state organic law in regard to convict labor.

These proceedings will be brought by the State Manufacturers' association of Illinois and representatives of the Illinois Federation of Labor and the Anti-Convict Labor league. There are now more than 2,000 convicts in Illinois employed in lines of manufacture which come into direct competition with free labor.

PITTSBURGHERS BEGIN WORK ON GREAT FACTORY

An Important Factor in the Plate Glass Industry Has Already Been Launched.

BIG CONTRACTS CLOSED

A Pittsburgh syndicate is about to enter the plate glass trade with a plant in Missouri that will be the largest single factory in the world. The St. Louis Plate Glass Company, chartered in Missouri, with initial capital of $2,000,000, to be multiplied several times later on, broke ground this week for its factory at Valley Park, Mo., about 20 miles from St. Louis. W. C. Temple, the Pittsburgh commissioner of several of the so-called steel pools, and W. W. Darley of this city represent the Pittsburgh syndicate, which includes five leading business men of this city.

Venture Is Notable.

The heavy venture in the west at this time, when the head of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company has declared that manufacture of plate glass, except in the larger sizes and taking in less than 40 per cent of the production, is profitless, is notable.

The new Pittsburgh company will have an advantage, however, in the near glass sand of the St. Louis district and an important market which it can reach in a short railroad haul.

The initial factory to be erected by the new company is to produce 3,000,000 feet of plate glass annually. The consumption of the country in plate glass is about 25,000,000 feet and of this the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company makes about 12,000,000 feet, other concerns between 7,000,000 and 8,000,000 feet and between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 feet is imported.

Factory Will Cost $750,000.

Initial plans of the new St. Louis Plate Glass Company provide for a factory that will cost approximately $750,000 for construction. Subsequently this plant may be made of quadruple proportions. As now planned the factory will engage 600 men and with the consummation of the entire scheme will employ upward of 2,000 men.

Along with the erection of the factory there will spring up a model new town something after the plan of Pullman, Ill. Work is about to start in the laying out of this town, which will be the home of between 10,000 and 15,000 people when the new plate glass industry is well under way. The syndicate has purchased 1,700 acres of land for the development of its plans.

Contracts in connection with the erection and equipment of the factory have already been let, which aggregate $400,000.

An output is figured on of about 10,000 feet for each working day.

Robert Naysmith, recognized as one of the leading expert plate glass men of the country, will be superintendent of the plant. He was formerly connected with the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company at Ford City and subsequently with the factory at Kittanning.

PRINCE HENRY HEARD GREAT NIAGARA'S ROAR

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 5.—Prince Henry of Prussia traveled from Chicago to Niagara Falls today, crossed the Canadian frontier for a brief stay, during which he was officially welcomed by the Dominion, and resumed his journey tonight, bound for Boston over the New York Central line.

His longest stop in almost 30 hours of continuous traveling was at Niagara Falls, which he saw bridged in with ice. He viewed Horseshoe falls from Table rock, the American falls from the ledge over the whirlpool on the Canadian shore, and rode down the gorge to a point below the lower whirlpool and there inspected the plant of the Niagara Power Company which converts the force of nature to the purposes of commerce.

Found Niagara Impressive.

The Prince was much impressed by the falls and as he stood on Table rock looking across at the Horseshoe he said:

"It is magnificent; it is grand." He was much impressed also by the swirling rapids down in the gorge and when he left his car at the whirlpool he stood for several minutes watching the tumbling of the waters.

The special train had traversed the distance between Milwaukee and Chicago, crossed Indiana and was well on its way through Ohio before Prince Henry arose. He was worn out when he left Milwaukee and he did not respond to demonstrations by the people of Toledo and of Sandusky.

The people of Toledo were anxious to greet the Prince and nearly 2,000 of them were at the depot at 6:20 o'clock when the special came in and stopped. They had a band and two big bouquets and were all ready to extend the hospitable hand.

Toledo's Early Serenade.

They had telegraphed to the prince asking for a chance to meet him, but the telegram had miscarried and the prince was sleeping unconscious of the reception. The band awakened him, but it was then too late to get up. The bouquets were thrown aboard and later in the morning the trainmen presented them to the prince. There was another crowd at Sandusky, but the prince had got asleep again and did not appear. He has stood his rapid, flying swing through the com-

BRYAN LAUNCHES THE HILL BOOM THEN SCORES HIM

He Doesn't Believe in Putting Paternal Homestead on Wheels and Chase Prodigal Son.

TOO NEAR A REPUBLICAN

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LINCOLN, NEB., March 5.—W. J. Bryan, in his own way, has launched David B. Hill's name for the presidency and after announcing his candidacy attacks both the candidate and his so-called platform. Mr. Bryan, in his Commoner of Friday, will devote the whole of the first page to an arraignment of Mr. Hill.

He says the New Yorker's speech before the Manhattan club may be accepted as a formal announcement of his candidacy before the next Democratic national convention and says it is fortunate for the party that his aims are understood. He accuses Mr. Hill of being a sulker and a repudiator during the last two campaigns and says:

"As is well-known he refused to give a single word of encouragement to the Democratic ticket during the campaign and as a result whatever influence he had was thrown against the party. When the campaign was over he wrote a carefully-prepared magazine article assailing the Democratic platform and arguing in favor of repudiating it. He is the favorite son of the reorganizing element of the party. He is the special representative of those who have so completely forgotten the story of the prodigal son that they would place the paternal homestead on wheels and start in hot pursuit of the wayward son, determined to compel the boy to eat fatted calf, even if the husks have destroyed his taste for wholesome food.

"Mr. Hill is the leader of those who would make the Democratic platform so nearly like the Republican platform that a Democratic victory, even if possible, would mean nothing to the people at large."

ARMED FOR A MOB.

Whites of Marion, Ala., Prepare to Resist a Body of Jail Liberating Negroes.

MARION, ALA., March 5.—As the result of a report that a mob of negroes is marching here with the intention of attacking the county jail and releasing two negro murderers, one of whom, Luke Sanders, is to hang tomorrow, citizen soldiery is being organized tonight, and at 9 o'clock this evening 50 men were under arms preparing to meet the negroes. If the mob appears a serious conflict is feared.

Leading citizens conferred and decided not to ask the governor for aid, as they believe it the duty of the people to protect law and order. Perry county is one of the "Black belt" counties and negroes are in the majority.

THREE STATES SUFFER DAMAGE BY SNOWSTORM

March Blizzard Impedes Traffic on Railways and Country Roads.

MANY MAIL ROUTES WERE ABANDONED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., March 5.—The snow is 22 inches on the level in all parts of this county, travel is almost stopped, trains are late and the rural delivery service is paralyzed. So far as known not a rural carrier in the county was able to cover his entire route today. Postal wagon A, which carries mail from the Washington office to the terminus of the Monongahela & Washington railroad at Scenery Hill for the Monongahela valley, left Washington at 9 o'clock this morning with three horses and did not reach Scenery Hill, 12 miles, until 5:30 this evening. The roads are drifted full to the fence tops and horses are helpless. The public schools of Washington have been dismissed.

Trolley Line Tied Up.

IRWIN, PA., March 5.—(Special.)—No cars were run on the Greensburg and Pittsburgh trolley line, and the country roads are in such condition as to render traveling impossible. The fall of snow is estimated to be 18 inches.

UNIONTOWN, PA., March 5.—(Special.)—It has been snowing steadily for 24 hours in Fayette county. Street railways are abandoned, steam trains are greatly delayed and travel is practically suspended. Freight traffic is demoralized and the coke works compelled to shut down because the railroads could not remove loads or place empty cars for loading.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., March 5.—(Special.)—At 7:30 tonight the snow is 15 inches deep and the storm is still raging. Street car traffic is almost helpless. Pennsylvania railroad branches in the mountains are moving with great difficulty.

Trains Badly Hampered.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., March 5.—(Special.)—The snow tonight is 16 inches deep on the level. Drifts from 10 to 20 feet, high block country roads and cuts. Electric lines are paralyzed. Trains are running slowly over the Baltimore & Ohio and Southern Pennsylvania railroads.

ALTOONA, PA., March 5.—Two feet of snow has fallen here, and it is still snowing. Business all day has been paralyzed. The main line of the Pennsylvania railroad is practically tied up. The strike of the trackmen in the Altoona yard is keenly felt, as the principal difficulty lies in keeping the switches open, and the strikers were nearly all expert switch tenders.

Locomotive Was Upset.

One engine was upset by a snow-packed switch. Engineer James Crouse was hurt. All the passenger trains are behind time and some of them have been annulled. The trolley cars were forced to quit running at noon. Business houses are deserted and no one is about who can possibly remain indoors.

PHILADELPHIA, March 5.—With the exception of the extreme southeastern section of the state the entire commonwealth of Pennsylvania is tonight in the grasp of the heaviest snowstorm of the winter. Railroad travel is practically tied up in many places, and the indications for tomorrow are not encouraging.

Coal Mines Closed.

Easton, Hazleton, Wilkesbarre and other points north of Philadelphia report that snow fell all day and still continues. Tonight there are 22 to 24 inches of snow on the ground at those points. Heavy drifts have closed up mountain passes, blocked railroads and closed down coal mines. In the northern central section Williamsport reports 16 inches of snow.

Snow, sleet, rain and high winds were the conditions that prevailed in this city and vicinity the past 24 hours. Snow began falling late last night and early this morning it turned to sleet and later to rain. Street railway and suburban steam railway travel was more or less irregular. The telegraphic service, which has shown much improvement from the wreck of the recent storm, was again considerably disarranged.

Factories Are Crippled.

WHEELING, W. VA., March 5.—Thirteen inches of snow fell here during the night and morning and business is largely at a standstill. The traction lines are tied up and the steam roads are operating under extreme difficulties. Factories are crippled by the inability of many employes to reach them. Both telegraph

STORM REIGNS SUPREME OVER PITTSBURGH

Snowfall of 15 Inches Has Paralyzed Traffic and Business.

DAMAGE WROUGHT IS ALREADY VERY GREAT

HUNDREDS OF EXTRA MEN WERE EMPLOYED

The Pittsburgh Railways Company Had a Bothersome Question to Solve in Keeping Its Great System in Operation at All.

HEAVY SNOWFALLS IN PITTSBURGH.

	Inches.
March 5, 1902	15.0
February 26, 1894	5.0
November 26, 1888	3.0

	Inches.
Freeport	13.0
Confluence	10.0
West Newton	15.0
Weston, W. Va.	12.0
Fairmont, W. Va.	15.0
Parkersburg, W. Va.	11.0
Greensboro, Pa.	13.0
Johnstown	12.0

Pittsburgh has nearly run the gamut of weather. Hard on the heels of last week's destructive flood a snowstorm of almost unprecedented severity has come. Traffic is paralyzed, industries are crippled, thousands are victims of it.

Early yesterday morning the storm began. It continued for hours without a break. At 8 o'clock the streets were covered to a depth of eight inches. Before night the official measurements showed a fall of 15 inches, the second deepest on record. Streets in the East End had an undrifted covering of more than two feet.

The damage wrought is already greater than that done by any storm of recent years. The tale is not all told, either. Warm weather may come and bring with it another flood.

The bureau of highways and sewers faced a tremendous proposition. Early in the day Supt. John Battles concentrated his forces in the downtown region. Even then the force was not sufficient. Men were hired as rapidly as possible and before afternoon 500 men and 80 teams were coping as best they could with the snow.

Headway Was Slow.

It was not until well along in the day when the fall had lessened that appreciable headway was made. Last evening the streets were in comparatively good condition.

Passersby on Smithfield street witnessed one of the strangest sights of their lives in front of City hall at 6 o'clock. With a roar that could be heard for squares a band of 200 Italians rushed down Virgin alley and literally took the municipal building by storm. They chattered like magpies and hammered on the great doors like mad. They were a busy looking work, and they got it so promptly that few of them had any clear idea of what they were to do.

Supt. Battles sent agents out early in the afternoon to get a night force to continue the cleaning of the streets. Twenty-five cents an hour was offered and by 6 o'clock 500 had been engaged.

Fought for Their Shovels.

The men fussed around the portico of City hall for perhaps 20 minutes. Then they changed their base of operations to the alley in front of The Gazette building. A wagonload of shovels had been taken there, and the men almost fought to gain possession of the tools that constituted their badge of office.

Their cries, while inspectors and foremen of the bureau were striving to get the crew into some sort of order, resounded on either side to Fifth and Sixth avenues. Passersby thought a riot was going on.

The Italians were finally equipped and marshaled and sent forth to relieve the day shift. All told there were 550 of them, in addition to 100 teams. Assistant Superintendent S. W. Church was in charge of them.

The snow is being loaded into wagons and is then emptied into the sewers. Manholes at First avenue and Wood street and along Liberty, Eighth and Twelfth streets and Seventh and Old avenues are being used.

Not Hard to Handle.

The snow is not difficult to handle. It is light and dry and when the men once became familiar with their duties they made rapid headway.

The big snow plows of the bureau were used all day and at night the sweepers were sent out. No aid was sought from any of the other city departments. Supt. Battles said last night that if the storm continued heavy he would have to turn to them for assistance.

Serious damage was done to the lines of the two telephone companies in Pittsburgh. The wires which were badly broken near the river districts by the flood has been gotten partially into working order again when the storm came on. Now they are in a much more congested state than on last Saturday. All repairing crews have been called in, and it is impossible to do any work on the lines until after the storm abates.

Railroads Little Affected.

The railroads from Pittsburgh east and north were alone affected by the storm, its radius extending only a short distance west of Pittsburgh. Outside of delays to trains, small damage was done, according to officials of both the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore & Ohio.

The Pennsylvania got its trains into Altoona an hour late and they arrived at East Liberty no farther behind time. Much trouble was experienced in getting the trains through the Union station yards. The switches have been but recently installed and their newness added to the deep snow put a large number of them out of order. On this account the greater part of the local trains were abandoned from Twenty-eighth street to the Union station.

On the Baltimore & Ohio the through passenger trains were about two hours late in arrival. The Buffalo & Allegheny Valley and the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh trains were also several hours late.

Street Car Service Bad.

The tie-up on the street car lines of the city and suburban towns yesterday caused great inconvenience to residents. At 7 o'clock yesterday morning the cars on many lines of the Pittsburgh Railways Company began to have trouble, and just at the time suburbanites were coming to their work in the city many of the cars stopped running entirely.

The United lines from McKeesport to the city were tied up securely early yesterday morning. Not a car ran to McKeesport after 8 o'clock. The Yellow line, over the Monongahela Tracks, was in operation during the whole day, but the cars were from 10 minutes to an hour late every trip.

The street cars to Elliott and Sherraden boroughs were unable to run yesterday and the transfer lines to Thornburg and Heidelberg were also tied up during the entire day. Cars were not able to run between Millvale and Etna and Pittsburgh.

Many Cars Taken Off.

About one-half the cars on all the city lines were taken off yesyterday morning and it was after 4 o'clock in the afternoon before an attempt was made to put them back. About half the cars running to Wilkinsburg were removed and those that were able to make trips took almost double the time to do so.

The cars running between Bellevue and Avalon were all stopped yesterday morning and it was impossible for the Hilltop cars to make trips before noon. The residents of Mt. Washington were compelled to take trains to get over to the business part of the city and all suburban passenger trains were well patronized yesterday and last night.

The dryness of the snow is what caused the delay in street car and railroad traffic in the vicinity of Pittsburgh yesterday. The snow would pack on the rails instead of melting and running off and the sand apparently had little effect on it.

Salt and Sand Freely Used.

All the snow, salt and sand cars of the Pittsburgh Railways Company were running over the tracks yesterday and tons of salt and sand were distributed along the tracks.

The 28 track sweepers of the company were also in operation throughout the day but were able to accomplish very little toward clearing the tracks and keeping them so.

Shortly after dusk last night the railways company put to work an additional force of 300 men and 70 teams. Eighteen snow scrapers were also pressed into service and an effort was made on all lines to have cars running before midnight.

About 10 o'clock it was given out from the company's offices that over 80 per cent of the cars of the whole system were running. It was also stated that it would be fully 24 hours before all the cars were again running on schedule time and it may be several days before traffic with McKeesport is established.

Tied Up Completely.

This is the first time since the building of the Second avenue line that it has been tied up completely. The worst place on the line as at Stone Arch, near Wilmerding, where the snow is drifted about 10 feet deep.

Agents of the Humane society were active all day in looking after the horses and their drivers to see that the wagons were not overloaded.

Agent J. S. Bell found that teamsters drawing dirt from the Frick building to the Soho dump were putting on as heavy loads as under ordinary circumstances and reported the matter to the foreman, who at once stopped all hauling until conditions are improved. Many other cases were found, but no prosecutions were begun.

The storm was not without its beauty. Its transformations, especially in the downtown region, were wonderful. Gaunt and begrimed skyscrapers stood out in bold relief against the heavens, while the fringe of snow along eaves and cornices softened harsh outlines and brightened somber hues.

Trinity and the First Presbyterian churches experienced the same change. The spires were capped with snow and the rough stone of which they are built caught the flakes and held them until the entire structures were covered with a pall.

Fences Were Transformed.

The picturesque old fences about the buildings soon became white-capped sentinels. This phase of the storm lessened its discomforts for many. They found a recompense in turning to its artistic side.

Local Forecaster Frank Ridgway of the weather bureau gave out the following bulletin on the weather last night:

"The storm centered this morning along the Virginia coast had moved to a position central last night with slightly increased energy and taken a position off the New York coast, attended by heavy snows in West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Eastern New York.

"Light snow is reported in the British Northwest. Elsewhere generally fair conditions with moderate temperature prevailed at 8 p. m. last night, which should continue in Pittsburgh today. Last night snow was falling in Philadelphia and in Calvary, B. C."

Sought Shelter from Police.

The snow drove many men to seek shelter in the police stations last night. Vagrants, homeless men and men without work appeared at Central station and asked for a dry place to rest. In most instances the men were taken in. But applicants for shelter who could not give a satisfactory account of themselves were taken into custody and charges lodged against them for vagrancy and suspicious persons.

Early in the day Superintendent of Police John McAleese instructed the night sergeants to receive all men who sought shelter in the police stations. He made some exceptions, however, of men who were intoxicated and who were recognized as habitual vagrants. These men he ordered to be placed under arrest.

There were perhaps more men applied at the Central station than at any other station house in the city. About 30 were quartered there last night.

All Were Laborers.

Most of them said they were hunting for work and were without the necessary means to secure shelter for the night. Others said they were homeless and had no place to go. All gave their occupations as laborers.

Out of the 30 men quartered at Central station only four of them were from this state. Most of them gave their residence as in West Virginia.

At No. 4 police station 20 men were quartered last night. At No. 6 police station 28 sought shelter. At No. 3 and No. 5 stations 58 men were quartered. In South Side and West End police stations there were 52 men quartered during the night. Twenty-eight men asked the sergeant at No. 2 police station to care for them during the night.

Reports from the interior of the state tell of even heavier snowfall. Cameron reports 24 inches and Clarksburg 20 inches. Work in the oil fields is entirely suspended. Fears of a second flood in the Ohio are expressed by many.

Snow Caused Train Wreck.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., March 5.—(Special.)—Trains arriving here today from all directions were late owing to the depth of the snow, which at 6 o'clock this evening was 20 inches in this city. The eastbound flyer on the Baltimore & Ohio was four hours late in arriving here today, owing to a wreck at Long Run, between this city and Parkersburg. A freight train jumped the track, the switch frog having become clogged with snow.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., March 5.—The snowstorm in West Virginia continues. Eighteen inches has fallen here, 24 at Logan, 20 at Point Pleasant, 30 at Dingess, three feet at Wyoming and five feet is reported in the Cheat mountains. The Guyandotte, Twelve Pole, Tug, Kanawha, New and Big Sandy rivers are all rising, the latter very rapidly.

Reported Lost in Snowdrift.

CUMBERLAND, MD., March 5.—(Special.)—Snow has fallen here to the depth of 20 inches. It has reached a depth of 24 inches at Oakland and Terra Alta, and is drifting so badly that it is feared all the railroads will be tied up by morning. All Baltimore & Ohio trains are running several hours behind time tonight. A high wind is prevailing here, and the streets are entirely deserted owing to the blinding nature of the snow. Lee Dorsey, a Baltimore & Ohio switchman at Okonoko, W. Va., is reported to have lost his life in a snowdrift.

Ohio Towns Suffer.

BELLAIRE, O., March 5.—About 13 inches of snow has fallen here. The electric car lines have temporarily suspended traffic and the railroads are more or less crippled.

IRONTON, O., March 5.—Ten inches of snow has fallen here and the blizzard is still raging with no sign of abatement. Street car and railroad traffic is suspended.

CHILLICOTHE, O., March 5.—A blizzard is raging here and 12 inches of snow has fallen in the last eight hours. Street car traffic is tied up and wires are down, causing serious delays to traffic.

CASHIER COTTLE A SUICIDE.

Man Whose Shortage Closed Elkhart Bank Blows Out His Brains.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., March 5.—Another scene in the drama of the closing of the State Bank of Elkhart was enacted this afternoon, when Frank W. Cottle, cashier, whose alleged shortage of $82,000 caused the closing of the bank, blew out his brains.

Cottle was 56 years of age and leaves a wife and five sons, all residing in Elkhart. His father was a wealthy Louisiana sugar planter. Deceased married Mary Eleanor Gay in Marquette, Mich., 28 years ago.

M'KEESPORT IS SHUT OFF FROM ALL STREET CARS

TRACKS COVERED BY SNOW

General Supt. Murphy Accepted the Mayor's Suggestion That Citizens Walk for a Day or Two, Which They Will Have to Do.

From present indications the residents of McKeesport will be without street car service for several days to come. The Pittsburgh Railways Company has refused to move its cars in that city or make any attempt to clear its tracks of snow.

General Superintendent John Murphy started out a gang of 75 men to clear the tracks to McKeesport early in the day. Beyond Glenwood they met the difficult part of the task. The tracks were finally cleared to McKeesport late in the afternoon, and the men went into the city and attempted to remove the snow there.

Mayor E. J. Black ordered Chief of Police Patrick Morrisey to stop the work until an arrangement was made with the company to pay half the costs of hauling the snow away. Morrisey warned the men to quit work, but they paid no attention to the order. Then Mayor Black ordered the arrest of Foreman Edward Cochrane, and work ceased.

Mayor Said People Could Walk.

Cochrane remonstrated with the mayor, and stated it was the intention of the company to get the tracks clear in order to get the people hauled to and from the city.

The mayor replied the people could walk and the work of cleaning the tracks must cease until an understanding was reached with the company.

To add to the blockade on the Second avenue line, a Baltimore & Ohio passenger train jumped the track where the railroad crosses the tracks at Glenwood, shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and traffic was delayed for over an hour on this account.

Late last night Mayor Black called up Superintendent John Murphy by telephone and asked him if he would be willing to pay for the hauling of half the snow off the streets. Superintendent Murphy refused to pay a cent after the action Mayor Black had taken yesterday afternoon.

Men Afraid to Return.

The mayor then urged Superintendent Murphy to send men to his city and have the tracks cleared and get the cars started as soon as possible. Mr. Murphy replied that it would remain as the mayor had stated during the afternoon—that the people could walk for a day or so.

Superintendent Murphy told Mayor Black that he could not get his men to return to McKeesport to work again, as they feared arrest, and the tracks of the Pittsburgh Railways Company in that city would remain in the condition they are in until the officials of the company saw fit to have them cleared up.

When arrested and locked up under Mayor Black's orders, Foreman Edward Cochrane was working a gang of men in Fifth avenue, near the Baltimore & Ohio railroad station, where several cars of the Second avenue line had been derailed. The work had to be stopped about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

McConnell Ordered Away.

While Supervisor McConnell, of the Monongahela division of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, was working with another gang of men opening up the tracks in Jerome alley about 5 o'clock last night, he was warned by Chief of Police Patrick Morrisey to stop work, being threatened with arrest if he did not immediately call his men off. Five cars are derailed at this point, and a street sweeper is also off the tracks. No cars are running into McKeesport. The nearest approach the cars reach is the bridge at Riverton.

The snow storm was even worse in the suburbs surrounding Pittsburgh and did considerable damage to the telephone and telegraph lines. The residents of the outlying districts suffered more than the residents of the cities, and in many cases the big industrial plants in the valleys were badly handicapped from a lack of men. In the suburbs school was dismissed owing to the non-attendance of many children.

Merchants Snowbound.

In the Chartiers valley district the snow was one of the heaviest ever known and the attendance at the schools was so slim that no attempt was made to hold afternoon sessions yesterday. At Heidelberg, Leasdale, Bridgeville and Glendale the merchants from Carnegie who usually supply the residents were unable to reach them, as the snow had drifted to a depth of three and four feet.

At Sharpsburg the snow was from 16 to 18 inches deep and in Etna and Millvale equally heavy. An attempt was made to clear the tracks yesterday morning, but at Virginia avenue the fuse blew out of the sweeper, leaving it standing helpless and blocking the entire line. Many cars were left standing along the route and some were almost covered by snow.

Sidewalks Slippery.

The streets and sidewalks were treacherous yesterday, as the flooded streets were soon frozen, and many falls were reported. George Hamilton, living in Freeport street, Etna, while going to work yesterday morning fell on the Sharpsburg bridge and broke his right leg and right wrist. He was taken to his home. Charles Campbell of Middle street, Sharpsburg, while running to catch a car yesterday morning fell and broke his right leg in two places and received injuries about the head which rendered him unconscious. His condition is reported to be critical.

The heaviness of the snow caused anxiety in several homes in the boroughs, and it was reported that it caused the wreck of an unoccupied building owned by Henry Juergens in Clay street, near Sixteenth, Sharpsburg.

At the Edgar Thomson furnaces of the Carnegie Steel Company 100 men were put to work during the morning to clear the snow away to allow the ore buggies to be hauled to the furnaces from the stock yards.

STORM IN THE EAST.

Reports from New York and New England Indicate Traffic Is Greatly Impeded.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Another snowstorm which has done much damage started at 4 o'clock this morning. The snow was wet and heavy and caused much inconvenience and delay to traffic. On the river the weather was so thick that ferry boats were unable to run at more than half speed. The snow ceased shortly before noon and was followed by sleet. A total depth of six inches of snow fell.

Telegraphic service was further demoralized by the storm. The Western Union company reported losing wires in all directions on account of the heavy snow, which in some localities was followed by sleet. Between Easton and Williamsport (Pa.), 20 miles of Western Union poles went down.

The train service on the New York Central, which was disorganized by the floods, was further impeded by the snow. Trains from the west and north were in bad shape. No attempt was made to run the Adirondack express. The Chicago express stalled somewhere along the line, with no means of reporting its whereabouts or condition.

All through trains on railroads having terminals in Jersey City were late in arriving this morning, owing to the storm. Many coal trains on the Pennsylvania, Lehigh Valley and Central railroad of New Jersey are stalled in Pennsylvania, and as a result there is likely to be a scarcity of coal.

HOOSICK FALLS, N. Y., March 5.—This section is now in the throes of a severe storm, which is blockading traffic in general. The same conditions prevail along the Vermont line and in Eastern Massachusetts.

HUDSON, N. Y., March 5.—A heavy snowstorm set in at noon today. The snow drifted badly and caused the entire force of men clearing tracks of the New York Central railroad to suspend work. It will probably be a week before the New York Central tracks can be used for through traffic.

OFFENDED THE SOUTH.

Bishop Potter Unpopular There Because He Invited Booker T. Washington to Dine.

NEW YORK, March 5.—(Special.)—Bishop Potter, who invited Booker T. Washington to dine with him only a short time before President Roosevelt entertained the colored leader at the White House, said tonight he had received many telegrams informing him that he would not be welcome in the south.

The bishop presided tonight at a meeting at Carnegie Music hall, at which Mr. Washington was a speaker. In his speech introducing Mr. Washington the bishop referred to the fact that he had sent a telegram of congratulation to President Roosevelt when he heard of the incident which later brought down southern criticism upon the head of the chief executive.

The bishop then introduced Booker Washington. The colored educator was received with applause. He devoted nearly an hour to describing the advantages which would accrue to the colored race in the south, and to the white race as well, by the education and uplifting of the negro. He said it is useless to speak of sending the colored man away.

"Those who would help save my race," he said, "should use their influence to keep the negro out of the large cities, and especially the cities of the north."

like, but not formidable, and he gave an amusing account of a war between a sultan and a dato, lasting two months, with the loss of two killed and four wounded.

The governor said polygamy is confined to the datos and head men.

Representative Williams of Illinois asked if any sultans or datos are carried on the American payroll.

Gov. Taft said he believed Dato Mandi is, as the commission had recommended his appointment as a forest ranger. The sultan of Jolo and his datos, under the Bates treaty, receive stated amounts quarterly. They are supposed to keep order and prevent crime, but the governor of Jolo is rather derelict in his duties.

Sold in Slavery.

The fact that a woman and her baby, two young men and a young woman were sold as slaves for $40 worth of drygoods and $20 Mexican, is brought to light in the records of the court-martial of a Moro named Sulug, who was tried by an American military commission at Cottabato, island of Mindanao, on charges of murder and kidnaping.

Sulug, at the head of a band of natives, carried away the party of Moros referred to at Point Sagayan, on the bay of Iliana, and sold them at Baquaraym, near the mouth of the river Dins. He was acquitted of the charge of the murder of one of the captives, but was found guilty of the charge of kidnaping and sentenced to 14 years' imprisonment at hard labor.

TWO BIG MINERAL FINDS.

Copper, Silver and Gold Uncovered in Vast Quantites.

PHOENIX, ARIZ., March 5.—(Special.)—Two rich mineral discoveries rivalling the greatest ore strikes made in the west in many years, have just been made in Arizona. In the general group of mines backed by eastern interests three enormous copper-gold ledges have been uncovered. Prospectors are staking off the ground for miles around, and there is intense excitement.

All reports received from Wilcox, Ariz., are confirmatory of a reported mineral strike just made in that region. The strike was made in the Casey group, in Southern Arizona. P. J. Scanlon and another Denver man uncovered the greatest deposit of silver-copper ore ever discovered in the southwestern belt. There are many millions of dollars' worth of ore in sight.

Man Cried Murder.

Persons on Carson street, near South Nineteenth street, were aroused by cries of "murder" last night, and looking out of the window they saw Owen Fitzpatrick of No. 2523 Carson street. He proved to be the worse for drink. He was arrested and when taken to the patrol box he attempted to telephone to the Twenty-eighth ward police station that he was being murdered by two policemen.

HAMILTON'S

The Great
A. B. Chase Piano

When the last word is spoken as to the piano business, the A. B. Chase will still be the finest piano that was ever brought to the attention of the American public.

It is today the one piano that tops all others in refined tone quality.

That distinction has won it such a place in the affections of cultured music lovers that to mention artistic playing to such persons is to bring up the name of this magnificent instrument.

The A. B. Chase is an art piano for artists.

Troubles that Lead to Insanity and Suicide Result from a Diseased and Disorganized Nervous System.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND
The Great Banisher of Nervousness in All Its Forms.

Are you a victim of melancholia, and do you brood from day to day? Does the shriek of the steam whistle, the rattle of wheels or the clangor of bells cause you to start and shiver? If this is your condition, be assured your case is extremely critical.

It is fitting that you should investigate your condition at once. If you are sleepless, depressed in spirits, if your mental movements are slow, if you are subject to terrifying hallucinations and an aversion to food, we say with all earnestness, beware of insanity and suicide.

The science of medicine has, thank heaven, furnished a means for the banishment of all the troubles referred to. Paine's Celery Compound is the great restorer and builder of the weakened and shattered nervous system. This marvelous prescription of Professor Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., begins its work directly on the nerves by bracing them up; it strengthens tissues and muscles; it causes pure, lifegiving blood to flow freely to every part of the body, carrying health, vigor, joy and happiness into each hour of life. Beware of remedies that have no merit or reputation to commend them, they simply aggravate existing troubles. Ask your druggist for Paine's Celery Compound, the medicine that never disappoints.

Plaintiff Is 54 Years of Age and the Defendant Is 73.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., March 5.—A breach of promise suit instituted by Mrs. Margaret E. Naley against Jacob Kepple is attracting deep interest here. Mr. Kepple is a carriage manufacturer here, is very wealthy, and is 73 years of age. The plaintiff is 54 years old. She is a professional nurse, and for some time previous to the alleged promise of marriage she held a lucrative position in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Naley insisted on the witness stand that the defendant had repeatedly promised to marry her; that he hugged and kissed her on several occasions. Once, the plaintiff told, she and Mr. Kepple went to Pittsburgh and visited Schenley park. She said she insisted on going to the Hotel Schenley for lunch. Mr. Kepple, she said, refused and finally a compromise was effected in the purchase of a 50-cent ham sandwich.

He said the kissing and hugging were done exclusively by the plaintiff, and that it was not pleasing to him. Mrs. Naley wants $10,000 for her blighted affections.

FAVOR REAPPORTIONMENT.

Hanna and Dick Want New Congressional Districts in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O., March 5.—(Special.)—It is practically settled that the congressional districts in Ohio will be reapportioned and that when this is done the state will stand 17 Republican to 4 Democratic districts. Many of the members of the general assembly who have been holding out against any change in the apportionment have been doing so because they have been told that Senator Hanna and Gen. Dick were against any change.

Tonight the following telegram was received from R. M. Nevin, one of the Republican congressmen, who is advocating a reapportionment:

"Hanna and Dick do not favor the Twelfth district as against the Third, and are in favor of strengthening the two districts. Have seen them and am authorized to send this."

COUNTY OFFICER IN JAIL.

Infirmary Director Arrested for Abusing His Wife at Lisbon, O.

LISBON, O., March 5.—(Special.)—A county official spent last night in the village jail and will probably sleep there again tonight. He is Infirmary Director W. A. Tarr and was arrested after the Republican county convention of yesterday accused of being drunk and abusing his wife.

Mayor Farrell released him this morning for a hearing later. Tarr went home and the police were soon summoned, the charge being the same as before.

The Republican county committee is making an effort to get him off the ticket, he having been nominated for another term on Saturday.

CINCINNATI'S CENTENNIAL.

Queen City Fittingly Observed the 100th Anniversary of Its Incorporation.

CINCINNATI, O., March 5.—The centennial of the incorporation of Cincinnati was celebrated today with appropriate exercises and legislative, the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations. On orders from the war department a salute of 21 guns was fired at noon at Fort Thomas. At City Hall addresses were made by Mayor Fleischmann and others.

The celebration concluded with a banquet tonight at the Chamber of Commerce, with President M. E. Ingalls as toastmaster. Gov. Nash responded for Ohio and Gov. Durbin for Indiana. While Judge John A. Fulton responded for Gov. Beckham of Kentucky. Former Attorney General Judson Harmon delivered an address on "Cincinnati and her Century."

Lost Horse and Mail Bags.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., March 5.—(Special.)—Yesterday John Porter, who carries the mail on horseback between Smiths Ferry and Blackhawk, almost lost his life by attempting to ford a ravine that was filled up with back water from the Ohio river. He was swept off his horse and only escaped by swimming, and reached the bank in a thoroughly exhausted state. His horse and the mail bags were swept away and lost.

Ohio Postoffice Robbed.

WESTERVILLE, O., March 5.—The postoffice safe was blown by robbers early today, who secured from $900 to $1,200 worth of stamps and several hundred dollars in money. The safe door was blown across the office and imbedded in the wall. Bloodhounds have been put on the trail. There is no clue.

Rock Wrecked a House.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., March 5.—(Special.)—At Smiths Ferry today a rock weighing three or four tons rolled from the hillside into the house of Hardin Woolcott, manager of the Wallover Oil Company, going through the dining room floor into the cellar. Considerable furniture was smashed.

Shot His Friend Dead.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., March 5.—(Special.)—Charles Madery, a miner of the Loup Creek field, and an Italian, Malion Danato, were the best of friends until late last night, when they came to blows over a card game. Madery drew a large revolver and shot Danato five times, killing him instantly.

MILLIONAIRES TO MARRY.

Mrs. Philip D. Armour, Jr., Today Will Be Patrick Valentine's Bride.

NEW YORK, March 5.—(Special.)—In the presence of a small gathering, mostly relatives, Mrs May Lester Armour, widow of Philip D. Armour, Jr., of Chicago, will be married to Patrick A. Valentine tomorrow evening at the Hotel Netherlands. The wedding will be as simple and quiet as possible. The Rev. Dr. Stires will officiate. Mrs. Armour will enter the room with the bridegroom and there will be no attendants.

The bridal gown of blue chiffon over satin will be elaborately trimmed with lace, and the bridal bouquet will be of pink roses. Mr. Valentine and his bride will take a short trip and return in time to sail for Europe on Saturday. They have planned to go direct to Paris and later to Nice.

Mrs. Armour was Miss May Lester, daughter of a Chicago millionaire. Mr. Armour died in California in January, 1900. Mr. Valentine is a son of Mrs. J. G. Valentine of Chicago, and is credited with being a millionaire several times over.

Sealing Fleet Ready to Start.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., March 5.—The annual seal fishery will open next Monday. Reports from the northern seaboard indicate that the seals are already appearing. It is also reported that along the Labrador and North Atlantic coasts fisherfolk are killing hundreds of seals on ice floes. The sealing fleet is composed of 20 steamers.

PROMINENT MAN IS UNDER ARREST

Beaver Falls Citizen Is Badly Injured and Charges Assault.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BEAVER FALLS, PA., March 5.—Today Bernard Steinfield was arrested on a charge of aggravated assault and battery on Henry Myers, son of Charles H. Myers, the head of the firm of H. W. Myers & Co., shovel manufacturers of this place. The charge was made by the boy's father before Justice Piper. Steinfield gave bail in the sum of $500 for a hearing. Owing to the social and business standing of the parties the affair has created quite a sensation.

Young Myers is confined to his bed with a dislocated shoulder and a badly bruised face as the result of a beating given him Monday night. While both were returning in a street car to New Brighton, after attending the Geneva-Allegheny basketball game at the theater, Steinfield was with his wife and Myers was with the daughter of a prominent citizen of New Brighton. Steinfield claims that Myers and the young woman with him insulted his wife, so he waited until they got off the car, then he knocked Myers down, it is alleged, and kicked and beat him.

Steinfield belongs to a wealthy Hebrew family of this place.

NEW WABASH LINE.

River Road to Be Constructed From Steubenville to East Liverpool.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., March 5.—It is definitely announced here that the up-river extension of the Wabash railway is to be built to this city.

Rights of way have been secured from Steubenville to Toronto and Judge F. M. Smith of Wellsville will turn over to the Wabash the franchise he holds for building a road through that town.

Filed a Lien on a Party Name.

HARRISBURG, PA., March 5.—Fred Uhlman, L. M. Cunningham, Herman Spittol, Carl Schleiker and W. J. Purcell of Erie county today filed papers claiming the exclusive right to use the designation, "Socialist Labor," as a political appellation for the naming of candidates for congress in the Twenty-fifth congressional district, judges in the Sixth district, senator in the Forty-ninth senatorial district and member of the legislature in the First representative district of Erie County.

$13,250 for Breach of Promise.

ZANESVILLE, O., March 5.—The jury in the breach of promise suit of Miss Loretta Roberts, the daughter of a wealthy farmer of this county, against James E. Starkey, county auditor, has returned a verdict for the plaintiff of $13,250. The case was in hearing about one week and the testimony was sensational.

UNIVERSITY CHAPEL IS DEDICATED AT WOOSTER

A HANDSOME MEMORIAL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WOOSTER, O., March 5.—The new memorial chapel of the University of Wooster was dedicated tonight in the presence of an audience that filled the structure to overflowing. The sermon was delivered by the Rev. Henry C. Histon of San Francisco, Cal., moderator of the general assembly.

The building is a handsome one of English gothic architecture. Brown sandstone is the material used for walls, while the interior is in natural red oak, and, with the organ loft, has a seating capacity of 1,100. It is lighted by electricity and heated by steam. The windows are all of cathedral glass. The main window is a very fine one, 29x14 feet, and was donated by George McGrew of Pittsburgh in memory of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Frick.

A massive organ, said to be one of the largest in the state, fills the entire west side of the loft. The instrument cost $5,000, and was given to the institution by Mrs. J. Livingstone Taylor of Cleveland.

The main tower holds the McKinley memorial bell, which was presented to the university by Senator M. A. Hanna as a memorial to his friend, President William McKinley. The bell has a remarkably pretty, clear tone.

Many members of the board of trustees were here to attend the dedicatory exercises and at a meeting to be held Thursday will adopt plans for buildings to replace those destroyed by the fire.

LIVED 106 YEARS.

Mercer County Woman Dies After Passing Far Over the Century Mark.

SHARON, PA., March 5.—(Special.)—Mrs. Elizabeth Noonon, 106 years of age, died yesterday at her home near Indian Run, the result of a fall sustained a few days ago. Mrs. Noonon was born in County Derry, Ireland. She had for more than twenty years lived in this county.

Long life was a heritage, for her father was 98 years old when he died; her sister was 95, and one of her brothers reached 90. Three children and a large number of grand and great grandchildren survive.

PRINCE HENRY AT NIAGARA FALLS

At Cleveland there was a friendly demonstration. Here Peter Karpp, formerly a bugler in the German army, climbed into the car for a reunion with the prince, which greatly pleased both. Karpp was a sailor with Prince Henry back in 1877, and they were shipmates for more than two years.

Greeted an Old Comrade.

The prince recognized him at once and taking him by the hand led him into the car. They talked over the old days, while a crowd looked on with approval.

At Erie, Pa., there was a great crowd. Women and children were wedged in against the train and the effort to check the swirling crowd which pressed in from the rear was useless. Several women fainted. Mrs. Harriet Gridley and Miss Gridley, widow and daughter of Capt. Gridley, the man who commanded the Olympia at the battle of Manila, were received on the train by Admiral Evans, who went to the Naval academy with the dead captain, and were presented to the prince.

All through the morning as the train ran through a corner of Pennsylvania and out into New York state there were crowds at the station anxious to see the prince and tender assurances of friendship.

More Singing Societies.

At Buffalo Mayor Knight welcomed the prince and the local German singing societies sang. It was 2:45 o'clock when the special arrived at Buffalo and 15 minutes later it was steaming out to Niagara Falls. At Niagara Falls station the prince was met by Mayor Butler and a large reception committee and formally bidden to the city. Mayor Butler made a short formal address and then Dr. William Snyder spoke in behalf of the Germans of the city. The prince thanked both of them for their greeting.

The prince was then driven to the Canadian side, accompanied by a mounted escort made up of local militia officers. Midway on the bridge which spans the rapids the prince was met by Maj. F. S. Maude, military secretary for Lord Minto, governor general of Canada, who presented the formal greeting of his chief, and the Hon. R. Harcourt, minister of education for Ontario, delivered an address passed by the legislature of Ontario.

Dominion's Cordial Greeting.

The latter was worded in part as follows:

"We hail with joy the presence on our soil of so distinguished a descendant of our late beloved queen, and we assure your royal highness that in no part of the British empire are the cordial relations which exist between the various branches of the Teutonic races regarded with more satisfaction than they are in Canada. As Canadians, irrespective of nationality, your royal highness will be pleased to know that we rejoice in the achievements of German leadership in science and research; that we appreciate those elements of national character to which the German empire owes in a large measure its material prosperity, and we are glad to believe that the influence of the empire in the councils of the nations tends to the advancement of the highest civilization and the liberty of the human race."

Climbed Through Drifts.

Karl Muller presented an address in behalf of the municipality of Berlin, Ont., and F. Bopp, German consul at Montreal; Samuel Nordheimer, German consul at Toronto; and W. Hespeler, German consul at Winnipeg, were introduced. The prince thanked the Canadians for their cordiality, and leaving his American escort behind was driven to the Canadian side. As his carriage turned up toward the falls Mayor Butler said to Admiral Evans: "There, at the gallery, is the best view of the American falls, but on account of snow you cannot get it."

"You may not be able to climb across there, but I am going to," said the prince. Suiting the action to his words, the prince jumped out of the carriage and climbed through the snow drift to the gallery on the ledge over the rapids. Others followed, and soon there was a little crowd with him.

Asked Many Questions.

Col. Percy Sherwood, chief of the dominion police of Canada, was on hand with a force of his men, and they closely guarded the prince during his stay on Canadian soil. After viewing the American falls the prince was driven to Table Rock, where he again dismounted. The Horseshoe falls were clear of ice and he got an excellent view of them.

The prince was afterward driven back to the town of Niagara Falls and there transferred to a special electric car for the trip down the gorge. He left the car at the whirlpool rapids and with his suite walked down to the bank.

On returning he was taken to the power house of the Niagara Power Company and with William B. Rankine, vice president of the corporation, as his guide he made a complete tour of the plant. He asked a number of questions about the amount of power generated, the means used and the manner and distance of transmission.

Pickpocket Tackles Evans.

As the party was leaving the power house Admiral Evans felt something tugging at his coat. He turned to find the hand of a youthful-looking pickpocket in one of his pockets. As the admiral shook him off he coolly said: "Young man, you'll find my purse in another pocket." The admiral did not delay long enough to turn the thief over to the police. At 6 o'clock the prince was back and aboard his train. Fifteen minutes later it departed for Boston, brief stops at Rochester and Syracuse being scheduled.

At Syracuse the prince will be greeted by Mayor J. B. Kline and Former Judge Charles Andrews of the court of appeals will present an address. The seal of the city in solid gold, inclosed in a silver box, will be presented by the mayor and the German women will present two albums to be given the Princess Irene and the kaiser.

Ambassador Andrew D. White today cabled the Syracuse Herald the following sentiment: "Never was a nobler purpose more nobly accomplished than by Prince Henry's visit."

Big Time at Rochester.

At Rochester 20,000 people crowded the trainshed and depot of the New York Central road, and additional thousands lined the tracks for blocks or had positions of vantage on roofs and in windows of tall buildings. Red fire burst forth on the tops of hundreds of buildings, searchlights pointed out the American and German flags suspended from kites in mid-air and a salute of 21 guns was fired.

The First and Eighth separate companies and the Second naval reserves had been stationed at both ends of the trainshed in order to hold the crowds in check but as the last car of the prince's train reached the roped-off area, the surging, cheering throng outside brushed the militiamen aside and 30 seconds later had packed to almost suffocation every inch of space in the train house and depot. Fully a dozen women fainted in the crush.

Among the souvenirs presented was a handsome pocket kodak manufactured in Rochester, bearing on a gold plate the following inscription: "To Her Royal Highness Princess Irene of Prussia.—Rochester, N. Y., March 5, 1902."

Among other gifts were an exquisite water color scene; a basket of American beauty roses and two barrels of beer from the vaults of two local breweries.

Old German With a Lantern.

At 3 o'clock this morning, near Mishawaka, Ind., an old German with courage, daring and great love for Prince Henry, unintentionally caused intense alarm on board the train carrying the royal guest. Armed with a red lantern the enthusiastic Teuton gave the "down brakes" signal to the approaching train. The engineer applied the emergency brakes and shut off steam with a suddenness that awakened every passenger. The old German had in his hand a bulky letter addressed to the prince. He stated that he could not see the admiral in Chicago, but desired to convey his love and esteem and would place a missive on the train.

Careful of Quay's Health.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—(Special.)—Senator Penrose today sent a telegram to Senator Quay advising him not to return here during this unpleasant weather, and especially as his services are not needed in the senate, and would not be needed for two weeks. Senator Penrose does not know when his colleague intends to return, but does not wish him to take unnecessary risks.

REVOLUTION FAILED AND LEADER IS SHOT

HIS FOLLOWERS DECEIVED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BELGRADE, SERVIA, March 5.—An extraordinary attempt to start a revolution was made this morning at the frontier town of Shabats by a raid under the leadership of Alavantics, a relative of Prince Karageorgevich, the pretender to the Servian throne. The only result was that Alavantics was killed and his adherents were arrested.

Alavantics, with a handful of followers, arrived at Shabats, from Mitrowicz, wearing the uniform of a general in the Servian army, and called to the frontier guard to follow him. The latter, not suspecting that anything was wrong, accompanied the supposed general to the town hall, where Alavantics ordered the men of the fire department to join him. This motley procession proceeded to the gendarmery barracks, where Alavantics paraded the gendarmes.

Two of the latter, however, whose suspicions were aroused, escaped and apprised their commander, Capt. Nikolics. The latter, when he arrived on the scene, called on Alavantics to produce some document as authority for his actions, whereupon the would-be revolutionist leader fired a revolver at Capt. Nikolics and slightly wounded him. Nikolics promptly shot and killed Alavantics, whose followers were then arrested.

At the sitting of the Spu Skupshtina today the president announced the failure of the revolutionary movement. The news was received with cheers. The leaders of the majority and minority made speeches condemning the attempt to subvert the loyalty of the nation to the dynasty.

AFTER THE CUBAN TRADE.

Movement for Reciprocity Begun in Great Britain.

LONDON, March 5.—(Special Cable.)—At a private meeting tonight of members of the associated chambers of commerce of the United Kingdom, who have been holding a conference in London during the past two days, Mr. Cox, a Liverpool merchant, said traders with Cuba asked for the co-operation of the chambers in an effort to obtain favored nation treatment for the trade of Great Britain with Cuba.

England had a direct trade with Cuba of over £2,000,000 sterling ($10,000,000), in addition to considerable indirect trade through New York and Liverpool.

The traders had grounds for believing that there is an intention existing to make a reciprocity treaty with the United States by means of which a concession would be given which would destroy the greater part of trade carried on between Europe and Cuba in all articles manufactured or traded in by the United States. The meeting agreed that action is necessary and that the chambers of the United Kingdom should be strongly represented at an interview with Lord Lansdowne, to take place on Tuesday next.

RELIEF FELT IN BERLIN.

Fear Prevailed That Chicago Might Interrupt Prince Henry With Some Untoward Incident.

BERLIN, March 5.—Relief is felt that the flight of Prince Henry through the United States is now drawing to a close without any untoward incident, for notwithstanding Emperor William's entire confidence as to the safety of the prince, others in authority have had misgivings that some Polish fanatic in Chicago, wrought up over the conflicts and national feeling in Polish Prussia, might attempt something violent.

The prestige of Prince Henry has been immensely increased in Germany by the impression he has made upon the Americans. After his return the prince will probably be entrusted with a larger share in public affairs, the impression being that Emperor William will find something of first importance for him to do.

VISIT OF THE PRINCE POLITICALLY A FAILURE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—All the ambassadors of foreign powers in Washington, with the possible exception of Herr von Holleben, the German representative, have reported to their governments that so far as political results are concerned, Prince Henry's mission is a failure.

As a result of the war with Spain American friendship is a thing of value to European governments, and in accordance with instructions their representatives have been carefully watching public opinion. The prediction was made before Prince Henry came that his visit would have no political results.

"That prediction has been verified," said a diplomat today. "It has been clear to representatives of foreign governments that the United States will not enter into any alliance, and the most that can be hoped by each is that the country will maintain friendly relations with his country.

"That the visit of Prince Henry has not been productive of any political rapprochement is shown by the alarm which has been excited here by the determination of Germany to retain troops in China and the effort she is making to obtain additional concessions in Shantung.

"The American government and the American people have been courteous to Prince Henry, surely."

In official circles it is said the authorities were glad to receive the prince and discuss internal affairs with him, but there has been no change of sentiment toward Germany. No negotiations for a reciprocity treaty have been begun, nor will there be any until the senate is more friendly to such action.

PRINCE OF WALES STARTS DOCK WORK

Turns First Sod for an Enterprise Which Is to Cost Nearly $10,000,000.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, March 5.—The prince of Wales today turned the first sod for the new dock at Avonmouth, Gloucestershire, on which the sum of £2,000,000 is to be spent, and by which it is hoped to recover a portion of the American traffic formerly enjoyed by the port of Bristol.

At the luncheon following the ceremony the prince of Wales said the great enterprise started today will have the effect of strengthening the grip of hands across the sea. It would tend to increase the community of interest, mutual trust and sense of kinship, all of which would help to strengthen the empire.

MINISTER W. F. POWELL TO SETTLE SALA CLAIM

Negotiations With Santo Domingo Government Have Prospect for Success.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

SAN DOMINGO, March 5.—The United States minister, William F. Powell, who has just returned here from the United States, is using his good offices in order to bring about a settlement of the Sala claim for $50,000 cash, and is also endeavoring to arrange a settlement of the affairs of the Santo Domingo Improvement Company of New York. The negotiations have a fair prospect of being successful.

Sala was a Frenchman who loaned money and supplied munitions of war to the late President Hereaux of Santo Domingo, amounting in the aggregate to about $50,000.

After the death of Hereaux the existing Santo Domingo government recognized the claim, but has since shown a disposition to repudiate it. Sala died, leaving his claim to his widow, who is an American, and a resident of New York. hence the state department at Washington about a year and a half ago, undertook to prosecute it. Mr. Powell has not been instructed to demand a settlement, but simply to use his good offices with the government of Santo Domingo to effect a settlement of that and other claims of Americans.

SEEKING A BALLOON RACE.

Santos-Dumont in London Looking Over Ground Preparatory to the Coronation.

LONDON, March 5.—(Special Cable.)—Santos-Dumont spent this afternoon at the Crystal palace, thoroughly examining the grounds with a view to his projected ascents during coronation time.

"There are several difficulties," he said, "but I think I shall be able to arrange matters all right. I am in hopes that the English people will offer a prize that will bring about strong competition. I enjoy, when making an air journey, to feel the stimulus that comes with a well-contested struggle."

"On Friday," the famous aeronaut continued, "my English friends of the Aero club will meet to consider if they can offer a prize for an aerial race and upon what terms."

NEW MONARCHS OF THE SEA.

Cunard Company Will Undertake to Eclipse Everything Afloat.

LONDON, March 5.—(Special Cable.)—The Cunard company has decided to build two new steamers for the Atlantic passenger trade, which will eclipse in size anything afloat.

These vessels will be over 700 feet long, with engines of 48,000 horsepower, and will have a speed of 25 knots. This will be a great advance on anything heretofore attempted in the British mercantile marine. The general outlines of the company's steamers, the Campania and Lucania, will be followed.

ODDS AND ENDS FROM THE WIRES.

NEW YORK, March 5.—John T. Marsh, formerly in the restaurant business, filed a petition in bankruptcy. Liabilities are fixed at $52,787, with assets of $51.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Henry Fink has resigned the presidency of the Norfolk & Western Railroad Company and will be succeeded by F. J. Kimball, chairman of the board of directors.

LANSING, MICH., March 5.—The title to the Lansing property of the Michigan Condensed Milk Company is being inquired into preparatory to the formation of a condensed milk trust.

WASHINGTON, IND., March 5.—Burglars entered the First National bank of Montgomery, eight miles east of here, last night, dynamited the vault and got $10,000 in cash and bonds.

NEW ORLEANS, March 5.—Edward Batson of Spikard, Mo., charged with the murder of six members of the Hart family near Welsh, La., was brought here today. He protests that he is innocent.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., March 5.—The survey of the Vicksburg & Birmingham railroad is completed and the work of securing right of way is being carried on. The route is 266 miles long and will extend from Vicksburg, Miss., to this city. Estimated cost is $14,000 per mile.

SACRAMENTO, CAL., March 5.—Dr. J. M. Morton, George Nunes, Clarence Casterson, Elmer Ivery and Knight Lillington, left Cortland, down the river, in a small boat early Sunday morning. The boat was found in Tules, four miles below Cortland. The bodies of three were found.

ATLANTA, GA., March 5.—W. E. Small & Co., stock brokers, members of New York Cotton exchange, with headquarters in Macon, Ga., and offices in this city, Nashville and Chattanooga, have suspended. They say the suspension is only temporary and that all indebtedness will be paid.

ST. LOUIS, March 5.—Robert E. Lee, editor of the Interstate Grocer, says there is little probability of the St. Louis candy houses taking any part in the proposed national consolidation. Edwin Corbin, a New York lawyer, who is aiming to promote this new trust, outlines his plan as one to include all of the large confectionery manufacturing plants in Chicago, Milwaukee, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Kansas City and Omaha as a starter.

A Popular Savings Bank.

No better evidence of the popularity and the confidence of the public in a well-managed banking institution can be given than the fact that over 30,000 persons—mostly wage earners—have deposits with the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings, Smithfield street, opposite postoffice, amounting to more than eleven million dollars. Speaks well, too, for the great thrift of our working people. This bank pays 4 per cent interest, compounded twice a year.

Senor Ampil, an American Sympathizer, Gets Away from Captors.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

MANILA, March 5.—Senor Ampil, president of the town of Cainta, province of Morong, Luzon, who is well known as an American sympathizer, and who was recently captured by the insurgents, together with some of the native constabulary, who disappeared March 8 after an engagement with the rebels, has escaped from his captors and returned to Cainta.

Senor Ampil says that the insurgent force which took him prisoner is an entirely new organization commanded by Col. Simmotes of Pasay, and was organized in the province of Rizal. It consists of 55 uniformed men armed with rifles, all of whom wear police badges.

Since the capture Senor Ampil and the engagement of the constabulary March 5 the province of Morong has been in a ferment. The unrest has grown with Senor Ampil's return and the spreading of his reports of new organizations. The excitement is now intense, and may of the inhabitants of the province who have been friendly to the United States authorities are leaving their houses and crops and emigrating in the hope of saving their lives.

Gen. Chaffee will leave Manila March 6 for Aparri, Northern Luzon, on a tour of inspection. Acting Gov. Wright and Maj. Allen, chief of the native constabulary, will leave Manila on March 10 for a two weeks' tour of inspection through the southern archipelago.

CUBAN QUESTION STILL IN A VERY SERIOUS TANGLE

The President Continues to Labor With Congressmen in Island's Behalf.

SENTIMENT IS IN DOUBT

Caucus Majority Claimed Both for Payne's 20 Per Cent Proposition and Tawney's Rebate Substitute Roosevelt Not Wedded to an Idea.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
605 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.

President Roosevelt is still talking with much earnestness to members of the house about the urgency of legislation that will reduce the duties on Cuban sugar and other articles. The president is sending for Republican leaders of the lower house and conferring with them on this subject.

The president, it is thought, it not using pressure or improperly meddling with the affairs of congress. He is simply advocating, as the leader of his party, the adoption of a law that he thinks is fair and just to a neighboring country and that apparently has the approval of the people of his own country.

The president continues hopeful that congress will see fit to grant relief to Cuba, but there is a feeling of more trouble in administration circles than has existed in a long time.

Sentiment, Real or Manufactured.

Among many who have talked with the president during the last week there is uncertainty about the political wisdom of cutting the tariff in behalf of Cuba, and these fears are put before the president, though probably not so strongly or so forcibly as they are presented in the house.

The president has been informed from various sources that Representative Tawney and other western men are standing for the real live sentiment of their sections, and that it will be impossible to induce them to change their views throughout the west, it is represented to the president, there is a feeling among the farmers that to lower the duty on Cuban sugar will be a blow at an industry that is beginning to open a new field to them. They are waking up in such a way as to send many letters to their representatives. Whether this sentiment is adroitly manufactured by the beet sugar manufacturers makes very little difference so far as the actual existence of the sentiment is concerned. It is with the beliefs of their constituents that representatives have to deal.

Leaders at the White House.

Speaker Henderson and Representative Cannon of Illinois called at the White House today and discussed with President Roosevelt the subject of Cuban reciprocity. Active canvassing continued among Republican members today, preliminary to the third caucus on Cuban reciprocity to be held tomorrow night.

The most positive claims were made by those opposed to Representative Payne's 20 per cent reciprocity plan that there is a clear majority against it. Mr. Payne and his associates did not concede this, however, and expressed the belief that a concession to Cuba ultimately would be granted. It was said in this connection that Speaker Henderson is now favorable to the position taken by the majority on the ways and means committee, and that this would exert much influence in the final outcome.

Cabinet Members Seen.

During the day several members of the cabinet were called on by Messrs. Tawney of the ways and means committee, who has proposed the rebate plan as a substitute for Chairman Payne's 20 per cent reciprocity plan, and Morris of Minnesota, who also has proposed a plan differing from that of Mr. Payne. As an outcome of these calls, it was asserted that three members of the cabinet—Postmaster General Payne, Secretary Shaw and Secretary Wilson—were hopeful of seeing a solution of the problem which would not endanger any American industry. This was construed in some quarters to show a division in the cabinet, but it was stated by those conversant with the situation that the attitude of the cabinet members did not warrant any such construction.

Tawney's Side of It.

Later in the day Representative Tawney called at the White House and had a conference lasting nearly an hour and a half with the president. At its conclusion Mr. Tawney joined several of his associates who were opposed to the Payne resolution. It developed that Mr. Tawney had told the president there was little or no possibility of adoption of the Payne plan by the Republican conference, and that if it was adopted some 40 Republican members would not consider themselves bound, and would carry the question to the floor of the house, where there would be additional complications, owing to the attitude of Democratic members.

The president is understood to have made his position quite clear, and in so doing is said to have removed several misapprehensions which have been afloat of late.

Roosevelt Not Wedded to an Idea.

He said he had no intention at present of sending a special message to congress on the subject. The president expressed the most earnest solicitude that a satisfactory adjustment be reached by congress, saying that this was an "inherited problem," meaning that it had come to him from the McKinley administration.

Furthermore, the president, it is asserted, indicated no positive determination in favor of any particular idea, but rather a desire that congress should deal with the subject according to its best lights.

After hearing from Mr. Tawney, his associates expressed the belief that the president would accept the rebate proposition if congress sends it to him. They also were considerably encouraged to hear from Mr. Tawney that the president is not laying down any emphatic ultimatum in favor of the plan as presented by Mr. Payne.

Opposition Seriously Strong.

While these conferences were going on at the White House, Chairman Payne and members of the ways and means committee supporting him were in conference. Later, one of the members said he was confident the Payne reciprocity proposition commanded a majority of the Republican members, but that the minority was so large and was so disposed to carry the contest into the house that Mr. Payne and his friends recognized the seriousness of the situation.

However, there was no disposition, he said, to accept the rebate plan, as it was stated that this was merely a repetition of the plan proposed by the head of the beet sugar cream two months ago.

ROOSEVELT WON'T INTERFERE.

Tells Boer Envoys, as Private Citizens, Their Mission Is in Vain.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—Messrs. Wolmorans and Wessels, the Boer representatives who came to the United States from Europe to confer with the secretary of state were received by Mr. Hay this forenoon. It was distinctly understood that the Boers were to be received as private citizens and not in an official capacity.

The principal object of the delegation was to induce the United States government to do something in terminate the present struggle in South Africa. They were not very specific as to what they wanted. The secretary of state heard them attentively and promised to consider their representations and to do what he could to ameliorate the conditions in South Africa; but he pointed out that the president is the prime authority in such matters and he recommended that the Boers see Mr. Roosevelt. This they agreed to do and they were received at the White House in the same unofficial capacity.

Mr. Roosevelt listened attentively to what they had to say and then informed them this government cannot and will not interfere in the struggle.

SHIPPING BILL NEXT WEEK.

Senate Will Probably Vote on the Measure Then—House Honors the Memory of Polk.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—It appears likely now that the senate will reach a vote on the pending shipping bill one week from next Monday. When Mr. Frye, in charge of the measure, endeavored today to secure an agreement for the time of taking a vote, that date was mentioned as being satisfactory to the minority members of the commerce committee.

Mr. Clay of Georgia addressed the senate today in opposition to the bill and had not concluded when the senate adjourned.

Early in the session the senate passed the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, the second of the big supply measures to be acted on at this session.

The house today continued the debate on the bill to classify the rural free delivery service, but without action adjourned early out of respect to the memory of Representative Polk of Pennsylvania, whose death occurred suddenly at Philadelphia last night.

The senate amendments to the bill to extend the time for the redemption of internal revenue stamps were disagreed to and the bill was sent to conference. Messrs. Payne, Dalzell and Richardson were appointed conferees on the part of the house.

NO EAR RECEIVER NEEDED.

A Frenchman Invents a Telephone Which Transmits Full Power of the Human Voice.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—(Special.)—Consideration is being given by the navy department to a proposition to purchase an experimental telephone invented by a Frenchman, which transmits and reproduces the sound of the voice without the aid of an ear receiver.

The inventor is M. Ducretet, whose wireless telegraphy system is already in successful operation in the French navy. Reports say excellent results are obtained. The sound of the voice is transmitted naturally and can be distinctly heard throughout a room.

On board ship there often is difficulty in receiving messages over telephones.

SYMPATHY FOR IDE.

Roosevelt Cables to the Judge to Make Health His First Object.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The president has sent a cable message to Acting Gov. Wright at Manila, expressing sympathy for Judge Ide of the Philippine commission, who is ill at Yokohama, and saying he must make his health the first consideration in his plans for the future.

It is believed Judge Ide will be compelled to return to his home in California to recuperate before he will be able to resume his duties at Manila.

MORE CANAL SNAGS.

Nicaragua and Costa Rica Disposed to Make Hard Terms.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—Every fresh turn in the development of the isthmian canal project discloses a new obstacle. The protocols negotiated last spring with Nicaragua and Costa Rica, whereby these countries outlined the terms upon which they were prepared to enter into permanent treaties with the United States, conveying the necessary rights for canal construction, are no longer of effect. Conditions have changed since then and whenever the balance of opinion seems to incline toward the one route or the other for the canal the government interested in the favored route suddenly hardens its terms and is disposed to abandon past agreements.

Therefore, it will be necessary to draw up new protocols, not only for the Panamerican canal with Colombia, but for American canal with Costa Rica and the Nicaragua canal with Costa Rica and Nicaragua, in pursuance of the state department's policy of placing it within the power of congress to freely choose either route.

POSTAL MATTERS.

New Postmasters Appointed and Confirmed by Senate.

The senate today confirmed these nominations of Pennsylvania postmasters: E. A. Hempstead, Meadville; W. D. Galbreath, Canonsburg; N. K. Wiley, California; J. McA. Parks, Libonia; J. E. Enwer, Nattona.

CHECK FOR $8 10 CAUSES A SUIT

STRANGE DEVELOPMENTS AT AN ALDERMANIC HEARING.

Widow of Samuel B. McCloy Alleges That His Brother Secured Money, She Claims Herself, Under False Pretenses. Interesting Testimony Adduced.

Alfred C. McCoy, an Allegheny letter carrier, was given a hearing yesterday afternoon on a charge of obtaining money under false pretense, before Alderman James V. McMasters. The suit was brought by Mrs. Lucy B. McCoy, the widow of the defendant's brother, Samuel B. McCoy, to recover $8 10, the amount of a check which the plaintiff alleges the defendant fraudulently obtained from Adolph Schmitt of Allegheny.

Both sides were represented by attorneys and during the hearing it came out that two months after Samuel was married he had committed suicide by shooting. Mrs. McCoy at the time of her marriage to Samuel B. McCoy was the widow of a man named Zimmer, who lost his life in 1898 while on his way to Alaska. Samuel gave no reason for taking his life, and when his will was read it was found that he had willed his estate to his wife.

At the hearing it was brought out that the McCoy family was badly tangled up in a small business which had been left by Robert B. McCoy, the father of the defendant. During his life the elder McCoy had conducted a small business of manufacturing extracts at No. 5099 Dearborne street, where he had lived with his wife, two sons and a daughter. After his death the business was continued by the children for the benefit of their mother, who was 77 years old.

When Samuel married Mrs. Zimmer he brought her to the family home in Dearborne street, and the business was removed to the former residence of Mrs. McCoy at No. 5133 Penn avenue, when it is alleged by the plaintiff that she gave her husband $300 to aid in carrying on the business. When Samuel died he stated in his will that his wife had given him $500 and that he left his entire estate to her. The widow then turned the business over to her husband's family, but undertook to collect the bills for goods manufactured by her husband and which she had sold for him during his life time. Mrs. McCoy testified that the expenses connected with her husband's funeral were heavy and that the bill was given her to pay, but when she attempted to collect the bill from Mr. Schmitt for goods he had purchased from her husband, she found that the McCoy family had collected the money.

Mrs. McCoy said Schmitt told her that he had mailed a check made out to Samuel B. McCoy for the amount of the bill, but that Alfred McCoy returned it to him and requested that the check be made out in the name of his mother, Mrs. Mary McCoy, as there was no one with authority to indorse a check for Samuel, and Schmitt complied. This led to the suit. Schmitt further testified that for several years he had transacted business with Samuel. The alderman reserved his decision.

PAINTERS' STRIKE STARTED YESTERDAY

Of 1,800 Organized Men in This District Scale Has Been Signed for 400 Now.

The strike of painters, decorators and paperhangers of the Pittsburgh district started yesterday morning and stopped work on most of the important painting contracts. The men on the Frick building, Peoples Savings bank building and Union station are among those on big contracts who continue at work.

Of the 1,800 organized men of the three crafts in the district about 400 will work this morning, the scale having been signed for them. Most paperhangers have been granted the scale and are permitted to work on jobs employing them only and with painters whose employers have signed the uniform scale. The mass meeting imposed a strike assessment of 80 cents a day on all members working.

Out-of-town painting contractors engaged on work in Pittsburgh met yesterday and decided to adopt the scale. Not all have signed and the strike leaders say they will not permit their men to work until they do. There will be another mass meeting of the strikers of the three crafts at headquarters, 418 Wood street, tomorrow night.

At the meeting yesterday Secretary Michael Gelantiae of the Building Trades council assured the strikers of the support of the council.

Albert Shoengold assumed the role of Eudia and Bernard Shoengold that of Israel. Miss Celia Shoengold played Lovetta and was the star of the evening. The hall was crowded to the doors and the audience highly appreciative.

STEEL COMBINE BOOKING ORDERS FOR 1903 TRADE

BUSINESS TURNED AWAY

By E. W. HARDEN,
Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, March 5.—It was learned today that a number of large orders lately have been given and still are being booked by the United States Steel Corporation for delivery in 1903. These contracts are based on current prices.

The significance of this is apparent. It shows as conclusively as anything possibly could that the combine does not expect it will be necessary next year radically to revise its present schedule of prices. These contracts that call for delivery in 1903 are confined almost exclusively to material needed for railroad equipment, especially steel rails. These are sold on a basis of $28 a ton, and it is upon this price basis that orders for next year have been booked.

It was learned, further, that the American Bridge Company has had to turn away a great deal of business, not only for this year, but for next.

Forced to Turn Away Business.

Many consumers are so eager to provide against the future that they have been trying to make contracts with the American Bridge Company for material to be delivered in 1903. Owing to the fact that it is with great difficulty that the American Bridge Company can set its way out of the business now in hand it has steadily refused to accept business for next year's delivery.

Orders placed with this constituent company during the past two or three weeks aggregate many thousands of tons. A contract has just been closed with the Chicago & Northwestern railroad for 1,100 tons of plate girders. The Pennsylvania railroad placed orders for 1,000 tons of structural steel; the Santa Fe for 6,000 tons; the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western for 550 tons, and the Rutland railroad for 2,600 tons. The American Bridge Company also has closed a contract for 756 tons of material to be used in the construction of the Lincoln Avenue bridge at Pittsburgh.

Contracts for Other Concerns.

The Sharon Steel Company has just closed a contract for 350 tons of material to be used in the construction of a new plant. Similar orders calling for 700 tons come from the Harrisburg Pipe and Pipe Bending Company of Harrisburg. The latter order is for material for a new steel mill.

The American Bridge Company is greatly hampered on account of its inability to secure adequate supplies of raw material. Similarly the United States Steel Corporation has been embarrassed for want of angles. After having placed large orders outside for angles it still wanted a considerable amount to make up the deficit, and so has undertaken to overcome the difficulty by increasing its own output of this product. A number of constituent mills are now working exclusively on angles.

Resignation of Roberts.

The efforts to work up a sensation over the resignation of Percival Roberts, Jr., from the executive committee of the United States Steel Corporation are lost upon persons familiar with the inside affairs of the combine. It has been the understanding in inner circles for quite a while that Mr. Roberts would retire, partly because of his desire to relieve himself of business responsibilities and more still, perhaps, because of a disagreement between himself and President Schwab as to the management of the American Bridge Company. Mr. Schwab has been upheld by every member of the executive committee, barring Mr. Roberts. The retirement of Mr. Roberts, it is understood, will promote harmony in the executive committee. There has been friction there for some time.

WATER BOY TO MANAGER.

Rapid Rise of F. H. McGuigan, Now One of the Grand Trunk Chiefs.

NEW YORK, March 5.—(Special.)—F. H. McGuigan, general superintendent of the Grand Trunk railroad, has been appointed manager of the system and will have charge of the maintenance of way and transportation departments, reporting directly to C. M. Hays, second vice president and general manager. The office of manager of the railroad is a new creation.

Mr. McGuigan was born 52 years ago at Cleveland and entered the railroad service when 18 years of age as water boy on the Erie & Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad. He remained with that railroad, occupying various positions, until 1874, when he joined the Wabash and continued there until 1896. He then joined the Grand Trunk at the solicitation of Mr. Hays.

FINE DOGS ON EXHIBITION AT OLD CITY HALL

High Standard Reached at Duquesne Kennel Club's Bench Show.

JUDGING NOW UNDER WAY

Although Delayed by the Storm the Arbiters Are Making Excellent Progress—Many Splendid Animals Are on the Benches.

The fourth annual bench show of the Duquesne Kennel club of Western Pennsylvania opened yesterday morning at Old City hall. It is declared by competent judges to be not only the very best ever given in Pittsburgh, but one of the best ever given in the country. The catalogue includes the most famous kennels and a notable list of prize winning dogs. The unfavorable weather and the delay in the arrival of trains rather interfered with a full representation at the opening hour, but by evening there were between 600 and 700 dogs on the benches, all candidates for prizes.

One of the most striking features is the fine exhibit of Scotch collies. The Pomeranians, at present the fashionable dogs, are very numerous and are of the finest. The toy dogs and terriers, the former numbering among them some of the most valuable specimens in existence; the bulldogs, bull terriers, sporting dogs and spaniels excite the admiration of the most experienced judges.

Prizes Expected for Pittsburgh.

It is expected that Pittsburgh will carry off the first prizes in these breeds, as it is generally admitted that the champions are owned here.

One of the novelties is "Klola," an Alaskan "Malmute," the property of F. H. Gutley, which was purchased from a tribe of Esquimaux on Paraniutik river about 200 miles in the interior, back of Cape Nome, Alaska, which is on exhibition only. Its peculiar, shaggy appearance excites considerable comment.

The St. Bernards are greatly appreciated on account of their unusual excellence. Louis Walther's Mountaineer III. from the Alta kennels, the first prize winner; J. P. McConahey's Sylvia's King, winner of the second prize, and E. Loest's Edgecliff Beauty, third prize winner, were admired by large crowds. Prince Charming, V. H. C., weight 157 pounds, exhibited by John Farrell and bred by Ezra Miller, is an unusually fine animal, full of life and spirit, but withal, gentle and intelligent.

Fun With Prince Charming.

Last evening he managed to slip his collar and started to make a dash for liberty, but the attendant caught him around the neck with both arms and a wrestling match followed, which was watched with much interest by the crowd. The attendant held him, however, until assistance arrived and Prince Charming was returned to his bunk with a new reef in his collar. George C. Boist, Jr., exhibits Harbor, a first prize winner in class 4, rough, limit, and Louis Walther has also a first prize winner in class 5, open, in Shelby.

J. Stewart Lacock has his famous Irish setter Finelcho entered. Among the most noticeable collies are Colla Victor of Henry Jarrett of Philadelphia, the most extensive breeder probably in the world, and Wandering Pilot, exhibited by Thomas A. Orr of Pittsburgh.

Chief among the bulldogs is Champion L'Ambassadeur, exhibited by C. G. Hopton. For downright ugliness he is in a class of his own, although he takes his prizes for very different reasons. He is valued at $10,000.

Fine Bull Terriers.

Mrs. Richard Harding Davis through her agent, F. F. Dole, exhibits a fine bull terrier, Edgewood Gold Steel, valued at $500, and H. J. Hoover through his agent, A. G. Eberhardt, has champion Little Flyer valued at $5,000.

There are also a fine lot of Boston terriers, Beagles, Dachshunds and Fox terriers in the show. In the latter breed B. S. Horne has some fine specimens. Miss Dalby attracts much attention among the Fox terriers exhibited. Miss Dalby is owned and exhibited by G. B. Obey of this city.

In the English setter class there are a great many entries and many splendid animals. Among the exhibitors are Charles Gibbs Carter, Philip Demmel, Dr. W. S. Caldwell, Jr., D. H. Darrah, Manning Kennels, George C. Thomas, Dr. James E. Hair and many others.

Mrs. Reginald F. Mayhew exhibits a number of fine Fox terriers, including the famous champion Hands Up. G. M. Carnochan exhibits champion Go Bang in the same class.

Judges Were Delayed.

The judges were delayed by the storm and did not arrive in time to begin judging at 10 o'clock in the morning as was intended. However, they commenced their work at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and made good progress.

The Great Danes, Pomeranians and Toy Spaniels were judged by Mr. G. Muss-Arnholt of Tuckahoe, N. Y., and the poodles, black and tan Welsh Skye and Yorkshire terriers by James Mortimer of Hempstead, N. Y.

The awards made are as follows:

Class 3—St. Bernards, rough, novice, dogs and bitches—Louis Walther's Mountaineer III. first, J. P. McConahey's Sylvia's King second, E. Loest's Edgecliff Beauty third.

Class 4—St. Bernards, rough, limit dogs and bitches—George C. Boldt, Jr.'s Harbor first, Louis Walther's Hornsea Jessamine second, Sylvia's King third.

St. Bernards, rough, open, dogs and bitches—Harbor first, Louis Walther's Shelby second, Hornsea Jessamine third. Hornsea Jessamine was first in the winners' class.

St. Bernards, smooth, limit dogs and bitches—Newton Abbott kennels' Dolly Varden first, E. H. Bardsley's Prince Freedrics second. Open, dogs and bitches—Dolly Varden first, Prince Frederics second. Dolly Varden was first in the winners' class.

Deerhounds, open, dogs and bitches—Miss M. E. Bosler's Freak first.

Greyhounds, open, dogs—Newton Abbot kennels' Leeds Eliot first, same owner's Whirlwind second. M. M. Frey's Rox third. Bitches, open—Newton Abbot kennels' Leeds Music first, same owner's Bit of Blue second.

Pointers, dogs, under 55 pounds, limit class—G. O. Smith's Congress Boy first, Harry H. Peck's Lumber Boy second, J. A. Davidson's Plain Dealer third.

Pomeranians, novice, dogs and bitches—Swiss Mountain kennels' Volga first, same owner's Magic second, Mrs. George S. Thomas' Endcliffe Masher third. Limit, dogs and bitches, black—Swiss Mountain kennels' Prince Imperial first, Mrs. J. B. Vandergrift's Reigate Nero second, Mrs. Reginald F. Mayhew's Clayton Kaffir third. Limit, dogs and bitches, any other color—Swiss Mountain kennels' Little Gem and Banner Zip first and second, Endcliffe Masher third. Dogs and bitches, open—Swiss Mountain kennels' Professor Ruskin and Viva first and second, Clayton Kaffir third. Professor Ruskin first in winners' class.

Blenheim spaniels, novice, dogs and bitches—Swiss Mountain kennels' Lady Churchill first. Limit, dogs and bitches—Swiss Mountain kennels' Sterling and Berengaria first and second. Open, dogs and bitches—Swiss Mountain kennels' Little Glenn and Lady Glenn first and second. Little Glenn first in the winners' class.

Pointers, limit, dogs, 55 pounds and over—E. W. Throckmorton's Duke of York first, Sidney Smith's Lightfield Joe second, Randolph Crumpton's Dan Woodstock third. Dogs, open—Duke of York first, Payne & Lewis' Master Dot II. second, George A. Mott's Prince's Boy third. Duke of York was first in winners' class. Novice, bitches—Vancroft kennels' Rothwell Stout first, D. H. Fitch's Marion Jinga second.

Pointers, limit, bitches under 50 pounds—George A. Mott's Princess Alice first, E. P. Lewis' Fairacre Lady second, Rothwell Stout third. Limit, bitches 50 pounds and over—Randolph Crumpton's May Hobson first, D. F. Fitch's Marion Jinga second. Bitches, open—Princess Alice first, Fair Acre Jady second, May Hobson third. Princess Alice won in winners' class.

Collies, rough, puppies, dogs—Black & Hunter's Brandane Clinker first, John V. Rahb's Don Perfecto second, Henry Jarrett's Wellesbourne Planet third. Rough, novice, dogs—Henry Jarrett's Colla Victor first, T. E. Orr's Brandane Crescent second, M. M. Palmer's Rippowan Archer third. Rough, limit, dogs—Vagor Clive Collie kennels' Parkhill Imperial first, Colla Victor second, J. L. Beiling's Wellesbourne Comet third. Rough, dogs, open—J. L. Behling's Wellesbourne Hope first, Parkhill Imperial second, George Higginson, Jr.'s, Hanover Monarch third.

One of the chief attractions at the show is the entertainment given by Prof. Parker and his trained dogs, which were brought here direct from Crystal Palace, London. The dogs give a wonderful exhibition and show rare intelligence. There are acrobatic dogs, dancing dogs, vaulting and jumping dogs and clown dogs. A great feature is the climbing of a high ladder and the jump into a net by one of the animals.

Last evening J. B. Vandergrift, president of the Duquesne Kennel club, gave a banquet at the Hotel Henry to the principal exhibitors and judges of the show. Covers were laid for 40.

LIFE INSURANCE

Ninety per cent of those who are rejected for Life Insurance owe it to the presence of Albumen in the urine.

The great insurance companies, with millions of capital, have made diseases of the kidneys a close study, have reduced life and death percentages to a mathematical basis and relentlessly reject all who show the slightest evidence of it.

They recognize the absolute necessity for perfectly healthy kidneys. They know, as does every doctor, that Bright's Disease, like a thief in the night, is most insidious in its onset and becomes confirmed and incurable almost before we know it.

DOCTOR H. H. KANE'S $1.00 BUCHU

JOSEPH SIBLEY FIRST CHOICE IN WARREN COUNTY

MUCH OPPOSITION TO ELKIN

BY WALTER J. CHRISTY.
Staff Correspondent.

WARREN, PA., March 5.—This is an anti-Elkin county. If Congressman J. C. Sibley wants the delegates he can have them. Should he not be a candidate the delegation will go uninstructed and an effort will be made to turn the three votes over to John P. Elkin. This latter course will not receive the approval of a majority of the Republicans.

Strong party leaders are on guard. They are determined that the delegates must get into the open and declare where they stand. There is a possibility that there will be a straight slate of anti-Stone, anti-Elkin delegates put in the field. Any effort of the Stone machine to secure the delegation by false pretense will be nipped in the bud. Stone assured a Warren county leader the other day that Elkin would remain in the fight to a finish. Stone should come to Warren and hear what the people are saying about him.

Oil Men Are Outspoken.

As a rule oil country men are straightforward. If they have an opinion to express they express it in plain, forceful language. Plenty of these men have been found in Warren county. They are leaders in the Republican party—men who sway districts, wards, townships and in some cases whole towns. Every one of them said that the sentiment of this county was against the nomination of Elkin. A couple of men were found who favor the nomination of Elkin, but in each case there was a request that their name should not be used. They have probably told another that they were for the other fellow and do not cut a great deal of ice wherever they are.

Republicans have a dread of Pattison in this county. Conservative men of the party figure on him in making their calculations for the result of the election this fall. In 1890 he carried this county by a majority of 600.

Hard to Offset Pattison.

Ask the men who managed Sibley's campaign in this county in 1900 what they think of Pattison. They will tell you that after he made one speech in the town of Warren, it took the hardest kind of work for the balance of the campaign to offset the result of the Philadelphian's talk. They will tell you that had Pattison been here a few days prior to the election, the enemy would have carried the town. This means that a Republican who has the confidence of the rank and file must head the ticket.

One of the men who will probably have to bear the brunt of the battle if Elkin is the nominee, while he is a close friend of the attorney general, realizes that the Republicans of Warren will have an awful struggle to win. He points to the fact that Elkin will have to stand for all of the sins of his boss, the postscript man. It appears to be the intention of the Republicans of this county to renominate L. C. Baker for a second term in the house. He served with the stalwarts last time and came back to Warren with a much better record than many members carried to their constituents.

Must Carry Stone Handicap.

Nevertheless, with Elkin as a candidate, he will find himself on the defensive, and he will be forced to carry the heads of the writer of the postscript. With another man for governor, there would be no question about the return of Mr. Baker.

There is another possible condition in this senatorial district which may be a disturbing element in the fall election. Senator H. H. Cumings of Titusville wants to succeed himself. The same burning desire fills the breast of Gen. W. J. Hulings of Oil City. In Venango he has the field to himself. While Mr. Cumings has some home opposition, it is generally believed that he will get the Warren indorsement. The miserable old three-and-three conferee system of nominating prevails. Gen. Hulings is said to be on record as saying that he would have the nomination or there would not be any made in the district. Presuming that the warrior made good his threat and a representative of the state committee had to be sent in to break the deadlock and he preserved Cumings it would not be difficult to foresee that a battle would have to be fought to elect a Republican senator.

Penrose Would Lose Votes.

This condition is not improbable. Should it become a reality and Elkin be the candidate for governor, local leaders freely admit that the struggle would be bitter. The result would probably mean the loss of the votes for Penrose.

There is still another local condition that is sure to cause trouble unless remedied. There are 1,600 Swedish votes in this county. These citizens have been "going along" for years, helping very materially to make Republican success possible. They have reached the place where the "plum tree" must yield. They want a county commissioner and have agreed that Frank Hogberg of Scandia should be the recipient of the plum. About a dozen American-born citizens of Warren county are loath to see the advisability of getting out of the way. Several of the leaders see the necessity of turning in for Hogberg. If they are unsuccessful those 1,600 Swedes may cause much trouble in the fall.

Possibilities for Quay.

Republicans up this way can see great possibilities in sight for M. S. Quay if he were to step to the front now and declare for a man for governor in whom the people have confidence. A few words from him would bring peace in the party. Some of his friends were hopeful that his silence will shortly be broken and the postscript gang swept from the boards. They believe that when he returns from Florida he will see that party success this fall demands prompt action. The best men of the northwest are ready to say to him that Elkin should be asked to step aside.

Candidates for county offices do not care to have their names used in the discussion of the gubernatorial nomination, but several of them tell interesting stories of what they hear from the rural folk. One man who wants a court house job wrote over 300 letters to township and district leaders. He told them that he was a candidate and said that he would be glad to hear from them and asked for any suggestions they might have to offer.

Majority Against Elkin.

In the majority of replies the information was volunteered that the district was opposed to Elkin and Stone. This candidate has also driven over most of the county and in his talks with the farmers found that they were unqualifiedly against Elkin. He found a general desire for the nomination of Sibley.

Men who know W. E. Rice of Warren know that his opinion on a local political situation is worth having. He says that Warren is for Sibley, and although it would be sorry to lose him as a congressman, it would be glad to see him governor. Mr. Rice says that the sentiment of the county is against the nomination of Elkin. He had hoped to see the nomination of Elkin and his election by a big majority, but realizes there is much question about both. Mr. Rice can see the connection between the Pittsburgh situation and the candidacy of Elkin, and he cannot see any good in it for the attorney general.

Elkin in Deep Water.

He is not one of the men who believes that Elkin is free from blame for the Pittsburgh complication. In his opinion Elkin is deeply immersed and will have to carry his share of the load.

Ex-Representative E. W. Parshall, who has been fighting stalwart battles hereabout for years, is firm in the belief that Elkin is not the man to nominate. He says that Sibley is the popular man. He also favors the candidacy of Don Cameron and looks with friendliness on the candidacy of L. A. Waires. Mr. Parshall says that the sentiment is so strong against Elkin that any delegate who would vote for him could never explain himself to the Republicans of the county.

Ex-Senator O. C. Allen says that if Sibley wants the delegates of Warren he can have them. He is just as free to admit that Elkin is not the popular choice of the county.

Fears Loss of Votes.

He says that many of the leaders who are outspoken against the nomination of Elkin would support him if he was nominated, but it is doubtful if they could influence their friends to do the same thing. It is the lopping off of this vote that is to be feared, he says. The senator points to the fact that on two previous occasions Pattison lopped off enough to win.

William Schnur of Warren has been battling for the Republican party for many years. He sees the dangers ahead and declares that if success is desired Elkin must be stood aside.

Ex-Sheriff John Fulhard has had his ear to the ground. He says that the county wants Sibley and if he is not a candidate some other good man should be found. He believes that the sentiment of the county is so strong against Elkin that the delegates cannot square themselves with the people if they vote for him.

Sibley Is First Choice.

County Commissioner John Rounce who daily talks with the people from the country was prompt to declare that the county was against Elkin. He said that the first choice was Sibley.

Senator H. H. Cumings says that Sibley can get the delegates from this county if he wants them. Representative L. C. Baker says the same thing. He also adds that he finds the sentiment against Elkin. County Treasurer George Priestley is another who says it is Sibley and anti-Elkin.

Prothonotary Frank Knapp may be one of the delegates. He will support Sibley if the congressman is in the field. In his opinion the delegation will go instructed. He does not say that he would not vote for Elkin. C. S. Morris and Charles Clark will probably be on the ticket with Knapp. These men will all have to tell what they intend to do. There is a suspicion that they are hopeful that Sibley will not be a candidate and they will be able to slip in for Elkin.

Conference With Elkin.

Warren county comes so low in the roll call that the three votes can be used where they will do the most good. Some Warren county men have lately been in conference with the Elkin forces. It is suspected that they made promises, but the delivery of the goods will be another matter.

In case the three men named above should refuse to go on record as to what they would do if Sibley was not a candidate opposition will no doubt be placed in the field. These candidates would probably support Watres if elected. While the Scranton man is not very well known here he is looked upon as a safe man.

County Chairman J. W. Dunkle has told Elkin what he thinks of the county. The attorney general is probably not counting on the three votes.

Besides the senate and representative the county elects a register and recorder, commissioners and auditors. Senator Cumings will probably have two opponents, W. P. Nutting and Charles Schimmelfeng.

The County Contest.

The latter came into the Republican party in 1896. The former is an old-line stalwart. As the senator has been at work for a long time he will probably carry the county easily. So far Mr. Baker has no opposition for assembly-man and may have a clear field.

Charles Crandall is asking for a second term as register and recorder and there is not much question about him getting it. There is no opposition and probably will be done. He is one of the best-known men in the county and has made a good record in office.

The primaries will be held Saturday, May 24.

WARNING TO ALDERMEN.

Newly-Elected Officials Must File Acceptances Before March 18 to Secure Their Commissions.

Prothonotary A. J. McQuitty expects to have the same trouble this year as in the past, when aldermen and justices of the peace throughout the county apply for their commissions. Under the act of assembly candidates elected to these offices must file acceptances within 30 days from the date of the election to the office. For some years past a number have failed to comply with the law, and consequently were denied their commissions, although elected.

Up to date very few of the newly elected aldermen and justices have filed their acceptances. When this is done the prothonotary certifies the election to the governor, and the commission and blank bonds are sent to the recorder's office, where they are taken out. Prothonotary McQuitty gives timely warning that unless the laws are obeyed, the officers will have trouble securing their commissions.

When acceptances are not filed the only remedy for the alderman is to get up a petition and forward it to the governor, who has the privilege of appointing him to the office until the next general election. In several cases during the past three years others than those elected have petitioned the governor and secured the appointment, instead of the man elected to the office. All acceptances must be in the prothonotary's office before March 18.

SIX FAMILIES BURNED OUT.

Seven Double Houses in Schoenville Destroyed by Fire Early Yesterday Morning.

Seven double houses, in which six families lived, were destroyed by fire yesterday morning at Schoenville. The fire started at 3:45 a. m. by the overturning of a lamp in the house occupied by W. P. Carroll. The fire rapidly spread down the street, jumping the narrow spaces between the buildings almost before the occupants were aware of it.

Those burned out were T. J. Lande, J. O'Brien, J. Oughten, W. P. Carroll, W. J. Manning and A. Schmidt. Carroll suffered the greatest loss, as he practically saved nothing. All of the others saved most of their household goods. There were plenty of empty houses near, and the families were soon at home again.

The houses were all in a row on one side of Orchard street. They were of uniform size, 10 rooms in each double building. They were built two years ago, and were owned by the Fidelity Land Company. The loss is $15,000.

$20,000 for McKinley Memorial.

ST. LOUIS, March 5.—The Missouri State Auxiliary of the McKinley Memorial association has been organized by the election of R. C. Kearns, chairman, and Charles H. Smith secretary, and George H. Morgan treasurer. The amount to be raised in Missouri is $20,000.

ELKIN SAYS HE IS THE HARMONY CANDIDATE NOW

The Attorney General Asserts That Factional Differences Will Cease.

CLAIMS QUAY'S SUPPORT

Recorder Brown and Senator Flinn in Conference Yesterday—Both Refuse to Discuss Politics, but Brown Admits Having Been to Florida.

John P. Elkin now poses as the harmony candidate for governor. To friends who called upon him at the Hotel Duquesne yesterday the attorney general declared that he would have the support of all factions in Allegheny county, and would be elected to succeed Gov. Stone.

Mr. Elkin asserted that the factional differences existing in Allegheny county and elsewhere in the state would be wiped out and that he would have the support of the Allegheny county delegates at the state convention.

He says, however, that the greatest difficulty he will experience will be to induce the people to believe that his candidacy is not associated with the political fortunes or aspirations of Gov. Stone.

Predicts Stone's Withdrawal.

The attorney general also stated that Gov. Stone would soon withdraw as a candidate for the United States senate, and that Senator Flinn would issue another proclamation that he had retired from politics.

The above information was conveyed by Mr. Elkin to a prominent member of the Allegheny county bar who called at the hotel to see him. Mr. Elkin says he has received assurances that he will have the support of Senator Quay, as well as the backing of Israel W. Durham and other state leaders. He intimated also that at the proper time the local stalwart leaders would declare for him.

Attorney R. B. Scandrett was one of Mr. Elkin's callers. Mr. Scandrett announced last night that he favored the nomination of Elkin.

Brown and Flinn Consult.

The attorney general left yesterday at noon for Sewickley, where he delivered a lecture last night before the Women's club, of which his wife is a member.

Recorder Brown was in consultation the greater part of the day yesterday with Senator Flinn, who returned early in the morning from the east. Both Recorder Brown and Senator Flinn refused to discuss politics for publication, but the recorder admitted that he had been in Florida.

Local machine leaders who had talked with the recorder since his return said yesterday that the harmony arrangement which the recorder is alleged to have made with the state leaders involves the county ticket.

Stalwarts Will Be Invited.

They say that the stalwarts will be invited to participate in the Republican primaries in the county in June, with the guarantee that the contest for nominations will be conducted fairly, the payroll to act without orders from the Sixth avenue headquarters.

Recorder Brown did not call upon Attorney General Elkin yesterday, but sent Roger O'Mara as his personal representative. The attorney general had few callers.

To representatives of the daily papers Mr. Bigelow made the following statement yesterday in regard to the harmony deal alleged to have been made by Recorder Brown:

"My advices from Florida are that no deal was made. My personal opinion is that a deal cannot be made."

Ex-Mayor Andrew Fulton said:

"I do not believe there has been any deal. If there has I will not accept any portion of it. I am in the fight against the machine to stay."

Talked on Politics.

Mr. Elkin spoke on "Politics" before the Women's club of Sewickley yesterday afternoon. He talked for an hour and delighted the women. Mr. Elkin said in substance:

"The politician of today is not as bad as a majority of the people seem to believe. From the impression received by many, the politicians of this state are a crowd of bad men, and are spoken of in connections with thieves, etc. They are not as bad as reported. Among the politicians in Harrisburg the majority of my acquaintances are good church members. They do not drink to excess and are as conscientious as any other person." Mr. Elkin said that some of them even attend prayer service on Wednesday evening.

Mr. Elkin devoted some time to denying the publication in yesterday's Gazette, of the belief that he was seeking the support of the women in his gubernatorial ambitions. He declared that his visit was purely social.

PATRICK'S DEFENSE NEXT.

Prosecution in Rice Case Presents Evidence to Show Disputed Signatures Are Forgeries.

NEW YORK, March 5.—A number of bank tellers were examined today in the trial of Albert T. Patrick for the murder of William M. Rice. They all testified that the disputed signatures were forgeries.

Dr. Witthaus, analytical chemist, who was recalled to tell the result of his analysis of the embalming fluid, was not permitted to describe the results to the jury. He was permitted, however, to show the jury glass slides on which was mercury taken from Rice's body. The prosecution closed its case this afternoon. The defense expects to call about 30 witnesses. Assistant District Attorney Osborne reserved the right to call several witnesses who are not now in the city.

At the request of the defense court was adjourned until tomorrow to permit Patrick's counsel to prepare the opening of their case.

Just before the mid-day recess, Charles F. Jones, who testified that he killed Rice at Patrick's order, came into court. It was reported that he was to be recalled, and Patrick requested his attorney to permit him, Patrick, to cross-examine Jones if he were recalled, but Fred B. House, senior counsel, would not agree to such a proposition.

CONGRESSMAN POLK DEAD.

Pennsylvania Representative Expires in a Massage Establishment In Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, March 5.—Congressman R. K. Polk of the Seventh Pennsylvania district, died suddenly in this city last night of paralysis.

Mr. Polk came here last Monday for treatment. He was accompanied by J. J. Wells of Shamokin, and registered at the Hotel Walton. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Polk went to a massage physician for treatment, and he died in the doctor's establishment late last night.

Mr. Polk was a Democrat and represented the district which includes Columbia, Montour, Northumberland and Sullivan counties. His home was in Danville. He was born in Maury county, Tenn., August 23, 1856; was educated at Webb's academy, Culleoka, Tenn., and Lehigh university, South Bethlehem, Pa., graduating as mining engineer. He served as first lieutenant, Company F, Twelfth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteer infantry, in the war with Spain. He was interested in the manufacture of iron and steel as general manager of the Danville Bessemer Company and was a member of the firm of Howe & Polk.

LOCAL NEWS OF ALL PITTSBURGH

FIFTH IN VOLUME OF BANK CLEARINGS. FOURTH IN RANK AMONG CITIES. THE WORKSHOP OF THE WHOLE WORLD.

Contagious Diseases—Nine cases of typhoid fever, three of scarlet fever and one of diphtheria were reported to the bureau of health yesterday.

Suicide by Poison—Joseph Williams, 30 years of age, a laborer living at No. 67 Meade street, committed suicide yesterday morning by taking poison.

Wallace Held for Court—Harry Wallace, charged with the larceny of $50 from his roommate, Fred Valentine, in a Braddock boarding house, was held for court yesterday.

Homestead Without Water—The supply of water in Homestead gave out yesterday, the pumps not having been started since the high water as repairs are not completed.

Will Meet Friday Night—The American Republican club will hold a meeting Friday night. The high water last Saturday prevented the regular monthly meeting from taking place.

St. Patrick's Celebration—St. Patrick's day will be celebrated both at Braddock and East Pittsburgh. J. E. Burke will speak in Braddock and Edward F. Duff at East Pittsburgh.

New School for Munhall—Munhall borough council realizes that there will not be room enough in the schoolhouse next term for the children and has decided to build a two-story brick school of 12 rooms to cost about $40,000. Work will be commenced about June 1.

Committed for Burglary—Harry E. Sullivan, arrested because the police have strong suspicions that he is a burglar and has entered many houses in the East End, was held for court yesterday by Police Magistrate Bernard McKenna on three charges of entering houses with intent to commit a felony.

Slept on the Track—James Wallace of the South Side got drunk and went to Allegheny. Instead of retiring properly he laid down on the tracks of the Ft. Wayne railroad. A policeman saved him from being a subject for the coroner and Police Magistrate Henry Hunneshagen sent him to jail for 48 hours to get sober.

Burglar Won the Race—Thomas Webb of Munhall discovered a burglar in his house yesterday morning. About the same time the burglar discovered Mr. Webb. The burglar ran with a bundle of clothing, and Webb ran after him, clad in a single garment and without shoes. They raced for half a mile, but the burglar was the winner.

Car Cleaner Killed—Joseph Pika, a car cleaner on the Panhandle railroad, was struck by a train in the yards at Sheraden yesterday afternoon and fatally hurt. He was taken to the West Penn hospital, where he died in five minutes. One arm was crushed and his skull was fractured. He was a married man, 55 years old and lived at Sheraden.

Abused His Daughter—Nichola Dara of No. 50 Bedford avenue was sent to the workhouse for 90 days for abusing his daughter. Some time ago Dara's wife died, so he established a boarding house. The girl, 14 years of age, and afflicted with curvature of the spine, had to do all the work and besides go out and beg, so that her father could be supported in idleness. The Humane society prosecuted him.

Storekeepers Heavily Fined—Alderman John Groetzinger heard three oleomargarine violation cases yesterday afternoon brought by agents of the state pure food commission. John Messner of No. 415 Market, city, and S. G. McCutcheon of No. 819 Wood street, Wilkinsburg, were each fined $100 and costs, while the decision in the case of John Diem of No. 525 Rebecca street, Wilkinsburg, was withheld till March 7 at 10 a. m.

Injured by Kicking Horse—Herman Ivory, driver of a baker's wagon, was kicked by one of his horses in Braddock yesterday and seriously injured. He dropped his pencil in getting off the wagon, and when he stooped for it the horse kicked him on the head. Joseph Vierheilig, 10 years of age, of No. 135 Fourth street, Braddock, was kicked in the face by a horse being exercised on the street. The boy is disfigured for life.

Aged Man Severely Burned—An aged foreigner, who kept a photograph gallery under a tent at Thirteenth street and Braddock avenue, Braddock, was burned out last night by his gasoline lamp exploding. The old man, who cannot speak English, was severely burned. It is likely the Braddock authorities will send him to the county home, as he is about 72 years old and unable to make a living, now that his business has been destroyed.

Contesting a Seat—Rankin Democrats have started to contest the coincidence seat of Edgar Bowlan, a Republican elected recently, on the ground that he is not a resident of the borough. Democrats are struggling hard for control of the borough council, which they believed they had. Christopher Fisher was elected president of council, and then voted with the Republicans, when the Democrats expected his support. If the Bowlan contest results in a Democratic victory, council will be deadlocked. The battle last Tuesday night is looked upon as the opening skirmish in a long and bitter fight.

Twenty-Pound Baby Born—The wife of Andrew A. Schilling, a barber of Braddock, living at No. 21 Holland avenue, gave birth to a baby boy weighing a little over 20 pounds about noon yesterday. It is said by physicians in Braddock who are well read on such cases that this breaks the record for heavy babes. Dr. William T. Morgan, who is attending Mrs. Schilling, says the mother is in good health, and the child is a perfectly healthy and well-formed one.

Servant Died Suddenly—Rebecca Bushrod, a colored woman whose home is at No. 51 Fountain street, Allegheny, died suddenly last night at the residence of Harry Biggs in Lafayette avenue, Allegheny, where she was employed as a servant. While on her way home she met her employer and told him she was sick, and he took her home with him and sent for a physician. She had been ill for some time with asthma and heart trouble and the doctor could do little for her. She was a married woman, 35 years old.

Fugitive Son Caught—Patrick Toomey is under arrest. Three weeks ago Toomey's father, who lives at No. 3237 Juliet street, reported to the police that his son Patrick was missing, as was also $450 that had been saved to pay off the mortgage on the home. Patrick was arrested in Allegheny and was having what is termed "a good time" in the lower wards. He was arrested for firing a pistol and when he said he had $250 concealed in his room the police became suspicious. Toomey has been turned over to the Pittsburgh police, but the $250 he said he had was not found.

Body in an Ore Bin—A Hungarian laborer at the ore bins of the Carrie furnaces, Rankin, was nearly frightened to death yesterday by the body of a man falling into his barrow when he went to fill it with ore. The body was that of George Roman, 32 years of age, married, and with a wife and four children living in Baltimore street, Rankin. How the body got into the ore bin is a mystery. Roman was employed on the ore dump trestle on Tuesday. There was not a mark on the body. It is supposed that while he was dumping ore he slipped into the bin and was covered with the fine ore.

Planning Benefit Dinners—The Ladies' of the Grand Army of the Republic have arranged for dinners and entertainments at Old City hall next week for the benefit of the home this organization is maintaining at Hawkins Station. The days fixed upon are Wednesday and Thursday, March 12 and 13. Dinner will be served each day from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m., and a lunch will be given from 8 p. m. to 11 p. m. Every effort will be made to have these dinners suitable for the business men of the city. The home at Hawkins is sustained by the efforts of this organization alone, and gives shelter to many aged mothers and widows of the soldiers of the civil war.

Views of Jacksonville—The chamber of commerce will hold its last regular meeting of the year this afternoon. Yesterday there was received from the Jacksonville (Fla.) Relief association a large picture or pictures of the city after its baptism of fire on May 3, 1901. The chamber of commerce responded promptly to the cry for assistance with a large sum of money raised through the benevolent citizens of the city. With the picture, which is a series of five views in a massive oak frame nearly 6 feet long, came a letter stating that an insignificent sum of money remained in the association's treasury which was devoted to sending these memorials to the cities rendering assistance.

Told of China and Siam—Mrs. H. C. Campbell addressed the regular monthly meeting of the Young People's branch of the missionary societies of the presbyteries of Pittsburgh and Allegheny in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church, Wood street, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Campbell is a missionary returned from Laos, Siam, and her talk was on the people and conditions in that country. Miss Hawes, a missionary from China, also spoke. Mrs. U. S. Bartz of Crafton and Miss Nannie M. Holliday of Wilkinsburg were appointed delegates to attend the annual meeting of the Philadelphia board, which is to be held in Cleveland, April 29 to 23. Miss Grace Fullwood and Miss Lydia K. Murdoch were named as delegates to the annual meeting of the society to be held in the First church, Allegheny, March 27 and 28.

New Police and Firemen—The civil service board met in the recorder's office yesterday to consider the papers of the applicants for positions in the bureaus of police and fire. The following were put on the eligible list of policemen: Charles A. Dailor, Lawrence E. Glenn, Horner E. Crooks, Joseph C. Gildernew, James Barnett, Walter S. Graham, Irwin T. Kennedy, Charles H. Pender, James A. Moon, Joseph Williamson, Charles Potter, Robert Wallace, John D. Kenney, George H. Shearer, James Potter, S. J. Francis, Louis J. House, Michael J. Murphy, Edward Woods, James Atkins and P. J. Cunningham. Applicants put on the eligible list in the fire bureau were: Joseph H. Weaver, William J. Lordan, Albert E. Schiffer, Alfred Bridge, John Enright, John H. Brocks, Charles A. Jackson, William Purcell, John Perry, John T. Mahoney and Claudie Wilkey.

ABOUT CATARRH CURES.

The Reason Why Inhalers and Local Applications are Useless.

For many years catarrh was considered to be a local disease and was treated entirely by local remedies, salves, ointments, powders, sprays and inhalers, and nearly all of these gave a temporary relief, but a genuine, permanent cure was very rare.

It is true the most annoying symptoms, like stoppage of the nose and throat trouble, are purely local, but they are simply symptoms and the real cause of disease is far removed.

Catarrh is a constitutional disease, a blood disorder, complicated usually with disease of the liver, and to suppose that local applications of sprays, powders, inhalers, could ever reach the real cause of the trouble is ridiculous.

The sensible and successful treatment is to remove the catarrhal poison from the system by regulating the liver and purifying the blood, and this can only be done by an internal remedy, which should consist of antiseptics and remedies to act vigorously on the blood and liver.

The best preparation of this kind which fills all the requirements of a safe constitutional treatment is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, composed of Blood Root, Red Gum and similar wholesome antiseptics, which are absolutely safe to take into the stomach and which act upon the liver, stomach and mucuous membrane.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large, pleasant-tasting lozenges to be slowly dissolved in the mouth, thus reaching the mucous membrane and windpipe and finally reaching the stomach.

Dr. Edmondson in speaking of the new treatment for catarrh says: "I have accomplished the most satisfactory results in all forms of catarrh of the head, throat, bronchial tubes, as well as catarrh of the stomach and liver by using nothing else but Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. I long since threw aside sprays and inhalers as being inconvenient, and at the best mere temporary makeshifts."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets act immediately upon the liver and blood and clear the whole system of catarrhal poison. They are pleasant and very convenient to use, and they are not only the latest, but I believe them to be the best and certainly the safest treatment for any form of catarrh."

TWELVE PAGES

Flood and Snow Records.

In 1884, the year of the greatest flood since 1832, occurred the greatest recorded fall of snow in 24 hours in Pittsburgh. The flood of Saturday and Sunday last was a close second to that of 1884. The snowfall of yesterday almost equaled 1884's snowfall, and holds the record next after it. The great flood of 1884 reached its maximum on February 6, with 33.3 feet of water, while the snowfall preceded it by almost a month, occurring on January 8, the depth of snow being 16.5 inches. The maximum stage of water recorded during the flood of this year was 32.4 feet and the fall of snow yesterday was 15 inches. As the ground had been well cleared of preceding snows by the thaw that caused the recent flood there would be little reason to apprehend a renewal of the flood disasters, but for the continued high stage of the water and the circumstance that the present snow may pass off rapidly. The railroads, the traction lines and the public suffered severely yesterday. The railroad and traction managers barely recovered themselves after the water blockade of Saturday and Sunday when they were confronted by the snow blockade. But it was attacked so vigorously that by last night all traction lines were again running, except in McKeesport, where there was trouble with the mayor over the cost of removing the snow, and the traction company stopped work in consequence. As the snowfall extended over a wide area of country the railroads are badly hampered in all directions. But the storm's force was soon spent and the accumulation of snow will be quickly pushed out of the way, though there will remain for all the apprehension of what may happen when it melts. The storm was practically unheralded in this section, and as a consequence no one was prepared to greet so much weather of the kind that presented itself when the community awoke from its slumbers yesterday morning. The weather bureau had on Tuesday afternoon predicted rain, and Tuesday night merely wabbled a little, predicting that there would be either rain or snow. Had rain come in a volume equal to that of the snow when melted there would have been worse trouble than was experienced.

He Will Be Disappointed.

It is too bad to be obliged to disappoint John J. Lentz of Ohio, but really the United States cannot annex the Dominion of Canada just now, not even by way of expressing disapproval of England's war in South Africa. Mr. Lentz is an ex-congressman, but when he was a member of the house of representatives he was very much opposed to the military operations of the United States in the Philippine islands. He was so violently opposed to war that it did not matter to him how the Filipinos would be oppressed if America left them to their fate, or whether any other nation would feel it incumbent to step in and restore order and annex the islands. In a case where the United States possessed undoubted rights, Mr. Lentz was quite sure that we should relinquish those rights, but he does not hesitate to aver that we ought to intervene in a quarrel which is none of our business at all. Not long ago a Nova Scotia member of the dominion parliament proposed to annex the United States to Canada. He and the Ohio ex-representative ought to be given a room to themselves and allowed to fight it out.

The Borough Legislators.

The annual reorganization of the various borough councils has been effected, and the men who legislate for the embryo towns have taken up the duties imposed upon them when they were elected. There was a time when the position of borough councilman required little exercise of brains or energy, but the progressive spirit of the past few years has made a radical change. Now the man who undertakes the task of legislating in the interest of such a community finds that there is much to do.

So long as citizens of boroughs were satisfied with muddy streets and sidewalks, the absence of light at night, the lack of sewers, and relied upon pumps and wells for a water supply, the councilmen were almost lay figures, the transaction of routine business of minor importance being all that was required of them. The desire and ensuing demand for improvements changed all this, and the position of borough councilman became one beset with difficulties in devising ways and means to secure the desired conditions. Bond issues and readjustment of tax levies to meet expenditures severely tested the capabilities of the councilmen and placed upon them a heavy weight of responsibility, necessitating the exercise of more discretion in electing men to such positions. The result was a calling out of incapables and the rehabilitation of the borough councils by the infusion of new blood, new ideas and new methods, and that the change has been greatly for the better is shown in the remarkable progress of the boroughs in recent years. Paved sidewalks and streets, sewerage systems, water works and electric light plants have become characteristics of the progressive boroughs, and the credit for these improvements is in a great measure due to the men who legislate for such communities.

Encouraging the Merchant Marine.

Senator Frye arrayed some very weighty facts in favor of the bill to encourage the American merchant marine, in his speech supporting that measure. Advocates of the doctrine of protection—the application of which has enabled the United States to reach the present commanding position in the world's industrial affairs—will agree with him that the logical result has followed the lack of protection to the shipping interests of this country. Other nations have seized the pathways of ocean commerce. It is also worth while noticing, too, that countries which do not adhere to the protection doctrine nevertheless perceive the necessity for fostering their shipping. It appears from Senator Frye's statements that of all the steamships in the world of 14 knots and upward, 80 per cent are subsidized by the countries whose flags they carry; and that there are only six ships in the world of 16 knots and upward that are not heavily subsidized. If nations with far less commerce than the United States find it necessary to encourage their merchant marine, it would appear that the vast foreign trade of this country ought not to be made to depend upon carriage in foreign vessels.

Newspaper Government.

District Attorney Jerome's tirade will not do the newspapers any harm. If there is one man holding a public office in New York city who owes his position to the moral influence exercised by newspapers on popular opinion that individual's name is Jerome. The newspapers gave him his opportunity. He was quick to seize it, use it and make the most of it. He is his own press agent, and a very successful one he has proved himself to be. He has the defects of his qualities. He is clever, audacious, ubiquitous; but he is sensitive, dogmatic, unreflective. He has not exasperated public feeling very deeply yet, because his eccentricities of speech and methods have been regarded as the excessive zeal of a young man in a hurry—in a hurry to do good. Mr. Jerome declared in his speech that he has read a good deal about anarchy, but he has not evidently assimilated the social and historical lessons it conveys to less versatile minds, or he would not so unqualifiedly have expressed his predilection for government by assassination to government by journalism, if any such political autocracy by the press were possible.

Mr. Jerome, it seems, has a grievance against the newspapers. They tried to fix responsibility for a great public disaster and in doing so condemned the grand jury for not recommending action against the heads of the New York Central railway. The press, says Mr. Jerome, did not know the facts. They knew as much about the facts as it was possible to discover from a thorough investigation. It is possible that they may have made a mistake. But it is just as likely that the district attorney and the grand jury were mistaken in their conclusions. That, however, is a matter of opinion. The question is, "Who set up Mr. Jerome as a censor of the press?" As a private individual he has a right to his opinions. But he was not speaking simply as a citizen at the Aldine association dinner, but as the chief public prosecutor of New York, whose official action in a particular instance had been criticised. His denunciations might be accepted for what they were worth, so far as they covered a particular instance which he personally resented. But when a man in his place goes so far as to compare a great public institution to an organization marching through rapine and murder to the overthrow of society, he displays neither common sense nor ordinary responsibility for his words.

The Time of His Life.

The Herr Prinz, according to his own statement, is having the time of his life. With becoming modesty he acknowledged that he was of much more importance in this country than in Germany. When somebody asked him the perennial question a day or two ago: "How do you like America?" he made reply in the idiomatic American expression mentioned above. He is having the time of his life, because, as he confided to his questioner, in Germany he doesn't count for much, since there they use him only to send to funerals.

Of course this is not literally true. Prince Henry has been used a great deal in recent years in more lively functions than funerals. It may be doubted, however, if the kaiser's brother has ever been used to better advantage for the German empire than he is being used now, even though the advantages may not be apparent to Herr Gradnauer, who expressed his discontent in the reichstag. Herr Gradnauer is a Social Democrat, who declared that it required ingenuity to expect any improvement in the relations between Germany and the United States to result from such a journey. Count von Buelow deeply regretted the remarks of Herr Gradnauer, and pointed out that no political effect was expected from the journey of the emperor's brother save the natural one of maintaining the good relations that had existed between Prussia, Germany and the United States since the days of the great Frederick and the great Washington.

That effect is certainly a most desirable one, and the emperor's brother could not be put to a more satisfactory use than to aid in maintaining a friendship begun so long ago, and which is much more important to both par now than it was in the beginning.

Recorder J. O. Brown on Tuesday night returned to Pittsburgh from Florida. "And the next day it snew." During the snowstorm Senator Flinn returned to Pittsburgh from a sojourn at Atlantic City. Only this and nothing more.

While the elevated railways are a dead issue and do not figure at this time it will do no harm to point a moral by noting that all the arguments advanced by the Press against the taxation of the franchises of the traction companies might have been used with at least equal justice against taxation of the elevated railway franchises. But they were not. The Press isn't even in favor of assessing the traction lines 5 per cent on their net receipts. The argument that a thing is a greater favor to the people than to the interest asking the favor is not a good ground for exemption from taxation. If it were a host of people who now pay taxes might escape payment. The public service corporations which use public property can as well afford to pay for their exclusive privileges as can the man who puts up a building and opens a store, or who adds a manufactory to the industries of a community, asking no exclusive privilege, receiving no public favors and taking all the risks of business.

While the familiarity of the Times with councilmanic holdups may entitle its remarks on such subjects to the respect that is due expert testimony, it is not to be overlooked that its unfamiliarity with reform is such that the difference between reform and a holdup may not be readily apparent to it. Therefore, when it sees a holdup instead of reform in the blockade of the street railway ordinances in common council we are forced to the conclusion that its expert is reasoning from his knowledge of the past procedure of the Times' friends and doesn't know reform when he sees it, even when it happens on a Tuesday in February.

The prisoner over whose case a Kentucky jury engaged in earnest prayer doubtless had his faith in prayer very much shaken when he learned that the verdict was 18 years in the penitentiary.

Those people who were talking a few days ago about winter's "farewell demonstration" were hardly prepared to be taken at their word in such violent fashion.

Those less thrifty people who have not removed the mud of the last flood from their cellars may have an opportunity to kill two birds with one stone.

Servia's latest revolution seems to have had at least one unusual feature. There was some shooting done and one man was killed.

Mr. Bryan evidently finds that preaching politics at so much per head is more congenial as well as vastly more profitable.

Toledo, O., missed seeing the prince but managed to pull off quite a demonstration in honor of the passing train.

Official Washington needs a referee to settle its disputes about precedence. We suggest Mr. Wyatt Earp for the job.

Chicago spent $35 a minute for the prince, but proudly declares that she got her money's worth.

There should be some general movement made in government circles to deground hog this country.

GOTHAM IS ALMOST PARALYZED BY THE STORM

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, March 5.

Just as New York was preparing for its spring cleaning it got another blizzard. The weather forecaster said yesterday that it might rain or snow today, but he gave no intimation that seven or eight inches of snow would fall, and that on top of that would come a visitation of sleet calculated to prive the average New Yorker to ice creepers; but we have it. The city is buried completely in snow tonight, and walking is an operation only to be attempted with due circumspection and much trepidition. The official opinion is that it will prove to be a more destructive storm than either of the two we had in February, from the effects of which telegraph wires have been down for weeks and a score of cities about the country are partly under water. So paralyzing was the storm today that nothing had been heard about the removal of snow from the city streets by the contractors to whose lot that task falls. The snow from the other big storm had hardly been got out of the way when the present one began, and it is easily understood that the street cleaning officials are so tired that they hesitate to start in with the new job. From every indication New York will be a mess of slush and dirty snow for a week or two, unless a sharp thaw should set in that might help the weary snow shovelers. Of course all old New Yorkers are looking for another "big blizzard" every time it snows in March, and it would not surprise them if there were to be a complete blockade here before the storm ceases. This evening the prospects are not so bad, for the sleeting is not so severe as it was, and the official forecast is for fair weather tomorrow. Trains from suburban points have not had much trouble, and so far as is known commuters got home tonight without delay. Business throughout the city has been interfered with, and in some of the downtown streets where the snow is churned up into a compound as heavy and sticky as mortar, horses drawing heavy vehicles have had as hard a time as they had after the February storm. Take it all in all, weather conditions in the Metropolitan are just as uncomfortable as they possibly can be.

Praying for a Bishop's Conversion.

I think it was Sam Slick that said, "You can't allers tell what caliker will do next, and caliker don't allers know herself." Who would have thought of women praying for the conversion of two such prominent churchmen as Bishop Potter and the Rev. Dr. Rainsford of New York? But they are doing so over in Newark, N. J. It is the Women's Christian Temperance union which has been holding an all-day prayermeeting for the conversion of the bishop and the respected rector of St. George's, New York. Mrs. Sarah Blanchard, president of the local union, declared publicly that Bishop Potter has done more harm to the cause of temperance by his recent expression in regard to liquor than had been done by any man in 50 years. The bishop favors individual liberty in the matter of drinking, and Dr. Rainsford agrees with him. Now they are both being prayed for, whether they desire it or not.

No Regard for Passengers' Lives.

Two or three peculiar fatalities of a similar kind have happened on the Brooklyn "L" roads lately. A passenger steps to the edge of the platform to look for his approaching train, loses his balance, falls to the tracks and is killed. In one case the victim was stricken with apoplexy just as he reached the edge of the platform. Another man who was killed last week merely lost his balance. At an inquest last night the coroner's jury censured the railway company for not placing guards to prevent passengers falling off the platforms. It is not likely that these guards ever will be placed in position, because no one here heeds a coroner's recommendation; but it probably would save some lives were it done. Human life is held disgracefully cheap in this city.

Not Exactly a Calamity.

A consolatory reflection accompanying the news that Coney Island is shut off from the rest of the world by the snowstorm, is, who wants to go to Coney in this weather?

Excise Law and the Big Hotels.

It will be interesting to see whether District Attorney Jerome will venture to attack big hotels like the Waldorf-Astoria for alleged violations of the liquor laws. Dr. Parkhurst is thought to be back of the excise crusade that Mr. Jerome is about to begin, but no one supposed that Dr. Parkhurst wishes to place himself on record as interfering with the comforts of decent people, such as patronize the big hotels. In spite of the bellowings of demagogues, it is pretty generally understood that the excise law is obeyed in the town hotels, and that when liquor is sold on Sunday, or after 1 o'clock in the morning, it is in accordance with the rather elastic law that controls liquor selling in New York. There may be sensational proceedings in connection with the Waldorf, the Holland, the Imperial and some of the other big hotels; but if there are, they will only be in the nature of test cases, looking to the improvement of the laws relating to the liquor traffic. For some months there has been a growing impression in general that the Raines law is a fizzle, so far as proper regulation of liquor selling on Sundays and at night is concerned.

A Conflict Without End.

Improvements required in New York are far-reaching and miscellaneous. Comptroller Grout expects that the requests for bond issues this year will reach the tremendous total of $100,000,000. In his capacity as watchdog of the municipal treasury Mr. Grout says he expects to cut this sum down to $27,000,000. Gustave Lindenthal's estimate of $14,500,000 for bridges is one of these on which the comptroller has a chastening eye. The fight over appropriations is as old as legislation itself, and the experience in New York of each head of a department getting his claws on as much public money as he can reach is repeated in many other cities in the country. This was the matter that Mayor Van Wyck used to lose his not-too-angelic temper over at regular intervals.

Patrick Lying in Wait for Jones.

Whether or not it is true that Albert T. Patrick has exercised hypnotic power over Jones, the valet, it is evident that Jones does not like to face the defendant in the court room. Patrick wants to cross-examine Jones personally. He may be allowed to do it, although his counsel have not decided. If he should do so there will be a bad quarter of an hour for Jones. Patrick is full of vindictiveness against Jones, and looks forward to the pleasure of scarifying him if he can only get a chance at him.

Ship on Which Prince Will Depart.

The Deutschland is in New York harbor. She came in yesterday with some of her dead lights knocked out and the cabin in which Prince Henry is to ride across the Atlantic somewhat disfigured by a big wave last Sunday. The great liner is in the hands of the repairers and painters and will be as trim as a new pin by the time the prince is ready to start for his own country. The Deutschland will be taken over to the West Thirty-fourth street pier, where the Hohenzollern is now, as soon as she has been furnished up. The prince's suite of rooms is the most magnificent ever seen on a regular passenger vessel.

Ada Rehan Boards Ship for Europe.

Ada Rehan spent the day on the North river in a heavy fog. She is a passenger on the American liner Philadelphia on her way to Europe, where she intends to remain all summer. The weather was so heavy that the ship could not start on its scheduled time, 10 a. m., although all the passengers were aboard. She was tied up at her pier and remained there for several hours until the pilot deemed it safe to take her down the narrows to the open sea.

No Longer Hankers to Be Carved.

Dr. James Erwin Russell, the physician of Brooklyn who offered himself as a subject for vivisection a month ago, has withdrawn the proposition. According to one statement he even denied today that he ever made the offer to submit himself to the knife in the interests of science. The main thing is that he does not wish to be vivisected, and insists that it was all a mistake. Dr. Russell has the satisfaction of knowing that he created a sensation by his real or alleged offer, and if he had allowed himself to be placed upon an operating table for study by surgeons the possibility is that some highly respectable demonstrator would have found himself facing an indictment for manslaughter. No one can blame Dr. Russell for changing his mind.

Rogues' Gallery Unduly Padded.

Magistrate Steers of Brooklyn is taking steps to circumscribe the rogues' gallery. He threatens to arrest policemen who take prisoners to police headquarters and photograph them before their arraignment is made. He says that such action is a violation of the penal code. The magistrate also pays his respects to the so-called "third degree," which he stigmatizes as a relic of the dark ages. His point is that when a man's photo has been taken for the criminal record and the prisoner happens to be acquitted of the crime charged he suffers an irreparable injury by his portrait being in the possession of the police. The police say they always destroy the negative if the subject is acquitted, but the magistrate rather doubts this. Anyhow, he says the whole proceeding is illegal. Since the municipal administration came into existence a number of old-time privileges of the New York police are threatened, and if it keeps on a policeman will not be any bigger man than the mayor or a supreme court justice.

Lindenthal Won't Give Up.

After being buoyed up by hope of relief the unhappy creatures that are obliged to go to Brooklyn every evening are told that the proposal of Gustav Lindenthal to diminish the pressure at the Manhattan end of the big bridge is unconstitutional. The corporation counsel says that a loop must not be built at Center street. It would take up space that must not be infringed on, no matter how many people are smashed to death at the bridge entrance. So that ends it, and Mr. Lindenthal must try to think up something else. He says he will make traffic on the bridge comfortable and safe before he gives up, and every one wishes him luck.

Lyceum's Farewell Performance.

Annie Russell is to make a speech at the last night's performance at the Lyceum theater on the 20th of this month. She will deliver an epilogue written for the occasion by A. E. Lancaster. Immediately after the lights are out on that night, laborers will begin to dismantle the house, and in a few weeks the theater will be gone. The first lines spoken on the stage of this theater were delivered by E. H. Sothern. Daniel Frohman will begin work on his new Lyceum theater uptown at once, and expects to open next fall.

Pugs Quit Saloon Business.

Kid McCoy and his brother, Homer Selby, are both out of the saloon business in New York. The cafe at Fortieth street and Broadway, which was the original "Kid" McCoy resort, has been in the hands of others for some time, and Homer Selby's place in Harlem went out of existence. There are not so many pugilists running cafes in the Tenderloin as there were. Among those that have had saloons, but have dropped out, are James J. Corbett, John L. Sullivan, "Kid" McCoy, George Dixon and Joseph Walcott. Tom Sharkey still keeps his place going in East Fourteenth street, but he is in trouble. The police got after him the other day.

The Hohenzollern's Girl Mascot.

The crew of the Hohenzollern has acquired that new characteristic American institution a "mascot." It, or, rather, she, is a young girl named "Clara Schultz," who sells souvenirs aboard the yacht. Prince Henry bought a hundred postal cards off her on the first day of his visit to New York, and that was understood to give her the privilege of the deck. She does errands for the officers and makes herself useful in many ways, and is earning a respectable salary during the prince's stay in this country. Her father, Frederic Schultz, lost both arms and the sight of one eye in an explosion in Mexico some years ago, and Clara is the main support of the family. The father said today, with a touch of pride, in talking about his daughter: "Clara seems to be a child of luck. Always she makes her way like this. When we were in Berlin in 1892, every one made much of her. At the New York state convention at the McKinley nomination in 1896, to which I was a delegate, she was called the 'mascot' of the convention."

NEXT WEEK'S PLAYS.

An Excellent Bunch of Novelties and Some Old-Time Favorites Promised in the Local Theaters.

Maude Adams in J. M. Barrie's delightful comedy, "Quality Street," comes to the Alvin next Monday evening for a week's engagement. In this charming play Miss Adams has a character written especially for her delicate and appealing art. Both the critics and the public declare that she has never been seen in a part so thoroughly suited to her style and temperament. The supporting company is an admirable one. Seats on sale this morning. Those who have read Anthony Hope's wonderfully popular novel, "The Prisoner of Zenda," will welcome the announcement of Manager Davis of the stock company's production of those people at the Grand next week. The love of Rudolf for Flavia, as pure as the sunshine, and the dangers through which the man passed for the sake of the lovely princess, resulting very nearly in the sacrifice of his life, form one of the most romantic stories ever presented on the stage.

At the Bijou next week opening with matinee Monday, March 10, Thill & Kennedy's scenic production of "Yon Yonson" will hold the stage. Of all the dialect plays produced since the days of Emmett none has achieved such substantial and enduring success as "Yon Yonson," a Swedish comedy, which portrays a phase of contemporaneous life. This season the main role is being played by Knute Erickson.

Lincoln J. Carter's new romantic drama, "The Flaming Arrow," with Go-Won-Go-Mohawk, the only Indian actress in the world, in the title role, will be the attraction at the Empire theater next week. Mr. Carter has spared no expense in providing his attraction with a lavish amount of scenery. The settings are taken from actual scenes in the far west and are marvels of beauty and accurateness.

The Orpheum Show comes to the Duquesne theater next week with a record-breaking list of feature acts. The company includes McIntyre and Heath, Joe Welch, Elizabeth Murray, W. C. Fields, and the latest and greatest vaudeville sensation of the season, Ame. Consuela Tartajada, the Spanish beauty and dancer.

The attraction announced at the Academy of Music for next week is "The Dewey Extravaganza Company," which is rated as one of the best on the road, and a glance at the talent embodied in the company is sufficient to prove to the most skeptical that an excellent performance will be given.

Pittsburgh Orchestra.

Mr. Harold Bauer, a young man who has created more stir and enthusiasm in all his appearances in this country—last year and this—than any pianist since Paderewski, is the soloist at this week's orchestra concerts. Mr. Bauer was influenced to take up a public career as piano soloist by Mr. Paderewski, with whom he studied. At these concerts he will play the Saint-Saens concerto in G minor and a group of solo numbers by Liszt and Schubert. The instrumental numbers Mr. Herbert has chosen for this program are full of interest, including the "Scotch" symphony by Mendelssohn, the popular ballet music, "The Cid," by Massenet, and the Rakoczy march by Berlioz.

Art Society.

The fourth in the series of six lectures before the Art Society of Pittsburgh, given by Prof. Charles A. Zueblin of the University of Chicago, will take place this evening at 8:15 o'clock in the lecture rooms of Carnegie institute, Pittsburgh. The subject is "The Arts and Crafts Movement," and the lecture will be illustrated by stereopticon views. These lectures are free to the public, and everyone is welcome.

Triangle Club Performance.

In college dramatics Princeton has taken a foremost rank in recent years with its Triangle club, managed on lines similar to the Mask and Wig club of the University of Pennsylvania, but the Triangle club has taken the lead with original plays and now devotes itself to producing, staging and acting plays built right in Princeton. One of these, their best, "The King of Pomeru," will be given in Pittsburgh for the first time in the Avenue theater Friday evening with a matinee on Saturday afternoon.

WESTERN SUGAR INDUSTRY.

Eastern Capital Becoming Interested in Utah's Beet Product.

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, March 5.—Secretary Horace G. Whitney of the Utah Sugar Refining Company received word today from Manager T. R. Cutler in New York, stating that a deal for the sale of a half interest in the company had been closed. It is believed the American Sugar Refining Company is back of the deal. The amount involved is said to be about $1,300,000.

The advent of eastern capital in the western sugar industry will be followed by the erection of more factories in Utah and the development of the beet sugar industry on a large scale.

PERSONALS.

Ex-Congressman T. W. Phillips of New Castle, president of the industrial commission, is a guest of the Hotel Duquesne. Mr. Phillips says the final volume of the commission, finished last month, brings to a close one of the most interesting and instructive duties ever placed before a body of American citizens. "The commission," he said, "completed its work February 15 last, and the entire testimony will fill 19 volumes of most instructive reading for people of all nationalities, but particularly for our rising young Americans. We had before us representatives of every form of industry; we weighed the testimony pro and con relative to labor organizations, trusts, monopolies, and, in fact, every iota that has had or is having at present any connection with the various means of accumulating money. The 'sweat shops,' too, were not overlooked. We had the question sifted in a sieve where no grain was overlooked. Female labor was another feature thoroughly investigated and testimony taken from some of the most important women workers in the country. A comparison of American and European trusts, monopolies and organizations of similar kind has been made. All this multi-voluminous testimony, and investigation has been assorted under various heads, written in intelligible style, indexed and annotated, making, in my opinion, the only industrial compilation of this century worthy of note. It is accurate in every detail and immortal, because both sides of the question are given. It is a work that could be made a proper text-book for the American youth. Of course after the entire testimony had been taken and sifted the commission gave its opinion of some of the questions relative to its work. There were several recommendations made. All were important, but the one relative to trusts, considering the formative state of American industry at present, was probably the most important. The commission recommended that some means be taken to abolish the vicious practice of corporate organizations combining their interests to crush the small competitors. It urged that something be done to prevent at once a destructive form of competition such as is found in some trusts and monopolies. The commission holds that a combination does not enhance values, but practically reduces them. It holds, too, that an independent concern can manufacture better and show better results by personal supervision than by a supervision that embodies a whole combination or corporation. This is one of the most important recommendations made."

John Holodoz, a Greek emigrant, scarcely 13 years old, excited much attention at Union station last night by his peculiar garb, and more by his apparent helplessness. The boy was picked out of a train containing 350 emigrants from various European countries. He could not speak a word, nor even by sign make known his destination. He finally drifted into the main waiting room and cried himself to sleep. At 8 o'clock he was taken to the police station, where but small comfort was given. He was rushed out in the cold and finally landed in a saloon in Diamond street, where a few of his countrymen were found. It developed that the boy was "planned," as the emigrant agents say, to 15 others of his race. He was destined for No. 23 Madison street, New York. He strayed away from his companions and fell asleep in an emigrant train which brought him into this city yesterday. Local Passenger Agent E. W. McCort turned him over to the proper officials and he will be taken back to New York.

The Hotel Lincoln threw open its doors yesterday after being closed since Saturday last. The popular hostelry has been retouched and has hardly a mark of the recent high tide. The regular patrons of the house returned and the register last night showed quite a few out-of-town people who are attending the bench show. The proprietor, F. A. Brobst, returned from Hot Springs yesterday.

The Allegheny County Laundrymen's association met last night at the Hotel Henry. It was stated that the meeting was of a purely business nature and had no thought of considering the forming of another rate system.

P. A. Burkhart of Basle, Switzerland, is a guest at the Hotel Lincoln. Mr. Burkhart belongs to the Swiss nobility.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

Duquesne—E. G. Burt, Huntingdon, Pa.; W. J. Breens, Oil City; R. D. Gibbons, Uniontown.

The Rev. Dr. L. Naumburg.

The Rev. Dr. L. Naumburg, rabbi of the Jewish Reformed church of Pittsburgh from 1865 to 1870 and father of Mrs. Josiah Cohen, wife of Judge Cohen of the orphans' court, died yesterday at the home of his son in New York city. Dr. Naumburg was well known in Pittsburgh as a scholar and was popular in church circles while here. About 15 years ago he moved to New York, where he made his home with his sons and carried on his religious work, having the confidence of all denominations in that city as a man of culture and refinement. Dr. Naumburg was a native of Treuchlingen, Bavaria, where he was born 80 years ago. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Cohen and Mrs. Henrietta Rosenberg, and two sons, Max and Arnold Naumburg, business men of New York city.

John McIvor.

John McIvor, 81 years old, a well-known resident of Hazelwood since 1861, died at his home, No. 99 Flowers avenue, Hazelwood, early yesterday morning. He had been ailing since Christmas with a complication of diseases. Mr. McIvor was born in County Tyrone, Ireland, and 41 years ago came to Pittsburgh. For many years he was in business in Hazelwood and was an organizer of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd, Hazelwood, with which he was connected at the time of his death. He is survived by four daughters—Mrs. James Patterson, Mrs. Frank Tournay, Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. John Connelly.

O. C. Dewey.

WHEELING, W. VA., March 5.—(Special.)—O. C. Dewey, a relative of Admiral George Dewey, and a pioneer in the cut-nail business in Wheeling, which he saw expand until this city manufactured three-fourths of the entire product of the United States, died today, aged 68. The big Riverside plant, employing 5,000 men, is the outgrowth of his three puddling furnaces started in the 50's. He spent 2½ years in travel. He was a connoisseur in art and music, and his collection of rare books, paintings and curios is one of the most valuable and comprehensive in the country.

Mrs. Kieran O'Hanlon.

Mrs. Catherine O'Hanlon, 70 years old, wife of Kieran O'Hanlon, died yesterday at her home, 1230 Buena Vista street, Allegheny. Mrs. O'Hanlon was the mother-in-law of Walter Mond, freight agent of the Panhandle railroad, and of John Grant, who holds a like position with the West Penn railroad.

Leonard Lewisohn.

LONDON, March 5.—Leonard Lewisohn, the banker, of New York, and formerly president of the United Metals Selling Company, died from pneumonia today at the residence of his son-in-law, Charles Henry, in this city.

Obituary Notes.

Mrs. Charlotte Sherwin, 24 years old, wife of George Sherwin, died yesterday at the family home, Talbot avenue and Second street, Braddock, of pneumonia. She was a member of the First United Brethren church.

Mrs. Mary Cotter Means, 79 years old, widow of William Means, is dead at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas F. Day, No. 126 St. James street, East End. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Fannie C. Baker, 82 years old, an aunt of City Controller Joseph E. Lewis, is dead at her late home, No. 137 Eureka street, South Side. Mrs. Baker was born at the Point and lived in Pittsburgh all her life. She is survived by two sisters and one brother.

What the Editors Are Discussing

THE STATE PRESS.

The sure harbinger of spring has made its appearance at last. Snake stories have begun to be published in the rural press.—Sharon Telegraph.

Republicans of Dauphin county will put a ticket in the field this year which will be acceptable to all good citizens. That little affair on February 18 was unpleasant, but not serious.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Some of the Democratic newspapers think Bryan should sacrifice himself for the benefit of the party. Inasmuch as the party has twice sacrificed itself for the benefit of Mr. Bryan, the demand is less unreasonable than might seem at first glance.—Titusville Herald.

The recent verdict against Duquesne borough, in which damages were awarded to the victim of a fall on a street, whether or not it is sustained by a higher court, ought to be a warning to all municipalities to keep sidewalks and roadways in good shape.—McKeesport News.

The Republican committee of Venango county yesterday adopted resolutions presenting the name of the Hon. Joseph C. Sibley as a candidate for governor. They say they do so "with his assent." If such is the case there is likely to be some political fences that will soon need repairing.—Titusville World.

The Pittsburgh Times in a semi-jocular way is trying to make believe that the recent election in that city, like Rip Van Winkle's last dram, "doesn't count." But Rip got one in the end that put him to sleep for 20 years. The Flinn-Brown "ripper" slumber may not be so protracted, but it will do a power of good anyhow.—Uniontown Genius.

From an economic standpoint Pittston is certainly to be pitied. With her treasury empty, a $10,000 shyness in liquor license revenue, and about $12,000 smallpox bills to pay now comes the destruction of a culvert and street by flood calling for at least $7,000 more. Worst of all, the limit of taxation has been reached. Statesmanship in Pittston evidently has before it a brilliant opportunity.—Scranton Tribune.

One of the most absorbing questions that is being discussed just now by the people of Blairsville is whether or not the Hamilton glass factory will be rebuilt. Every one earnestly hopes, of course, that this flourishing industry will again become a factor in the town's prosperity, but the general concensus of opinion is that the fire of last Saturday will cause the permanent abandonment of the works at this place.—Blairsville Courier.

Today McKeesport is a community of nearly 60,000 people, about 40,000 of which reside in the corporate limits. Within a two-mile radius of the Times office there are today 80,000 people, and within a five-mile radius about 125,000 souls. The whole district is growing so rapidly that in a few years this population will be doubled. The city should awake to these conditions and prepare to meet them.—McKeesport Times.

McKeesport is making a determined fight for a public building. We sincerely hope that McKeesport gets that building, for it cannot get it until the New Castle bill has been passed. Our representatives have been assured that New Castle shall come before any other city in Pennsylvania.—New Castle Herald.

IN THE SMALL TOWNS.

Have patience, spring is coming. The writer saw three robins last Thursday morning and they were not blue jays or any other kind of birds, but large, fat robins.—Conneaut Post-Herald.

With revival services in two churches, a lecture in another, a good play at the opera house and a party or two on, last evening was pretty comfortably full.—Waynesburg Times.

Chicken thieves have been operating in the north end of town the past week or ten days, and in all nearly 200 chickens have been taken from different people. The people who have been victims of the depredators are determined to put a stop to the operations of the chicken thieves, and detectives have been employed to hunt up the guilty parties, who will be vigorously punished if discovered.—Butler Times.

The police, who have been called upon on several occasions recently to end the career of dogs which were biting children, will probably be in demand to protect the children of Gilfillan avenue from the attacks of a savage rooster of white leghorn breed. The bird has all of the blind courage of the game cock, and during the past two or three weeks has savagely attacked little girls who pass the house, flying over the fence and striking them with its spurs about the legs and doing his best to fly in their faces and pick at their eyes.—Oil City Derrick.

What came near being a tragedy occurred in a Second ward residence last evening. The head of the house announced that he was going to take a bath. The man not being heard from, a search was instituted about an hour later, which resulted in his being dragged out of the sediment which has been run into the tub with the city water. Our informant, who is considered an ordinarily truthful man, says this story is positively true.—Meadville Tribune.

The sure harbinger of spring has made its appearance at last. Snake stories have beg

CENTRAL POINT FOR OMNIBUSES IN LONDON CITY

PLACES OF NOTE NEAR

Not Geographically the Middle of Town, but Important Starting Point—Teachers Who Tour Europe Will Go There.

There is probably no point in London more widely known or more frequently mentioned in the public prints than Charing Cross. At the time of the Plantagenets, the village of Cherringe occupied this spot, and from it the present name is by many, supposed to be derived, while others are equally convinced that the chere reine of the first Edward is commemorated by it. However this may be, whether it owes its name to a defunct queen, or a mediaeval village is a matter of greater importance to the historian than to the traveler, for whom the mystery enshrouding a name is of less consequence than the present functions of a locality.

Charing Cross is important to the tourist because it is the principal intersecting point of the omnibus lines. It is the center of the four-mile cab radius, as well as of the postoffice and police circles. Its proximity to the parks, palaces, clubs, offices of state, principal theaters and galleries of art makes it the most notable center west of the temple memorial as the bank is east of it. The new road, leading past the national gallery, called Charing Cross road, intersecting the recently constructed Shaftesbury avenue, and affording a wide and convenient thoroughfare to Oxford street and the northern and western suburbs, enhances the significance of Charing Cross as a rendezvous or initial point. When, in 1874, the town domain of the duke of Northumberland was purchased by the metropolitan board of works for £497,000 to give place to the broad avenue which bears his name, an era of architectural improvement was inaugurated which renders this one of the most notable features of London. Geographically Charing Cross is as important as a starting point as the bank or London bridge.

The teachers who are to tour Europe next summer as guests of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph will want to get to Charing Cross and from there to various parts of the most interesting city in the world.

Rules of Voting Contest.

Ballots must be filled out with full name of teacher, school where employed, town and county; those at each series must be sent in before midnight of the 15th and last day of each month. The party will be composed of 25 teachers; 12 from Pittsburgh and Allegheny; six, Allegheny county outside of the cities; seven from outside of Allegheny county. All expenses will be borne by The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph and each member of the party will receive $50 in cash. The tour will occupy more than six weeks and cover the most interesting portions of England, Scotland, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Switzerland and France. Contest closes May 31. Ballot is printed on second page each issue and attention is directed to conditions printed thereon.

PLANS FOR AN INSTITUTE.

Primary and Junior Bible School Teachers Will Hear an Interesting Program.

Arrangements have been completed for the annual institute of the Pittsburgh Primary and Junior Bible School Teachers' association next Saturday in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church, Wood street. There will be morning and afternoon sessions, the following being the program arranged at a meeting yesterday afternoon:

Devotional exercises, Mrs. F. B. Johnston; "Words of Cheer," W. C. Lilley; conference, led by Miss Alice Hamlin and Mrs. Clara Glasser, Mrs. Samuel Hamilton, Miss Ida J. Lloyd and Miss Alice B. Barnett; mothers' meeting, Mrs. Frank Osborne; eastern songs and suggestions, Mrs. M. C. Scidell, Mrs. A. H. Joliy; "Why am I Looking Forward to the Summer School?" Mrs. John W. Keltz; "From a Boy's Standpoint," Dr. Lloyd E. Wright of New York.

The institute is intended for all who have the training of children in charge, including mothers, teachers, Sunday school workers, and everyone whose lives come in touch with the little ones. The speakers and the teachers who will participate in the institute are men and women widely acquainted with the children's field. The committee of arrangements have been encouraged by the good work of former institutes, and say that this one will be the most interesting yet held.

TRIBUTES TO DR. THOMAS.

Memorial Services Held at the West Penn Medical College.

Memorial exercises commemorative of the life and services of the late Dr. J. D. Thomas, a member of the board of trustees, and also a member of the faculty of the Western Pennsylvania Medical college, were held yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the amphitheater of the college building, Brereton avenue and Thirtieth street. They were of a decidedly impressive nature.

The faculty was largely represented and the attendance of students and friends filled the hall. The principal address was made by Dr. John Milton Duff, who had been associated with Dr. Thomas for 32 years. Dr. S. A. Hunter of the South Side made the invocation, and the music was furnished by the medical students. The services were under the direction of Acting Chancellor John A. Brashear of the Western University of Pennsylvania.

SOCIETY

THE Kingsley House association expects to reap 500 whole silver dollars from the lecture given on Monday evening by William Jennings Bryan. It was conducted under the auspices of the Collegiate Alumnae association. The arrangements were that the lecturer receive half the receipts of the entertainment and pay half the cost of the printing. All other bills, which included the rent of the hall, $25, were paid by the Kingsley House association.

Yesterday the heating apparatus for the little conservatory, which is the gift of Henry Phipps, Jr., arrived, and work will immediately be commenced on the building, which in reality will be an extension of the broad hall and the enclosure of a side porch of Kingsley house. Miss Lippincott, the head resident, expects the work to be completed by the end of the month, so that if their friends remember them with flowers and plants the members of the Kingsley House Society Settlement will have an Easter display. The conservatory is a source of much interest to the people in the neighborhood, who are looking forward with delight to the event of its formal opening. Flowers are one of the greatest pleasures which come to them and which they appreciate most sincerely.

The founder of Kingsley house, the first social settlement in Pittsburgh, was the Rev. George Hodges, D. D., at that time rector of Calvary Protestant Episcopal church, and now dean of the Episcopal Theological school, Cambridge, Mass. Last evening Dr. Hodges made an address in connection with the annual meeting of Lowell house, a similar institution in New Haven, Conn. Prof. Henry Farnum of Yale university is the chairman of the council of Lowell house, and Dr. Teele the head worker. Lowell house provides a circulating library, a dispensary, public baths and classes in kindergarten, sewing, cooking, housekeeping, shorthand, the natural sciences and arts and crafts.

Neighborhood at homes and boys' clubs are features of the work of the settlement. A playground beside the house, which is open all summer, was last year enjoyed by 100 children daily. Lowell house is now conducting a tenement house investigation.

The settlement is carried on by voluntary subscriptions under the direction of Prof. Henry W. Farnum, chairman; the Rev. Alexander F. Irvine, secretary; H. M. Osborn, treasurer; Anson Phelps Stokes, Jr., John Currier Gallagher, Robert Hunter, Mrs. Frank C. Porter, Mrs. James Kingsley Blake and Mrs. Sarah S. Whittlesey.

A Tin Shower for the Bride.

Invitations have been issued by Mrs. Isabella McKinley for the marriage of her daughter, Elizabeth, and Howard Zacharias. The wedding will take place March 18, at the residence of the bride's mother in Rebecca street, East End. Miss McKinley is popular in the younger East End set. She is a graduate of the Pennsylvania College for Women, a member of the Shadyside United Presbyterian church and an active worker in all its auxiliary societies. Mr. Zacharias is a prominent young attorney.

Last evening a tin shower was arranged as a surprise to the young people. All their friends had been invited to meet at the home of Miss McKinley, and each was apprised that an article of tinware was necessary to complete the little farce. Friends scoured the city to discover something unique to add to the fun. One of Mr. Zacharias' friends managed to secure a piece of tinware almost large enough to fill a room, while the baby daughter of his law partner, Harry Diamond, sent a miniature tin tea strainer, wrapped in countless papers and containing the tiny card of Helen Majorie Diamond.

Princeton Theater Parties.

In the Sewickley valley there is much interest in the coming entertainments by the Princeton University Triangle club. Quite a number of Princeton families are located in the valley, and they are enthusiastically working for the success of the events. Many will attend the Saturday afternoon performance. A large number of parties have been announced. One of the largest will be given by the Yale men here, headed by the Rev. Maitland Alexander. Forty graduates of Yale have engaged seats to cheer the sons of Old Nassau. Some of the largest parties will be given by Mrs. James Hay Reed, Robert Pitcairn, John G. Jennings, John U. Hussey, A. Blaine Robinson, Mrs. J. W. Marsh, A. E. Pew, Miss Evans, W. M. Hall, Jr., B. F. Jones, Jr., Mrs. Gordon Fisher, B. Harvey Thompson and Miss Hussey. One box has been set aside for the speakers at the Princeton banquet, which will be held in the Hotel Schenley Saturday evening. Saturday afternoon a large number of delegates to the convention of the Western Association of Princeton clubs, will attend in a body.

Wedding Days.

The wedding of Miss Mary Erwin Brobst and John Bolton Ackley, whose engagement was announced a few weeks ago, will take place next Monday evening, March 10, at the residence of the bride's mother in Graham street. Miss Brobst is the daughter of Mrs. Catherine E. Brobst, and because of the recent death of her father the ceremony will be quietly performed and witnessed by only a few intimate friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lee Stitt of Lloyd avenue, Edgewood, have issued invitations for the marriage of their cousin, Miss Grace Watson Hood, and Thomas Hanna. The wedding will take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stitt on Thursday evening, March 20, at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Hanna and his bride will be at home on Saturdays after May 17, at their residence in Pacific avenue.

Committee Meetings.

The senior class of the school of Domestic Arts will be graduated this morning at 10:30 o'clock at the training school, Forbes and Halket streets. The exercises will be conducted by the service department of the Domestic Arts association, and an address will be made by Mrs. L. C. Barnes, chairman of the department.

This morning at 10:30 o'clock a meeting of the joint committee of Women's clubs will be held at the Twentieth Century club in the interest of the summer playgrounds.

A Series of Recitals.

Mrs. Ada S. Thomas has arranged a series of recitals to be given at her home in Denniston avenue on Monday afternoons in March, the first to be held next Monday at 4 o'clock. The program will be very good, representing the different classic and modern schools. Among those who will take part in the recitals are Mrs. Andrew Caster, Mrs. Edith Harris Scott, Mrs. Charlotte Keith, Mrs. Sorg, Miss Drave, Miss Bertha Denniston and Mrs. Thomas' daughter, Miss Thomas.

The Arts and Crafts.

Charles Zueblin, of the University of Chicago, last evening lectured in the Carnegie Institute under the auspices of the Art society. His subject was "The Arts and Crafts Movement," the fourth lecture in the series of six which he has been delivering fortnightly this winter.

Notes of Society.

Mrs. Charles W. Gerwig is spending a couple of weeks at Cambridge Springs.

Mrs. James R. Pearson of McKee place was hostess at a card party yesterday afternoon.

Home-made bread, puff paste, oyster patties and Napoleon tarts constitute the menu to be prepared this afternoon by the cooking class, under the direction of Edward Detlefs, at the Second Presbyterian church. The hours are from 2 o'clock until 4.

Miss Freda Ullman of Chicago is visiting her sister, Mrs. Emanuel G. Harris, Portland street, East End, and is at home Wednesdays and Sundays.

The Wednesday Card club was entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. George Stengel and Mrs. Gale French at Mrs. Stengel's home in Lehigh avenue, East End.

A large theater party was given yesterday at the Grand opera house by Dr. Shallenberger of Rochester, the party coming to the city in a special car and occupying seats in the parquet.

PRISCILLA'S PENCIL.

Went with Priscilla to a fudge party the other day. It was none of your imitation affairs, with "store" fudge, but a genuine old-timey thing, with home-made fudge of all kinds and degrees made in chafing dishes and molded into the balls and blocks which are the delight of the college girls. The guests were all college girls, and as several alma maters were represented, there was a bewildering variety of color in the room. Vassar's pink and gray shone in the rose-shaded silvery candlesticks; the purple and white of the Pennsylvania college was provided for by violets and with hyacinth sprays, and all the lesser lights had their banners present in the shape of knots floating from picture frame corners and from the shoulders of their different fair daughters. There were a dozen girls and a dozen chafing dishes—and a dozen kinds of fudge. Each girl made a different kind and some impromptu frills were indulged, which proved highly diverting when the time for testing (or tasting) came. One novelty which deserves note was chocolate fudge alternated with stripes of pink candy, resembling the famous delicacy in taste and consistency. It looked deliciously pretty when finished, and besides striping, some pieces were twisted and others hardened in initials of the girls present. A prize was given for the best, which was—oh, the loyalty of college girls—for chocolate fudge, the old-fashioned, familiar kind, which one always returns to as to a first love, after trying novelties. The prize happened to be a miniature chafing dish, constructed especially for the making of fudge, which will give a flavor of sweet memory to its use.

Easter Garters—

Though growing ancient in idea, come forth with new frills and equipments every year. Once there were yellow, and if worn by a bride were supposed to set other wedding bells ringing quickly, but now they are purple in all the varying shades of lilac and heliotrope, and must have gold buckles to be strictly up to date. They may be broad or narrow, but must have a rosette of baby width velvet ribbon, accentuating the orchid hue, and on the gold buckle must be engraven either the monogram, crest or favorite motto of the wearer.

Lenten Study—

Is highly approved by mammas who have young daughters, and this year there are several groups of girls who are devoting the Lenten mornings to the study and practice of French. A teacher goes to one of the houses and gives a class lesson of an hour or two; an hour of brisk conversation follows this, and then luncheon is served, where it is the rule to use only French phrases in asking for any viand or referring to the business of the day. With such earnestness in hand it is inevitable that the study shall be productive of profit as well as pleasure.

An East End Baby—

Who has a rag doll which is a wonder of construction is oblivious to the charms of the ordinary wax doll. Last week an indulgent uncle brought a beautiful bisque doll handsomely arrayed and presented it to her with injunction to be careful of it. She looked at its flaxen hair and satin frock in silence for a moment, then said, pursing up her rosy mouth: "Tan't she play horse and ball and Indian like Melissa Jane?" (Melissa Jane is the rag doll.) "I'm afraid not," said her uncle, whereupon she turned her back on the pink-frocked vision. "Tate her away," she commanded; "she ain't no good 'f she tan't play wis boys; she's a fraid-cat."

CURRENT MODES.

The swisses which have copied the form and coloring of leaf or flower appeal strongly by their daintiness to the feminine eye. Sometimes merely an occasional touch of color enlivens the pattern or the entire swiss may be in color. Decidedly chic is a white swiss overrun with a graceful vine of stem and leaves embroidered in black, with the cherry-like fruit in pale shades of blue. The design has also a convincing air of style with the fruit embroidered in buff, pink or lavender.

Daintily attractive is a pale blue swiss with small white dots sprinkled over the background and twin leaves in blue repeated over the surface. The design is shown in the various summer colors.

The Persian effects are among the patterns of arresting novelty. An ecru background, for example, is crossed by a fancy narrow stripe in black alternated with a wider stripe formed of odd figurings which look as if borrowed from a Persian rug in pink, green, lavender and red.

Decidedly novel, too, are the dotted swisses with hemstitched borders to be used as trimming. White dotted swisses have hemstitched borders in pale blue, pink or green. Dotted swisses in the dainty summer colorings also come with hemstitched border, and the fashionable white-and-black combinations are also in evidence.

HOUSEHOLD TIPS.

Plenty of rinsing is the need of dishes that come gray from the wash. The last rinsing water should be almost clean when the dishes come from it.

Boil lamp burners once in six weeks in strong soda water, and they will burn the better. Lamp wicks get dirty, and will give better light if occasionally heated to a boil in soda water.

Lamps will not be covered on the outside with soil if the wick is left turned down in them. The wick acts as a siphon to draw up the oil, which runs over on the glass.

To make gilt frames look "amalst as well as new," wash them with vinegar water, allowing one-quarter as much vinegar as water. Apply with a brush.

Scald bread jars twice a week and dry in the sun.

Try cleaning glass of windows and mirrors with a cloth moistened in kerosene. Rub again with newspapers.

Bamboo splits when it gets very dry, as it will in steam and furnace heated houses. A rub with oil will prevent its drying, and will keep it fresh looking.

Grass stains and berry stains may be removed from cloth by scalding with boiling water before anything else is done to them.

To keep brass, steel and nickel free from rust when not in use rub them over with a paste made of lime and water. To rub them over with kerosene will be found equally efficacious.

Eight-Club Schedule Adopted and Bolters' Names Not Mentioned.

INCREASE THE ADMISSION

Philadelphia Will Be the Only 25-Cent Town—Ban Johnson's Salary Was Given a Healthy Boost—Rules Not Launched Until Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

DETROIT, March 5.—By unanimous vote the magnates of the American league this afternoon adopted resolutions fixing the admission to the grounds in all cities except Philadelphia at 25, 50 and 75 cents for bleachers, pavilion and grand stand respectively and increasing President Ban Johnson's salary from $5,000 per year to $7,500. They also adopted the schedule for the season.

The morning session was devoted entirely to consideration of the schedules prepared by President Johnson and it was taken up again immediately after lunch and adopted. J. L. Kilroyle of Cleveland then offered a resolution increasing the price of admission to the grand stand in all cities except Philadelphia to 75 cents and providing for the erection of a pavilion in each city in which the admission should be 50 cents.

There Was a Kick Against the Change.

General admission to the bleachers was left at 25 cents as at present. As has always been the rule in the National league Philadelphia was excepted from this change of prices and the admission there left at 25 and 50 cents. The increase was opposed by the Detroit and Baltimore owners and a long debate ensued over the matter. Detroit and Baltimore were finally won over, however, and the resolution was unanimously adopted. Under the new arrangements the visiting club will get 12½ cents from each general or bleacher admission and 25 cents from each pavilion and grand stand admission.

The discussion of playing rules for next season was not reached today, but there seems to be a unanimous sentiment among the magnates in favor of readopting last year's rules comparatively without change and it is expected that this will be done tomorrow.

Tonight the club owners and the visiting newspaper men are the guests of President Postal of the Washington club and Messrs. Angus, McNamara, Doyle and Cook of the Detroit club at the Avenue theater.

Will Be No Change of Circuit.

When the subject of expansion of the American league or a change in the circuit was brought up President Johnson said:

"There will be no change in the American league circuit this year, of that I am certain. The matter will not be considered at the meeting as far as I know, more than informally."

It was after 1 o'clock when the first session adjourned. Instead of taking up the playing rules first, discussion of the schedule was immediately begun and the entire session was devoted to this. Several changes were made in the schedule as prepared by President Johnson.

CALLS THEM WONDERS.

Michigan Manager Thinks Well of Pittsburgh Hockey Teams.

MARQUETTE, MICH., March 5.—(Special.)—Manager Charles Webb of the Portage Lake hockey team, returned yesterday from Pittsburgh, where he arranged two games of hockey to be played by the Portage Lake and Pittsburgh hockey teams for the championship of the United States at the Palace ice rink, Hancock, on March 10 and 11.

Mr. Webb speaks enthusiastically of the strength of the Pittsburgh team and says Cartis is a wonderful aggregation. Portage Lake supporters of hockey will certainly see two great contests at Hancock. Even though the games may be lost by the local team, it will be fast and furious playing which promises to be thoroughly interesting. Mr. Webb stated that the Pittsburgh players were inclined to laugh at him when he first struck town for wanting to arrange games with the eastern champions, but they soon got that idea out of their heads when they were told what was in the copper country aggregation were.

Pittsburgh has "cleaned up" everything in hockey circles in the east and a greater part of Canada, and is now after the Winnipegs, who are said to be the champions of the world. The visitors will travel to copperdom with the best possible team they can pick up.

PILLSBURY STILL LEADS.

Napier Also Stands Well in the Big Tournament.

MONTE CARLO, March 5.—Of the eight adjourned and drawn games of the international chess masters' tournament, now in progress here, the committee ordered a number to be continued today. The start was made, as usual, at 9 a. m., and when an adjournment was called at 2 p. m. the following results had been attained: Wolf had beaten Popiel, Teichmann had defeated Tschigorin and Schlechter and Albin had drawn. The record up to date is as follows:

	Won.	Lost.
Albin	7½	8½
Ehrenberg	7½	12½
Gunsberg	9½	5
Janowski	11½	4
Marco	6½	10½
Marocsy	12½	5½
Marshall	11	5
Mason	7½	9½
Meiser	1	9
Mortimer	3	12
Napier	8	8½
Pillsbury	12½	3½
Popiel	6½	9½
Reggio	2½	13½

Tschigorin	6	8

ANOTHER FOR SHADYSIDE.

Game With W. U. P. Meds Was Fast and Rough.

The Shadyside team of the Interscholastic league added another to its long string of victories at Duquesne garden yesterday afternoon by defeating the unlucky W. U. P. Meds by a score of 1 to 0. The game was one of the fastest of the string of games during the season and was also considerably on the rough order. Referee Hern did not remove one player for infraction of the rules. Score and line-up:

Drake	Goal	McCready
Hutchinson	Point	Forner
Preston	Cover Point	Mueller
Williams	Center	McLain
Ault	Rover	Phillips
Kay	Right Wing	McMurray

PITTSBURGH HIGH SCHOOL AND WASH.-JEFF. ARE MIXED UP.

The Question at Issue Is the Place for Holding the Interscholastic Events. Best Schools Want It Held in This City.

An unusual and unique competition is going on among the preparatory schools of Western Pennsylvania at the present time, with the privilege of holding the annual interscholastic field meet as the meed of combat. The annual interscholastic meets for Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio schools were until a few years ago always held in Pittsburgh under the auspices of the Pittsburgh High school, and the preparatory department of Washington and Jefferson college then started the custom of holding an invitation meet of its own the week following at Washington, Pa.

A few years ago High school failed to hold the regular interscholastic meet, and the Washington competition assumed the responsibility of both affairs. The opening wedge for the strife now in progress came this year with the announcement at the meeting of the High School Athletic association of the intention to hold the meet here in Pittsburgh this spring.

Large City a Better Location.

It was claimed there was dissatisfaction among some schools over the class of institutions admitted last year at Washington and also that a large city like Pittsburgh offered a much better location for a successful meet than a smaller town like Washington.

Schenley park was proposed as the site for the meet and May 31, the Saturday following Decoration day, selected as the best date. All appeared clear sailing for the meet, as Kiski, Shadyside (the winner of the championship last year) and High school, three of the strongest schools competing in the meets, were united in favor of holding the affair here, and it was thought W. & J. preparatory would willingly yield to High its original privilege of holding the meets.

It was proposed to bar Indiana Normal school, Mercersburg academy and other institutions where the students are entirely too large for competition with school boys, and there was strenuous objection raised by the normal schools.

Notice of Conflict from W. & J.

The first hint of opposition from Washington came recently, however, in the announcement from that home of the collegians that preparations were under way for the annual interscholastic field and track meet, which the Kiskiminetas, Mercersburg academy, Pittsburgh academy, East Liberty academy, Linsly institute of Wheeling, and Park institute of Allegheny were entered.

The High school committee has only been spurred to increased activity, and it is announced that an interscholastic meet which is expected to be the largest and most successful ever held here will be pulled off at Schenley park, no matter what takes place at Washington. The High school promoters state that the consent of both Kiski and Shadyside has been obtained, and that there must be some misunderstanding about the entry of Kiski in the Washington meet, as the Saltsburg school was the most strenuous objector to Mercersburg academy and was most strongly in favor of holding the meet here.

SPALDING READY TO ACT.

He Sends for President Hart to Outline His Plans.

CHICAGO, March 5.—(Special.)—President Hart of the Chicago club left last night for San Diego, Cal. President Hart's departure was sudden and unexpected. All that can be learned of his trip is that he went in response to a telegram from A. G. Spalding, asking him to come to San Diego, where the enjoined National league president is spending the winter. It is presumable that Spalding desires to be put in touch with the situation in the east and with the attitude of the "loyal four," and also to consult regarding plans for the future more effectively than can be done at long range. Hart is in position to serve in the capacities of both adviser and lieutenant, which accounts for his being summoned. Spalding doubtless realizes that the time for action has come.

RYAN AND O'BRIEN.

Practically Matched for the World's Championship.

KANSAS CITY, March 5.—Tommy Ryan today received a proposition from R. C. Gray, matchmaker of the Southern Athletic club at Louisville, to box 20 rounds with Jack O'Brien, the middleweight champion of England, for the middleweight championship of the world, the contest to take place before the Southern Athletic club Derby night, the first week in May. Ryan tonight wired his acceptance on all terms of the proposition, except that he insists that O'Brien must weigh in at the middleweight limit at the ringside, O'Brien wants to weigh 160 pounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. There is to be a side bet of $2,500.

WANTS TO PLAY THEM.

High School Basketball Team Ready for Opponents.

The Pittsburgh High School basketball team is not in the hurry to finish the season that some of the other local school teams are and has quite a number of games yet to play. Of the Interscholastic league there is yet a game to play with East Liberty academy, while tomorrow High School plays the first two games with Kiski at Saltsburg. Games are also being arranged with California Normal and Westminster college to be played away from home.

DAN PATCH SOLD.

Purchased by M. E. Sturgess of New York for $20,000.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., March 5.—Dan Patch (2:04½), who made a phenomenal record last season, has been sold by Daniel M. Messner, Jr., to M. E. Sturgess of New York city, for $20,000. The great son of Joe Patchen won every race in which he was entered last year, and dropped but a single heat. The gale was consummated today at Oxford, Ind.

Good Team for Beaver Falls.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., March 5.—(Special.)—The Carnegie Library A. C. here organized for the coming season with Ed Haney manager and Will Craft captain. The players who have signed are Joseph McStay and Charles Powell, catchers; Buzz McCandless, Will Craft and Jack Sopies, pitchers; Charles Capper, Jake Oxley, W. Merriman, Buzz McCandless and Will Craft, infielders; Ed Haney, Jim McCreery, Charles Campbell, outfield. The C. L. A. C. is ready to book games with all first-class teams in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio. For games address Ed E. Haney, Beaver Falls, Pa.

Sportsmen's Show Starts.

NEW YORK, March 5.—The annual sportsmen's show was opened today in Madison Square garden. A large pool of water had been placed in the center of the garden, and this was stocked with fish. Many live birds and animals were exhibited, and a large display of boats was made. A program of sporting events, including fly-casting, has been arranged for every afternoon and evening during the show.

Mason Hustling for Galvin.

Manager James Mason, who is arranging a benefit for Jimmy Galvin, yesterday procured the promise as well as the use of Old City hall for Saturday evening, March 22. It is proposed to give a number of boxing bouts, and some fine ring performances will be secured. There was no change in Galvin's condition yesterday, he still being very low and in grave danger of death.

MORE TROUBLE CAUSED BY THE STEEPLE CHASER

Bristol Finished First, but Was Disqualified—Jockey Was Suspended.

NIXON'S EASY VICTORY

Captured the Rich Premier Stakes Without Any Trouble — Anna Handspring Bolted the Fence and Was Badly Injured.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW ORLEANS, March 5.—Falella, Bill Nixon and Feliz Bard were the winning favorites today. In a breakaway before the first race, Anna Handspring bolted through the inside fence, cutting her shoulder badly. She was then withdrawn. Bill Nixon scored very easily in the Premier stakes, worth $1,120 to the winner. The colt was a hot favorite in the betting, took the lead at the start and won all the way. Bristol finished first in the steeplechase, but ran outside the flag after the first jump and was disqualified. The stewards held that Jockey Comer was to blame and ruled him off. Weather clear; track fast.

Odom Won First Race.

First race, 5 furlongs—Lady Buckley, 110, Odom, 4 to 1, won; Aliopath, 110, Brennan, 2 to 1, second; Tuckpaw, 110, Wallace, 50 to 1, third. Time, 1:02. Kentucky Muddle, Aleda, Rendezvous, Katherine C., Quicksilver, Sue, Hermess and Chaminade also ran. Anna Handspring was withdrawn.

Second race, owners' handicap, 6 furlongs—King Isley, 85, Helgeson, 7 to 1, won; Carl Kahler, 85, Helgeson, 2 to 1, second; Death, 106, Slack, even, third. Time, 1:13¾. Maggie Davis, Imp. Albula, Henry of Franstamar, Echodale and Rowdy G. also ran.

Third race, steeplechase, handicap, short course—Bristol, 152, Comer, 11 to 5, finished first, but was disqualified; Falella, 141, Butler, 2 to 1, won; Harve B., 127, Kelly, 9 to 2, second; King Elkwood, 120, Haines, 6 to 1, third. Time, 3:04. Fearful and Cantadas also ran.

Fourth race, Premier stakes, 5 furlongs—Bill Nixon, 108, T. Walsh, 3 to 5, won; Computation, 108, Slack, 20 to 1, second; Maverick, 105, Lyne, 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:01¾. Tom Mayhew, Imp. Lady Winsor, Lizzie Brooks and Suevius also ran.

Fifth race, handicap, 1 mile—Felix Bard, 108, T. Walsh, 13 to 10, won; Nitrate, 112, Odom, 7 to 2, second; Amisari, 87, Feicht, 30 to 1, third. Time, 1:40¾. Johnny McCarter, Don Chamos, Prowl and Lady Alberta also ran. Waterhouse unseated her rider.

Sixth race, 1 mile, selling—Pharoah, 104, Boyd, 7 to 2, won; Dan Paxton, 105, Young, 7 to 2, second; Senator Sullivan, 108, Odom, 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:41½. Woodtrice, Blocker, Charles D., Veritable Boy, McWilliams and Tros also ran.

The Entries for Thursday.

LONG SHOTS WON.

Two of Them Were First in the Oakland Races.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—The victories of Cambaceres and Duke of York II., two 30 to 1 chances, were among the features of the racing at Oakland today. Bozeman and Frawley, who have not figured conspicuously this season, had mounts on them. Cambaceres won by four lengths from Golden Light, who did not get away well. Dean Swift was favorite for the second race, but Duke of York II. command at the start and won easily. Summaries:

First race, 6 furlongs, selling—Cambaceres, 105, Bozeman, 30 to 1, won; Golden Light, 105, O'Connor, 2 to 1, second; LaCalma, 103, Rausch, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:22¼. The Fiddler, Magazine, Rey del San Juan, Killeen, Jack Richileu and Derby Winner ran.

Second race, 7 furlongs—Duke of York, 120, Frawley, 30 to 1, won; Dean Swift, 109, O'Conner, 7 to 5, second; Duke Direct, 117, Jackson, 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:35. El Chihuahua, Sir Dougal and Helen Smith ran.

Third race, 5½ furlongs, selling—Malaspina, 92, L. Jackson, 10 to 1, won; Tiburon, 110, O'Connor, 2½ to 1, second; Educate, 104, Hoar, 7 to 1, third. Time, 1:07¾. Kildoe, Brutano, Montoya, Lento and Silver Cruse ran.

ONE MORE DELAY.

Spalding Case Postponed Until Next Tuesday.

NEW YORK, March 5.—At the request of Delancey Nicoll, who has a court engagement in Albany, the agreement on the demurrer in the baseball case has been postponed until Tuesday next. The Brooklyn, Chicago, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia clubs have decided to file the same demurrer that was filed by A. G. Spalding.

Challenge Tennis in New York.

NEW YORK, March 5.—(Special.)—Challenge matches at hand tennis are in vogue at the New York Athletic club, and today's set brought together the strongest pairs at doubles in the organization. Dr. W. R. Bartlett, former doubles champion, and T. A. Lewis were arrayed against E. E. Price, the present single champion, and F. V. Cooper. The former pair suffered defeat in three straight games, the scores being 25-13, 25-21 and 25-11.

SINNIRUD WON THE MILE EVENT

PRESTON SKATED A GOOD RACE AGAINST TEAM WORK.

The A. A. U. Outdoor Champion's Time Was Only 2:55 1-5, but the Ice Was Rough—Cleveland Entries Snowbound and Taylor Sick.

Peter Sinnirud, the amateur speed skating champion of the United States and Canada, won the mile indoor championship last night at Duquesne garden in time of 2:55 1-5. Wood, Sinnirud's team mate from Verona, N. J., was second, and Clarence Preston of Pittsburgh a good third. Lawrence Bright of Pittsburgh and Gus Furios of Cleveland furnished a neck and neck finish for fourth place, the Cleveland boy taking the place. Nilsson's mile record made here is 2:46 4-5.

The event last night was handicapped by the absence of three entries from Cleveland, who were snowbound, and by the illness of Taylor of Harrisburg, who is the rival of Clarence Preston for the Pennsylvania state championship.

Taylor Too Sick to Skate.

A telegram was received from Taylor saying that he was ill and unable to stand on skates. This will prevent the Saturday afternoon scheduled competition between Preston and Taylor for the championship. The snowbound Cleveland men who are expected today are Ernest Hill, Harry Phoebe and John Stenon.

Good time in the race was prevented last night by the extreme roughness of the ice, but this will be remedied for the other events of the week. Clarence Preston, the Pittsburgh representative, skated a game race and was only beaten by a few yards, though he was handicapped in competing against a team from the Verona Lake Skating club in Sinnirud and Wood. Preston took the lead at the start and set the pace for five laps. On the sixth lap Sinnirud went to the fore, with Wood taking second place, and these relative positions were held until the finish. On the ninth lap Preston, however, made a strong spurt and greatly lessened the lead which the two New Jersey skaters had obtained.

Some amusement was caused by the entrance on the ice of a speeder in a white sweater, who was evidently a little rusty from lack of practice. He was to the surprise of the race conductors most earnest in his intention of bucking up against Sinnirud, the "Terrible Swede," but was finally persuaded that he would be in better trim for the other races of the week if he gave himself a good rest last night after the effort of the practice rounds.

The event tonight will be the two-mile indoor A. A. U. championship of the United States. Nilsson's record made here recently is 5:47 1-5. Sinnirud won the one, five and 10-mile outdoor championships recently at Verona Lake, and Wood the half and three-mile.

INSISTS MISS BURNS KILLED WALTER BROOKS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, March 5.—An investigation has proved the truth of the story told by Edith Lee, a woman detective, who was employed by Walter Brooks to shadow Florence Burns to discover something to the girl's discredit. Capt. Titus has a statement made by Mrs. Lee, and he has learned that she was visited by Brooks, who afterward employed a detective agency to do the work that he wanted done.

The district attorney is bending all energies to obtain evidence that will establish the guilt or innocence of Florence Burns. He has discarded all other theories than that she is responsible for the death of Brooks.

It is now known that Walter Brooks wrote to Florence Burns a letter the Sunday before his death, and he afterward said he had ended writing between them. It is believed that he told the girl what had been reported to him by the detectives whom he employed to shadow her. Information also has been received that after the letter had been sent, Brooks had made strenuous endeavors to avoid an interview with Florence.

Foster L. Backus, who is in charge of the defense of Florence Burns, said tonight he had not made up his mind what course to pursue, and would not determine until after Mr. Jerome concludes his case and answers a question whether he is holding back any evidence. As soon as the state reveals its complete case, Mr. Backus has said that he would offer evidence. It is improbable that the two sides can reach an agreement. This means that the case will be sent to the grand jury early next week, probably on Monday.

SEVEN MEN PROBABLY LOST.

Rescue Party from Telluride to Visit Valley of Danger.

TELLURIDE, COL., March 5.—A rescue party has been organized to attempt to go to Ingram basin, where seven men were working when the storm cut off all communication. Ingram basin is one of the most dangerous places in San Juan country. Many believe all the men have perished in a slide or that while they were at work in the tunnel their bunkhouse, filled with provisions, has been buried beneath tons of snow and ice.

The body of John B. Powell, who perished in the slide last Friday, has been found and parties are at work opening trails in order to reach places where it is known bodies are buried under the snow.

Salisbury an All-Around Slick One.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., March 5.—Ex-City Attorney Lant K. Salisbury, and Stilson V. MacLeod, pleaded guilty to violation of banking laws in connection with carrying a fraudulent check. Both were sentenced to two years at the Detroit house of correction. Salisbury is also under indictment at Chicago for the alleged embezzlement of a large sum from two Omaha millionaires. He was recently convicted in this city of attempted bribery in connection with the municipal water supply scandal.

T. M. PORTER HAS RESIGNED FROM HUMANE SOCIETY

ENTERS OTHER BUSINESS

Resolution Expressing Approval of His Years of Work Was Passed by the Board and His Resignation Accepted.

Thomas M. Porter, superintendent of the Western Pennsylvania Humane society, has resigned. The resignation presented at the meeting of the society yesterday was a great surprise, but it was accepted. It is to take effect April 1. That Mr. Porter has been a valued officer of the society is attested by the following resolution, which was adopted:

Whereas, Thomas M. Porter has advised the board of managers of the Western Pennsylvania Humane society of his intention of devoting his time to other important business matters and has tendered his resignation as superintendent, to take effect April 1; therefore be it

Resolved, That the board in accepting his resignation desires to place on record some evidences of their appreciation of the valuable services rendered by Supt. Porter during the several years of his connection with the society. The experience and knowledge of Mr. Porter in the care and use of horses has been of great value in the important work of the society, and his services in the varied operations of our humane work have been of such a character that the board of managers would express their appreciation of his services, and wish him success in his business engagements in the future.

Mr. Porter's resignation as superintendent does not mean that he will sever his connection with the society. He has resigned to enter into active business. He said last night:

"I have resigned as superintendent of the Humane society that I may go into business with my son. He has for some time been in the real estate business. We have rented offices in the Keystone building and will handle real estate and investments. I shall always be an active member of the Humane society and shall devote to it every minute of my spare time. I must make money. I see an opportunity and am going to grasp it."

FROM $2,000,000 TO $10,000.

A Vanderbilt Plays Havoc With His Tax Schedule in New York on Swearing-Off Day.

NEW YORK, March 5.—(Special.)—George W. Vanderbilt appeared before the department of taxes and assessments yesterday, and obtained a reduction of his personal assessment, from $2,000,000, which was fixed by the Tammany board, to $10,000.

In applying for this resolution Mr. Vanderbilt introduced something of an innovation from the methods usually taken by persons of great wealth. Ordinarily such taxpayers pleaded non-residence, but Mr. Vanderbilt told Commissioner Gillespie that while he was worth all that the assessment called for, his wealth is principally in real estate and in securities which are either non-taxable or else are taxed by the state. Without particularizing, he indicated that most of his holdings are in trust companies and kindred corporations over which the local authorities have no control.

The department has decided not to make any effort to hold residents of Rhode Island and New Jersey, who live part of the year in this city, until after the "swearing off" period has expired, which will be on March 31, under the new charter, instead of April 30, as formerly. Persons who formerly paid taxes upon nearly $20,000,000 of personal property have within the last year taken citizenship in Rhode Island under a recent law of that state.

STRIKE SITUATION SERIOUS.

More Troops Ordered to Norfolk, Where Street Car Tracks Are Being Barricaded.

NORFOLK, VA., March 5.—Street cars guarded by troops are running at long intervals today, but no passengers are being carried. Four additional companies of the Seventy-first infantry have been ordered out and this will place the entire command in the field.

The strikers were busy last night barricading tracks, but this morning the obstructions were removed by troops. At midnight the soldiers were called upon to disperse a mob at Church and Charlotte streets. Bayonets were used, but it is not known that there were any casualties.

The Suffolk military company arrived this forenoon and on the same train were 15 strike breakers from Knoxville, Tenn. The arrival of the imported men intensifies the feeling. The electrical workers have gone out on a sympathetic strike. All other employes of the Norfolk Railway and Light Company, gas, electric and other plants, have been ordered out by the Central Labor union.

Ohio Man Goes Wrong in Honolulu.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—The Alameda arrived from Honolulu with the following advices, dated February 26: Gov. Dole has called a special election to elect a successor to the late A. F. Gilfillan, of the house of representatives, who met death in an accident in Philadelphia last December. One Col. Lake, who is said to have organized the Ninth Ohio regiment during the Spanish war, has been arrested and convicted on a charge of gross cheating, by a woman.

A GREAT SURPRISE

Is in store for all who use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, the great guaranteed remedy. Would you believe that it is sold on its merits and any druggist is authorized by the proprietor of this wonderful remedy to give you a sample bottle free? It never fails to cure acute or chronic coughs. All druggists sell Kemp's Balsam. Price 25c and 50c.

LEGAL NOTICES.

EDWIN Z. SMITH, Attorney-at-Law, Carnegie building, Pittsburgh, Pa. In the court of common pleas No. 2 of Allegheny county. No. 395, April term, 1902. In pursuance of a writ issued by Henry Holdship to the president and directors of the Bank of the United States. To the president and directors of the Bank of the United States and Third ave. and place of beginning, and all others who may be interested in said mortgage: You are hereby notified that John W. Herron has presented his petition to said court, setting forth that he is owner of a lot of ground in the First ward of the city of Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the northwesterly corner of Wood street and Third ave.; thence extending along said Wood st. 20 feet; thence westwardly, parallel with Third ave. 26 feet; thence southwardly, parallel with Wood st. 6 feet, more or less; thence westwardly, parallel with Third ave. 84 feet, to line of lot 318 in Wood's plan of Pittsburgh; thence by said lot 318, 25 feet to Third ave.; and thence along Third ave. 60 feet to Wood st., the place of beginning. That on March 18, 1828, Henry Holdship, being then seized of said premises, executed a mortgage thereon to the president and directors of the Bank of the United States for $5,000, the same being recorded in said county in Mortgage Book vol. 2, page 104, to secure the payment of his promissory note of the same date and amount, payable 60 days from March 18, 1828. That no payment of principal or interest of said mortgage has been made for over 30 years, and a legal presumption exists from lapse of time of its payment. That said corporation mortgagee has been for many years defunct. Wherefore, petitioner prays the court that, being satisfied of the truth of his petition and the same being shown to the contrary, after notice of said petition in the manner provided by law, it shall decree and direct that satisfaction be entered by the proper officer of said court upon payment of costs of this proceeding. Whereupon said court entered an order directing notice of said pet

Much Brighter Outlook in the Financial Sky

MONEY MARKET IS REASSURING TO SPECULATORS

Movement to San Francisco Assisting Instead of Retarding Situation.

THE WEAKNESS OVERCOME

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, March 5.—Speculative sentiment was somewhat reassured today over the money outlook, and the rather acute weakness with which the trading ended last night was overcome after a time. It was in evidence during the morning, but the market gradually settled back into its recent condition of dullness and spottiness, the specialties again coming to the front.

There were some fairly sensational gains here and there which served to keep the undertone of the narrow market steady. The money market failed to show the sudden constriction of supplies which was dreaded yesterday as a result of the unexpectedly heavy demands converged upon the New York market.

Relief in Unexpected Quarter.

The calling of subscriptions to the San Francisco traction merger proved a relieving force to some degree, instead of aggravating the stringency, as had been feared. This was due to the fact that foreigners are subscribers to the syndicate and their remittances to New York in response to the call relaxed somewhat the foreign demand for gold.

No further actual engagements of gold were made today, and not all the gold that was expected was packed for tomorrow's steamer. It is not a forced supposition also that the $1,000,000 block of government bonds offered for redemption yesterday was preconcerted as a set-off to the gold to be deposited at the subtreasury for telegraphic transfer to San Francisco.

A Puzzling Money Movement.

The movement to San Francisco has some puzzling features about it and the applications to the Washington authorities for permission to transfer $50,000,000 to $60,000,000 to San Francisco anxious surmises as to other possible demands.

Money in London was appreciably easier today and sterling at Paris rose a fraction. Both of these movements are an index of relaxed pressure for gold upon New York. The question of further exports this week, beyond the shipment of $1,500,000 by tomorrow's steamer, is therefore an open one.

The absence of apprehended stringency in the money market was supplemented by some good returns of gross earnings for railroads for the fourth week of February and by confident assurances that there was no cause for fear of labor troubles in the anthracite coal fields.

Some of the Specialties.

Of the day's specialties, Colorado & Southern again became conspicuous on an enormous demand with revival of rumors of buying for control. The advance in Chicago & Northwestern was on unusually large dealings for that closely-held stock, and was without specific explanation.

The death of Leonard Lewisohn induced some selling of Amalgamated Copper, but the stock found support. Missouri Pacific was under some pressure, but rallied with the rest of the market and closed with a small net gain.

The United States Steel stocks maintained their inertness and moved within a fractional range. There were wide movements in a number of less important stocks which were without explanation. Realizing made some inroads upon best prices and the closing was dull and irregular, but with substantial net gains remaining.

There was no marked activity in the bond market and the movement of prices there was somewhat irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,250,000. United States 2s advanced ¼ per cent on the last call.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

United States Steel closed 42⅞; preferred, 94⅝.

Iron Prices Go Up Sharply

URGENT MARKET IN STEEL TRADE DRAWS ADVANCE

STEEL PRICES GO HIGHER

Merchant Pipe Producers Also Name Advanced Prices—Slight Recovery on Deliveries Will Be Negatived by the Storm.

Extreme urgency of the market in many lines of iron and steel has set prices another long step upward. In all lines of pig iron prices are higher. There has been a sharp advance in bar iron and steel bar is selling higher. Merchant pipe prices are higher.

The snow storm is expected to put the brakes on the conditions of delivery that had been gradually bettering. More satisfactory delivery of coke had enabled all but three or four of the merchant furnaces of the Mahoning and Shenango valleys to resume. However, railroad operations in the Pittsburgh district were severely handicapped by the recent high water and the heavy snow on its heels will seriously complicate matters.

New Bar Iron Price.

Manufacturers of iron bar, east and west, have come to a new understanding on prices which cuts out the western differential under the eastern price. A new schedule of prices has been adopted which makes the base price on deliveries east and west $1.70 for 100 pounds, Pittsburgh. This price obtains east and west according to the understanding among all producers.

The new price at Pittsburgh, which is fully $2 a ton higher than that at which the last important business was transacted, contemplates nothing in the way of concessions to near mills. Under this understanding all iron bar delivered at any point will cost $1.70 for 100 pounds to the consumer, plus the freight rate from Pittsburgh to the consuming point.

Not Local in Its Effect.

This not only applies to Pittsburgh mills. As an instance a sale of bar iron by a mill in Eastern Pennsylvania, to be delivered in Philadelphia, must be made at $1.70 for 100 pounds, plus the freight from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia. The same arrangement is carried out in the west. A Chicago consumer purchasing from a mill in Indiana must pay the $1.70 plus the freight rates from Pittsburgh to Chicago.

The advance is by no means a radical one, but the producers are understood to have met the differences which have been arising through the eastern and western line drawn at Pittsburgh. To the price now established are added all the usual card extras.

The leading producer of bar iron west of Pittsburgh has been out of the market for nearly two months on deliveries before the end of the first half of the year. Other producers have been obtaining a price equal to the price now agreed upon. Nominally, in the immediate past, iron on eastern shipments had been $1 a ton higher.

In the past week nominal and actual prices on muck bar and many other semi-finished lines have been from 50c to $1 a ton higher than the week before. All lines of pig iron have advanced nearly $1 a ton, whether in actual transactions or in the nominal figures, made practically real from the fact that the material is not to be had.

Medium sections of rails are fully $4 a ton higher now than a month ago. The supply of domestic rails is practically exhausted for the entire year. Scrap material has advanced in price in proportion to pig iron.

With the stringent conditions governing the delivery of coke but little relieved and the heavy snow storm settling over the Pittsburgh district, it is expected that large numbers of the active furnaces will be forced down within a few days.

No Pig Iron Sold.

Practically no pig iron of any grade was sold within the past seven days. Coke deliveries to the furnaces had been better during all of last week but they were lighter last Saturday and on Sunday and Monday.

While the associated producers of merchant, or steel, bar have made no price changes, consumers are paying fully $2 a ton over the ruling prices for satisfactory delivery.

Merchant furnaces of Pittsburgh and the two valleys sold practically no Bessemer pig iron in the past week. The prices nominally ranges all the way from $16 to $17 a ton at the valley stacks for second half delivery.

Three thousand tons of forge iron were sold in the week past at prices ranging from $15.75 to $17 a ton. While these are the prices at which business was closed the week before, other producers have been offered $17.50 for third quarter deliveries, but could not accept the business. The sales made provide deliveries scattered through the second half of the year.

Foundry Iron Is Scarce.

Buyers of foundry iron could secure not a single ton in the past week at satisfactory prices. Nominally the price for deliveries in the second half range from $17.75 to $18 a ton, on the No. 2 grade. This market is absolutely barren for anything like prompt shipment.

Steel rods amounting to 6,000 tons were sold by Pittsburgh producers in the past week at the highest asking price of many months, $36 a ton.

The prices on steel, through the stringency in supply, have advanced $1 and $2 a ton over the last prices. No transactions are reported but the price is nominally $31.25 a ton delivered at Pittsburgh mills. The importation of billets is going on actively. Higher prices abroad may have checked some imports. Mills in the valleys are receiving the imported steel, although none is understood to have been put down in Pittsburgh, nor are there known arrangements for such deliveries.

No Rail Transactions.

Sheet and tin plate bar prices are nominally at the usual advances over the billet prices, with none to be had.

In rails there have been no recent transactions of note. Prices range $28 a ton for standard section in lots of 200 tons and more; rails of 20, 35, 40 and 45 pounds to the yard, $36; 20 and 25 pound rails, $37; 16-pound, $38; 12-pound, $40.

The price of the leading domestic producer of forge manganese remains at $52.50 a ton. The foreign product is understood to be offered in Pittsburgh at $50 a ton.

Muck bar sales, amounting to several thousand tons in the week past, established a minimum price of $31.50 a ton, an advance of 50 cents.

Advances in Bar Iron.

The bar iron market brought out advances in the week past as noted above. The minimum is now based at $1.70 for 100 pounds at Pittsburgh mills, while refined Pittsburgh bar is selling readily at from $3 to $5 a ton higher.

Plate consumers came into the Pittsburgh market in the past week to the extent of about 5,000 tons. Prices are now $1.60 for 100 pounds for plates up to 100 inches in width, and 5 cents extra 100 pounds for wide sizes; flange plates, $1.70 for 100 pounds; stiff-bottom steel, $1.90 for 100 pounds; locomotive firebox, not less than ¾2 higher; 2-16-inch plates, $1 a ton extra; gauged Nos. 8 and 9, $2 a ton extra; circles, $1.80 for 100 pounds.

Pittsburgh mills sold merchant bar amounting to 12,000 tons in the week past. The base price for merchant bar remains at $1.50 for 100 pounds, with some of the producers getting $1.60 for shipments at most any time within six months. The price on open hearth merchant bar is $2 a ton higher.

Heavy Structural Sales.

Sales of structural steel by the Pittsburgh producers in the past week rounded out nearly 20,000 tons. The expected price advance has not taken place. Prices are: $1.60 for 100 pounds on beams, channels, angles and zees; tees, $1.65 for 100 pounds; beams from 13 to 24 inches, $1.50 for 100 pounds.

While there have been hints there is nothing tangible to indicate an advance in tin plate prices. The leading producer is still taking business at $4 for the 100-pound box of standard plates for delivery in a week or six months. Officials of the American Tin Plate Company are trying to arrange for operation of the mills during the Amalgamated association wage negotiations, which frequently throw mills idle.

Sheets in a Month or Two.

Sheet manufacturers can make deliveries on new business in a month, while on exceptional specifications six weeks or two months is required. The higher prices of recent date seem not to have been permanent, most of the mills being ready to take business on the basis of $3.10 for 100 pounds in the No. 28 gauge. Galvanized sheets are selling at from 70 and 5 to 70 and 10 per cent off the list.

The market of the producers of cold rolled shafting continues active, the newly-established prices of from 50 to 55 per cent off the list being firmly maintained.

The finer merchant and crucible steel trade continues active. Prices are: Tire steel, $1.60 to $1.70 for 100 pounds; toe calk, $1.80 net in carloads; open hearth spring, $2 and $2.10; Bessemer plow slabs, $2; base lay steel, $2.25; rolled lay steel, $2.50@2.75; tool steel, $7 and upward, according to quality.

Cut Nail Advance.

Cut nail producers have advanced prices $1 a ton. Hardware quotations are: Carlots and larger amounts of wire nails to jobbers, $2.05 a keg; $2.10 in less lots and $2.20 out of store to retailers; No. 9 plain wire, $2 for 100 pounds to jobbers; $2.05 in carlots; $2.15 in less than carlots; No. 9 galvanized wire, $2.45 in carlots to jobbers and $2.55 in lesser lots; cut spikes are $2.60 in carlots and $2 in heavy orders to jobbers; shoe horseshoes are $2.25 for 400-pound kegs and iron $3.60; carriage bolts 40 and 10 per cent off; stove bolts, 65 and 10 per cent off list, f. o. b. on stock shipments.

With the shortage of pig iron, scrap has a heavy call. Sales of 6,000 tons were made by Pittsburgh dealers in the week. The higher prices are as follows: Old steel rails, $17.25@17.75 a ton; old iron rails, $19.50; heavy steel melting stock, $18.00; wrought scrap, $18.00@19.00; cast scrap, $14.00@14.50; turnings, $13.50; borings, $9 @9.50.

SUPPLIES FOR THE CITY.

Bureau of Highways Will Purchase Horses, Street Sweepers, Wagons and Sprinklers.

At a meeting of the committee on public works yesterday ordinances were affirmatively recommended authorizing the letting of contracts for the repaving of streets and building boardwalks and steps provided for in the appropriation ordinance; for a metal filing case in the city solicitors' office; for stokers at the Brilliant pumping station; 25 horses, 20 wagons, 11 street sweepers, 2 street sprinklers and a steam roller, the whole to cost $17,120.

In the committee on surveys ordinances were affirmatively recommended for the vacation of Clifton street from South Thirty-first to South Twenty-second streets, Sarah street from South Thirty-third street to the property line of the American Glass Company; repealing the location of Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth streets from the Allegheny Valley railway to the Allegheny river, and part of Ailequippa street; locating Squirrel Hill avenue and establishing the grade thereon; changing the name of Forfar street and part of Thirty-third street to Herron avenue and part of Herron avenue to Bryn Mawr road. An ordinance for the vacation of Fillmore street from Hillridge street to Bellefield avenue was negatively recommended and that repealing the location of a part of Wellesley avenue was referred to a sub-committee.

THE THREE RIVERS.

CINCINNATI, March 5.—River at 6 p. m., 50.8 feet and falling slowly. Clear and warmer. The thaws of the day are likely to prevent any decided fall here and below for several days. The Defender and Allen Brown went up today with tows of number of 20 each. The Dave Wood is laid up at Ravenswood on account of high water and winds. The H. M. Stanley left today for Portsmouth and way points. The Bonanza will follow tomorrow and the Courier Friday. The Keystone State got away for Pittsburgh. The Queen City will leave for the same point Saturday.

LOUISVILLE—River rising slowly; canal, 24 feet; falls, 20 feet; foot of locks, 48.2 feet. Clear and moderating; snow disappearing fast. The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company was the lowest bidder here today to build several dumpboats for the government. There were two other bidders for the job. The O'Neil going up broke a cylinder head at Warsaw. The Cruiser and John Moren towed her to Cincinnati for repairs. The H. F. Frisbie and one boat left Pittsburgh, and the close was easy at ⅛@¼c net advance; March closed 82⅛@82¼; May, 82 1-16@82 7-16c; closed 82¼c; July, 81 15-16@82⅛c; closed 82¼c; September, 80⅝@81⅜c; closed 81⅛c. TOWBOATS WERE DELAYED.

The Snowstorm Held Many Steamers in Port Until Noon.

The towboats were late yesterday in getting started on account of the heavy snowstorm, which set in early in the day. Some of the boats were kept at the bank until noon, when under ordinary circumstances they would have left earlier.

The J. C. Risher was the first boat to cut loose, taking six coalboats. She was followed by the Acorn, with five boats, one barge; Pacific, six boats, one model barge; Belle McGowan, five boats; Clifton, five boats.

When the steamers leave Bellaire, including several which are yet to leave Pittsburgh, their tows will be made up as follows: J. C. Risher, 10 boats, one barge; Pacific, 10 boats, five barges, two model barges; Jim Wood, 12 boats, five barges; James Moren, 17 boats; B. D. Wood, 10 boats; Harry Brown, 10 boats; Volunteer, 20 boats.

The Valiant will also take out a tow in a day or two. Repairs to her rudders are not yet complete. The Enterprise will also go, as soon as her new rudder is in place. The Ohio river has been falling during the past 36 hours from one to two inches an hour. There was 14 feet of water in the harbor last night.

News of the Rivers.

The steamers Greenwood and Lorena will arrive tomorrow, and will resume their places in the packet trade.

Capt. Thomas T. Dunlevy has been assigned to command the towboat R. D. Wood. The steamer goes south as soon as her repairs are completed.

The Rodgers Sand Company expects to let the contract for the construction of the new sand-dredgeboat during the present week. The bids are not all in.

The towboat Oakland will bring a tow of empties from Louisville to Pittsburgh. Pilot Charles Morris left last night for Louisville to bring the Oakland home.

The towboats W. W. Thomas, Dave Wood, Ironsides and Mariner, which have tied up at Leatart on account of high water, expected to leave there yesterday for Cincinnati and Louisville.

The Ben Hur was on her way to Pittsburgh at last accounts, and is due today. A report from Wheeling says that she may not be able to get here today on account of the high water.

The towboat Harvester, on her way to Pittsburgh, is above Portsmouth. She has been since last Friday coming that far. The boat has been compelled to tie up every night on account of drift and heavy current.

Capts. W. B. Rodgers and James A. Henderson have been elected to the board of directors of the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce. The gentlemen say that their interests will no doubt be ably represented by these two men.

Teams had much difficulty in driving up the wharf yesterday from the various wharfboats. Business on the levee was crippled. Most steamboatmen contended that under existing conditions yesterday boats were better off at the landings than running.

Rivermen are again complaining about the acting of wharfmasters in keeping the snow taken from the city streets onto the Monongahela wharf. In case of a flood the snow piles would prove a dangerous obstruction. The piling of the snow covers the ring bolts and fastenings. Rivermen say that the snow should be dumped below Ferry street, and not at the foot of Market street.

Joseph Ledley, whom the rivermen say was a most valuable mate on the Uncle Island Coal, but who was furloughed some time ago by Capt. W. E. Craighill, was offered a position a short time ago at increased salary, but refused to accept it, having secured a better one with a Parkersburg packet. It is said that Mr. Ledley was very accurate in his forecasts of the stages of water in times of freshets. He was also popular because he was accommodating.

Samuel Ingram, steamboat inspector, has written a letter to local steamboat inspectors, Capts. George H. Atkinson and Isaac B. Williams, alleging that Robert Donaldson has been officiating as mate of the towboat Little Dick without a government license. Upon the receipt of the letter the inspectors addressed a letter to Donaldson, requesting him to come forthwith to the federal building and make answer to the charge. Capt. William Shaw, of the Little Dick, was also sent for. The maximum penalty for violating the law is $500.

Torrance Did Some Cheering.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., March 5.—Five hundred veterans of the Grand Army are in attendance on the 36th annual encampment of the Department of Minnesota. A feature this morning was a brief address by Commander-in-Chief Eli Torrance, who received an ovation. Not to be outdone, the commander-in-chief gave a cheering for the boys from the department of Minnesota all by himself. He said he was mighty proud of the G. A. R. of the North Star state, and wanted to honor them signally.

Storm King Was Supreme Over Local Stock Market

WEATHER WAS MORE POTENT THAN MARKETS

Trading Was Active at Intervals Despite Weather Interruptions.

SOME FRACTIONAL LOSSES

Steel Stocks Were Leaders on Local Board—Highest Price for Bank Stock—Federal National Was a Feature.

The snowstorm laid a heavy hand on the securities markets yesterday. First because it knocked out the wires, second because it greatly delayed the mails, and finally because it interfered with the transaction of general business. The railroads, already laggard on account of a lack of motive power, were paralyzed by the drifting snow. This added to the suspension of industrial operations as a result of last week's flood will make some difference in the total business of the first three months of this year.

The transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange were about one-half in volume what they were the day before and pretty nearly everything in the active list was fractionally lower. Bank and trust stocks were strong and higher, but the trading in these is limited. A bid of $1,050 a share was made for Farmers Deposit National bank, the highest quotation ever made for a Pittsburgh bank stock. There was none offered.

There was some activity in Federal National bank at higher figures than those previously quoted. United Realty Trust sold at 155 and Real Estate Trust at 275 and 277, a bid of 277½ being made near the close. Real Estate Trust is a favorite, but there is not enough of it in the market to make it a trading feature.

United States Steel common and preferred were the leaders in the trading yesterday. Pittsburgh Coal preferred and Crucible Steel common were features. Monongahela River Coal also cut some figure and declined a fraction.

It could not have been other than a dull market cut on as it was, from the outside world. The showing is not bad under the circumstances.

Financial Drift.

Westinghouse Air Brake, 179 bid.

30 United Realty Trust sold at 155.

South Side Trust was offered at 114.

Manufacturers Light & Heat offered at 30.

First sale of West Side Belt bonds, $3,000 at 100 and interest.

A bid of $1,050 was made for Farmers Deposit National bank, the highest price ever paid for a Pittsburgh bank stock. There was none offered.

Bowers & Co. say: "Although Pennsylvania railroad officials have been positively denying that they are buying Norfolk & Western and other stocks, this year's reports show they own 203,300 shares Norfolk & Western common, which is 78,300 more than they held last December, and 101,300 shares Chesapeake & Ohio, which is 31,300 more than they owned the previous year. They have increased their holdings of Baltimore & Ohio common and 66 3/76 of the equivalent of 'instalment.'

The following from Carothers' monthly letter comment is to be heartily indorsed by all who are interested in market securities: "The action of the United States Steel Corporation in the bank's opinion, the details of the organization of that great combination, and of its officers at the first annual meeting last month in Trenton, are open to the world for inspection of the smallest stockholder as well as to representatives of the public press, establishes a precedent which it will be difficult for smaller corporations to ignore."

James Carothers & Co.'s monthly letter is largely given over to details of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's annual statement. The analysis is entirely favorable to the company, though a trifle critical of the policy of the management in undervaluing its assets and condition. The conclusion of Carothers & Co. is that Plate Glass earned at least $2,800,000 last year and that its plants and equipment could not be reproduced for less than $25,000,000. The letter says: "To President Pitcairn's pessimistic utterances as to the unprofitableness of the plate glass business, a sufficient reply would be that if the United States Steel Corporation were earning on the same basis of capitalization, it would be able to report $210,000,000 profits per year instead of half that sum; and yet the United States Steel Corporation is generally conceded to be doing a profitable business."

Gold Shipments.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Goldman, Sachs & Co., who yesterday announced engagement of $1,250,000 gold for export, to-day announced engagement of $1,600,000 more, have increased this amount to $1,600,000. They will ship no gold tomorrow.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Total sales of stock 3,419 shares.

Coal stocks shower fractional losses.

There is some bull talk in Lustre Mining since the purchase of 200 for H. M. the other day at 12½; last sale previously was at 10; it is said the company is preparing to put in a crusher and smelter and that property looks well.

The annual report of the Union Switch & Signal Company, which showed a decrease in net profits, upon examination, shows the reason to be that permanent improvements were paid for out of earnings. It is also satisfactory in the fact that the item of profits as an asset is reduced.

A telegram to Sproul & Co. says: "Although Pennsylvania railroad officials have been positively denying that they are buying Norfolk & Western and other stocks, this year's reports show they own 203,300 shares Norfolk & Western common, which is 78,300 more than they held last December, and 101,300 shares Chesapeake & Ohio, which is 31,300 more than they owned the previous year. EXCHANGES WERE LARGER.

Pittsburgh Bank Exchanges Yesterday Exceeded Those of a Year Ago by $406,769.

The exchanges at the clearing house yesterday were $406,769 larger than for the same day last year and $304,449 less than for Wednesday last week. The money market remains without marked change and the rate nominally at 5@6 per cent, call and time loans.

	Exchanges.	Balances.
Yesterday	$7,811,892 29	$ 1,755,666 93

Yesterday's increase, $406,769 38.

Reports from other cities were:

Earnings and Statements.

Chesapeake & Ohio the fourth week in February increased $19,283; for the month increased $82,304, and from July 1 increased $716,721.

St. Joe & Grand Island gross receipts January, decreased $15,924; net receipts, decreased $10,302; seven months ending with January, gross increased $70,470; net, decreased $25,776.

The annual statement of the Empire Steel Company is as follows: Gross earnings, $222,695; placed in sinking fund, $71,838; interest on Crane first mortgage bonds, $11,874; total charges, $83,712; net profits, $145,984, dividend 3 per cent on Empire preferred stock, $71,041; surplus, $74,341.

IN THE OIL FIELDS.

Owing to the great snowstorm the telegraph service between Pittsburgh and the lower southwest fields was badly crippled yesterday. In consequence, reports from the field were light. All points communicated with reported the snowfall the heaviest for years for a corresponding number of hours.

On the east side of the northern end of the New Freeport development in Greene county the South Penn Oil Company has completed its test well on the Jane King farm and has a 50-barrel producer. The location of this well is such as to add a little extension to the east side of the development.

In this district the South Penn Oil Company has drilled in its No. 2 on the D. A. Sprague farm and the hole stands full of fluid. The South Penn Oil Company completed its No. 6 on the W. J. Bryan farm and has a duster.

On Buffalo run, Wetzel county, W. Va., the Kanawha Oil Company has drilled its No. 93 through the Gordon sand and has a show for a small well. The same well in the Gordon, No. 40 on this tract is holding up at 125 barrels a day.

In the Smithfield district the South Penn Oil Company's No. 4 on the Jacob Cunningham farm has made a nice flow. Drilling has been suspended to move back the boiler. No. 1 is holding up at 250 barrels a day. No. 2 is due this week and No. 3 near completion. Development in this district are awaited with a good deal of interest.

On Leading creek, Freemans creek district, Lewis county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its wildcat on the J. W. Knapp farm through the Gordon sand and found that formation barren. It is now drilling to the fifth sand.

Southwest of Salem, Harrison county, Gartlan and the Southern Oil Company have completed their No. 5 on the Marshall Pepper farm and have a 10-barrel producer in the Gordon sand. In the same district R. T. Lownes is due in the sand at his No. 4 on his own farm.

On Laurel run, Sheridan district, Calhoun county, Mead Bros. have the rig completed for a second test well on the W. L. Camden farm. On Yellow creek, center district, the Lowther Oil Company is due in the sand at a test well on the Capha Taylor farm.

Southeastern Ohio.

On the Ohio side, near Lewisville, Monroe county, Martin & Co.'s No. 1 Fred Spiry farm has been increased to 150 barrels a day, and is the only well on that side of the river with that much daily production.

In the Port Homer district, Jefferson county, J. A. McCormick & Co. have completed a test well on the John Edmonson farm and have a duster.

In the Murdockville extension, near Burgettstown, Pa., the Hanover Oil Company has drilled in its No. 2 on the Linn farm and has a show for a good producer.

In the Legionville district, Beaver county, the Legionville Oil Company has completed its test well on the H. A. Carnahan farm and has a duster.

The Penshuna Oil Company's well on the John M. Ailey farm, near Perrysville, Ross township, Allegheny county, will probably make a 5-barrel pumper in the 100-foot sand. The same company's well on the Hahn farm is producing about five barrels a day. What the wells show in this district when first drilled into the sand is no indication of how little they will be good for when completed and put in this locality last year that was heralded a 200-barrel producer. The pipe line never connected up the well and there was never a barrel of oil run from it.

Between Millerstown and Bradys Bend, Armstrong county, the Philadelphia Company has drilled an old well for the Speechley sand to pumping. Carpenter & Co. drilled in a well and developed a 600-pound gas pressure in the Speechley formation.

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Hay, Grain and Feed.

Heavy arrivals of hay swelled the list of receipts yesterday, but had no effect upon quotations, which are steady as last quoted for all lines.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 52 cars hay, four cars feed, 12 cars oats, 10 cars straw, seven cars corn, one car corn and oats; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, six cars hay, one car straw; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, one car hay. Total receipts, 94 cars.

Following are the closing quotations for hay, millfeed, corn, oats and straw, corrected by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Fruits and Produce.

A reduction in accumulated stocks of potatoes in the produce yards yesterday caused a firmer feeling to prevail in track prices, as the snowstorm occasioned probability of additional interference to shipments from New York state on account of bad roads. Sweet potatoes were a shade easier, although still strong, the reduction in quotations merely amounting to a cutting off of outside fancy prices, which had been received from an occasional lot. Florida celery is in the market, selling at a range of $2 50@2 75 per crate.

SAYS A DOCTOR TOOK ADVANTAGE OF HIS YOUTH

WANTS HIS MONEY BACK

Petitioner Alleges He Paid $4,250 for Half Interest in an Animal Represented to Outrival Star Pointer, but Could Only Make 2:34.

In common pleas court No. 2 yesterday a rule was granted on the plaintiff in the case of J. J. Crawford against Robert J. Watson, to show cause why judgment should not be opened.

The defendant, who is petitioner, asserts that under the will of his father, John Watson, late of Coraopolis, he was bequeathed property worth $8,000, but very little money. This property was not under his control.

Watson declares the plaintiff located in Coraopolis as a physician in the early part of 1901 and pretended an unusual friendship and great liking for him. The petition then continues:

"That the plaintiff, Dr. J. J. Crawford, as your petitioner has recently learned, is crafty, designing, overreaching and unscrupulous in his business transactions, is about 45 years old, of pleasing address and insinuating personality."

It is charged that Crawford well knew the lack of business judgment of Watson and his possession of real estate, and took advantage of him to defraud him out of his property by inviting the petitioner to his home and winning his confidence. It is averred that Crawford represented to Watson that he was the owner of "Tennessee Pointer, one of the greatest and finest bred horses in the world," and worth $20,000; that he was a better horse than Star Pointer, when in truth the horse was not worth over $500, was cross, vicious and unmanageable, and that he bucked, kicked and was not liable to finish a race. Watson says that Crawford represented that he was offered $10,000 for the horse, which is untrue; that he cannot make a mark below 2:34, and that he was lame.

Watson says Crawford induced him to purchase a one-half interest in the horse for $4,250 and execute a note for the same. He declares he kept the deal from the knowledge of his mother and sister, his legal advisers; that the representations as to friendship for him were false and his intentions fraudulent.

Watson says that Crawford kept possession of the horse. Judgment was entered against Watson and the latter now offers to transfer the assignment to the plaintiff and asked for a rule to show cause why the judgment should not be opened to allow a defense.

OLD OFFENDER SENT UP.

John Welsh, Hotel Sneak Thief, Sent to the Penitentiary—In Criminal Court.

William Clark was convicted in criminal court of stealing a watch from Samuel Smith of Wilmerding on January 13. He was sent to the workhouse for one year.

John Welsh was sentenced to serve a term of two years in the penitentiary for the larceny of an overcoat valued at $50 from L. J. Schulz of the Boyer hotel. He pleaded guilty and said that he had served several terms at the workhouse and one for four years at the penitentiary.

Elmer Bordley was found guilty of a charge of receiving stolen goods preferred by Albert Jackson of 2628 Smaliman street. The charge of larceny was made against Bordley, but the jury returned the above verdict. The two men lived at the same place and the prosecutor lost a gold watch which was afterward found in Bordley's possession. The latter claimed he bought the watch. He was sent to the workhouse for nine months.

The following other cases were disposed of: Michael Schnlitt, carrying concealed weapons and pointing firearms, preferred by William Chappel, found guilty and sent to the workhouse for six months; George Domer, robbery by George Haisip, acquitted.

DENIES POWER OF ATTORNEY

An affidavit of defense was filed yesterday by Robert Stewart, guardian of the minor children of Thomas C. Kier, deceased to the equity suit of the Pittsburgh Coal Company against William P. De Armit, John Walker, William H. Berger, Frank Sample and others, an action for an accounting of the affairs of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal Company.

In the same case a demurrer was filed by the executors of the estate of Charles J. Clarke, deceased, in which it is alleged they are not liable to the plaintiff in any way.

As to the granting of the option for the sale of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal Company, Stewart says that De Armit had no right to represent him as guardian under the conditions he did, and that when Andrews & Dysart purchased the stock it was their business to know what authority De Armit and others had from him as guardian in the disposition of his ward's stock. In answer to the different paragraphs of the bill, Stewart says that he has no knowledge of the allegations.

ADVISED HIS SUICIDE.

Husband Says His Wife Told Him to Kill Himself So She Would Be Free.

The report of the commissioner in the divorce case of William L. Bolinen against Jennie B. Bolinen was filed. They were married March 27, 1890. Desertion in April, 1898, is charged. The libelant says that when he told his wife that she was driving him "to desperation" that she replied: "Well, you are a druggist. You know what to take to get rid of yourself. Why don't you do it and then I'll be free. You are only in my road anyway."

Libels in divorce were filed by Eva Uhrik against Andrew Uhrik and Charles Strauss against Mary Strauss, both alleging desertion.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

An execution was issued by Andrew Coghe against John Raovic and others for $273.

The will of Barbara Seamon was filed. Mrs. Elizabeth Ellinger is bequeathed $25 and the residue of a $400 estate goes to Mary Buckert.

In the United States district court George H. Hershey of Pittsburgh and Frank M. Deer of Allegheny were discharged from bankruptcy.

An execution attachment was issued by S. P. Harger against Margaret Morrow, naming the administrator of the estate of Patrick Morrow as garnishee.

The bill was dismissed in the case of Gillen & Co. against Jacob Spandau, an action to restrain the defendant from using a certain trademark for liquors.

Inventories and appraisements filed show the value of the following personal estates: Martha Benson, $5,093; Robert McKinney, $4,153; John Escher, $15,782.

Attorney D. W. Kuhn, representing A. C. Purdy, O. C. Bradshaw and others, will apply March 25 for a charter for the Security Trust Company of Pittsburgh.

A foreign attachment was issued by Charles W. Horne and others against J. Stewart McKnight, naming the J. M. Hastings Lumber Company as garnishee.

By the will of Jerome Raum, late of Etna, filed by Attorney Thomas J. Ford, property in that place is left to his mother, and his wife receives the residue of a $11,000 estate.

By a mistake it was stated that James Ross had been sentenced to the workhouse for four years for stealing a pocketbook. It should have read that he was sentenced to the penitentiary for two years.

The bill of W. H. Jacobs against the Diamond National bank was dismissed. It was alleged the bank will interfere with the plaintiff's possession of property on Union street. The court says this has not been shown.

An affidavit of defense was filed in the case of W. G. Gleason against J. C. Wiltshire, an action to recover on a note. The defendant says he did not indorse the note and that his name was placed upon it without his knowledge.

Attorneys McCready & Moore, representing A. L. Solomon, Charles L. Walther, Thomas M. Gealy and others, will apply to the governor April 1 for charters for the Walther Pharmacy Company and the East End Drug Company.

Habeas corpus proceedings were begun by Perry Blackburn of Hempfield township to get possession of his child from Mrs. Mary Blackburn of Moon Run. He alleges the place where the boy is is not a suitable one, and that he can and is willing to provide a suitable home for him.

In the case of Thomas M. McCredie against Henrietta Campbell and Charles Rosser, an action involving the use of a 15 foot alley, the court granted an injunction restraining the defendants from obstructing the alley and made an order allowing the plaintiff to use it upon the ground he received such right by a deed for adjoining property.

An affidavit of defense was filed in the case of Louis M. Schlaeb against Bernard Glocekler and others, an action to recover $2,000. The defendants say the plaintiff induced them to purchase an interest in a process which he declared would cure "green meats" in 72 hours. It is declared the plaintiff's representations were wholly false.

The Pittsburgh Tunnel Company, by Attorney A. M. Neeper, has applied to common pleas court No. 1 for an extension of time to complete a tunnel through Mt. Washington for which it was chartered. The Mt. Washington Tunnel Company, chartered by Attorney John S. Weller for practically the same route, is said to be ready to oppose the application.

The will of James McClung, late of Allegheny, was filed. The value of the estate is not estimated. The entire estate is left to the wife of the testator. At her death Edith McClung, a grand-daughter, is to get $3,000 and Elizabeth Thompson $500. Certain property is to go to James McClung, a grandson, and mention is made that the testator had given a farm in Beaver county to his son, William.

Attorney D. G. Ayres has given notice that application will be made to the court of common pleas No. 2 March 29, 1902, by Luigi Caputo, Lorenzo Celentano, Michele Panza, Giuseppe Greco and Francesco Ferraro for the charter of an intended corporation to be called "The Regina Elena Beneficial association" of Sharpsburg, Pa., the character and object of which is the maintenance of a society for beneficial or protective purposes.

SHORT-LIVED STRIKE AT UNION STATION

PAINTERS TO RETURN AFTER ONE DAY OUT

Their Demand for 45 Cents an Hour Granted by the Contracting Company.

Another strike took place yesterday at the Union station, but this morning the strikers will return to work. The local union of the Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators of America, which gave notice some time ago that unless a scale allowing 45 cents an hour wages was not signed yesterday all the painters employed on the Union station building itself, and the woodwork for the Union station now being prepared at Rochester, would go out.

Yesterday morning the men did not go to work. In the afternoon F. W. Lawton, as the representative of the Milligan Company of Chicago, which has the Union station painting and glazing contract, signed the scale with the union granting 45 cents an hour, instead of the 35 cents which has been paid heretofore. The scale was signed conditioned, however, Mr. Lawton states, upon any agreement that might be reached by the painters' association and that of the master painters, between which associations a conference will soon be held.

"About 80 per cent of the painting of the Union station is completed and we did not wish to cause any more delays in the work, although, of course, the extra cost on account of higher wages to the 50 men employed will be considerable," Mr. Lawton says. "All the men will go to work again today."

This is perhaps the last of the series of strikes that has confronted the Pennsylvania railroad in erecting the new Union station. There have been, at a conservative estimate, fully a dozen strikes at various times, nearly all the trades represented having at one or more stages in the building's erection been out for some cause.

The actual moving into the office portion of the big building will start Monday, when the local offices of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will be taken there.

Howard Sutherland, land agent of the West Virginia Central & Pittsburgh, has been in the vicinity of Franklin, W. Va., for several days past purchasing rights of way over one of the surveys made within the past few months through that country. The survey crosses the Alleghany mountains near Harrisonburg, and bears down in the direction of Harrisonburg, whence it leads up the Dry river. It is the supposition that this route is the one which will be taken over ultimately by the Virginia & Southern, incorporated a short time ago, to build a line through West Virginia and Virginia to the seaboard.

Severe Test for Interlocking Plant.

Upon the interlocking plant of the Union station yards the most severe test was made by the snow storm of yesterday. The deep snow covered the switches before daybreak and before a train could move with safety through the yards men had to sweep the snow from the rails, allowing the change in positions of the movable parts of the switches. Fully 500 men were kept busy at this all day, as the snow continued to fall. The switches worked as well as could be expected under the circumstances, the yard officials state.

MEMBERS OF TRAFFIC POOLS FEAR THE LAW

Among railroad managements there is evident a feeling of uneasiness over the present legal situation in traffic matters. The announced intention of President Roosevelt to see that the laws regulating interstate commerce are enforced in the spirit in which they were intended contributes more to this feeling than any other single cause.

That the various passenger and freight associations are but thinly disguised combinations for controlling rates, although such combinations are expressly declared illegal, has always been evident. A case of the Lackawanna against a Buffalo ticket broker last summer was non-suited on the ground that the Lackawanna as a member of an illegal combination, the Trunk Line Traffic association, had no standing in court. It is an evident desire to escape such prosecutions as may follow a determination to enforce the law that inspires the action of the Northwestern in withdrawing from all the freight associations with which it has been connected, and the Southern Pacific and Missouri, Kansas & Texas is withdrawing from the Southwestern Passenger bureau.

Pittsburgh to a notable extent is influenced by these associations, inasmuch as it has two, the trunk lines eastbound and the central westbound, governing its rates. Although there are occasional breaches of the rules of the local committees of these associations, the regulations and agreements are as a whole kept very strictly here.

Says C. & E. Will Not Change Rates.

P. W. Buskirk, assistant general passenger agent of the Chicago & Erie Railroad Company, a part of the Erie system, says that his road will make no reduction in passenger rates on account of the competition of electric lines in Ohio. He says that the road has been affected by short-line competition from electric lines, but that not only the long-haul passenger business, but also the freight business of the road is greatly increased through the building up of communities by electric lines.

CONCERTED ACTION AGAINST THE THIEVES

Circulation managers of the Pittsburgh daily newspapers have been greatly annoyed for some time past by the numerous thefts of packages of papers sent to their agents by railroad and traction car service. They have determined to make every effort to apprehend and punish the thieves to the full extent of the law. A number of detectives have been detailed on the cases and several arrests are expected to be made within the next few days.

One of the most daring thefts was committed by Harry Lill, 16 years old, and Charles Wallace, 15 years old, of Allegheny, who were arrested by Detective Thomas O'Brien of the Allegheny front office force February 21. On that date The Chronicle Telegraph forwarded four bundles of papers, each containing 200 by traction car to the branch office in Manchester.

When the car reached the corner of Arch and Ohio streets, the two boys, wearing the caps of the traction news boys, informed the motorman on the car that the bundles were to be put off there, and that they were to take charge of them. They secured a wheelbarrow, and took the bundles to a blind alley off South Diamond street. They were about to carry the papers away to sell when Detective O'Brien arrested them.

They pleaded guilty before Police Magistrate Henry Hunneshagen and were held for court. On March 3 the grand jury found true bills against them, and Tuesday they were brought into the criminal court before Judge Robert S. Frazer. He suspended sentence for the time being, but said that if they came before him again, upon any charge whatever, he would send them to Morganza for the full limit of the law. Judge Frazer also said that the practice of stealing newspapers should be broken up, and that in the future any such cases would be severely dealt with by the court.

A short time ago two colored men were arrested in Oakland for stealing bundles of papers thrown off the cars. They were convicted and sentenced to eight months in the workhouse.

The circulation managers of all the daily papers, acting in conjunction, have determined to prosecute every case in the future, regardless of the age of the culprit.
